NEW NAZI DEMAND ON POLAND

WARN ILLINOIS OF MILK PRICE FIXING FIASCO

Committee Finishes Survey in East.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., April 30.—[Special.]—A report unfavorable to a milk price control bill pending in the Illinois legislature will be made in Springfield this week by a delegation that has been investigating the operation of such laws in eastern states.

Dr. H. A. Ruehe.

The delegation, headed by Dr. H. A. Ruehe of the University of Illinois, was on the way home today. The report had not been written before the departure from here, and it will not be made public before it is given. However, it was known that the preponderance of evidence indicated the milk price control is a fraud.

Control Raises Retail Price.

In Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and Massachusetts it was found that state control boosts retail prices approximately 2 cents a quart. Mrs. Wilbur E. Fribley, president of the Chicago Housewives' league, was convinced that a consequent reduction in consumption was a public health menace in the low wage group.

The control boards inflated prices paid to farmers for that portion of their milk used for bottling, but this has not resulted in prosperity in the agricultural area. The surplus, sold for processing at a third of fluid prices, has been swollen until by June 1 it is expected to reach 70 per cent of New England production.

In Massachusetts, with a 50 per cent surplus in April, the farmers still were receiving an average price from 30 to 100 per cent more than the blend priced by Illinois producers. The published reports of these eastern farm prices have aroused Illinois dairymen to petition the legislature for control.

Production Cost Higher.

However, an investigation made on a farm to farm automobile tour disclosed that the producers hereabouts are no better off than those of the Chicago milk shed. The tiny plots in the rocky New England hills don't grow feed. Alfalfa costs them $27 to $28 a ton as compared with $7 to $9 in Illinois, for example. Dr. Ruehe estimated that it costs about twice as much to produce a quart hereabouts as it does in Illinois.

In their inquiry in the New York area the Illinois investigators found that in many cases farmers paid rebates after receiving the artificial control price, thus making the system a sham and a farce.

Arthur Hartman of Hampshire, Ill., representing the Chicago milk producers council on this trip, found only one favorable aspect to price control. If it could be enforced, the regulation would provide an audit of distributors' books. This would remove Illinois farmers' suspicions that some dealers are cheating by bottling some of the milk for which they paid producers the lower processing rate.

"These suspicions could be removed without price fixing," said Hartman, "if Illinois dealers would buy from the farmers on a flat rate rather than under the two price system."

Price Fixing Unenforceable.

Frank Gillespie, secretary of the Chicago Dairy Workers' union and attorney for the Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers' union, found that state price fixing is unenforceable and that the resultant confusion in the industry is a disadvantage to organized labor. He has more confidence in federal milk control. The constitutionality of federal milk control is a question pending before the United States Supreme court, probably to be decided next month.

Arthur Buehering of De Kalb, president of the Illinois Dairy Products association, dealer representative in this delegation, found that price control is detrimental to honest distributors. Although regulations guarantees them a wide margin between buying and selling prices, they lose business to milk bootleggers, peddlers who underbuy or undersell in violation of control administrations.

JURY ACQUITS 3 OTHERS IN HUGE FORGERY PLOT

Ex-Gang Chiefs Face Year Jail Terms.

George [Bugs] Moran, a notorious gangster in the prohibition era, and Frankie Parker, who bootlegged liquor by airplane during the same period, were found guilty of conspiracy in a $62,000 travelers' check racket by a Criminal court jury late last night. They face maximum sentences of one year in jail, plus $2,000 fines. Three co-defendants were acquitted.

Bugs Moran [top] and Frankie Parker.

Neither Moran nor Parker was in court when the jury's findings were read before Judge James F. Fardy. Parker, however, is in custody of a federal deputy marshal because he already is under a two year sentence in the federal court on a charge of conspiring to possess counterfeit money. Moran is free on a $30,000 bond. Both men are expected in court this morning in connection with preliminary motions for new trials.

Charm Over Moran Breaks.

The verdict shattered the charm that for years had seemingly protected Moran from the law. It came after an all night and all day deadlock—twenty-five hours after the case was given to the jury. It came five hours after Judge Fardy had extended the 6 o'clock deadline, when he would discharge the jurors. This would have meant a retrial.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert Wright, who prosecuted the case, was not disappointed because the jury freed Frank Hicketts, Daniel Driscoll, and Robert Sexton, the small fry codefendants, but he was jubilant over the conviction of Moran and Parker, particularly the former.

"Moran's luck has run out," he said.

Believed to Be Compromise.

The jurors refused to discuss their verdict, but it is believed they ended their long deadlock only through compromise. Their verdict simply found Parker and Moran guilty of conspiracy. It did not specify a prison sentence. Had such a specification been included the pair would be facing terms of one to five years in the penitentiary, plus heavy fines. The practice in conspiracy convictions where prison is not designated is to impose a jail sentence anywhere from one day to one year, or a fine of $1 to $2,000. Conspiracy is defined by statute as a misdemeanor, not a felony.

The case against the two hoodlums was based on a grandiose scheme to flood the nation with $500,000 worth of forged travelers' checks of the American Express company. Only $62,000 was involved in the trial. Moran and Parker were tried on one phase of the same conspiracy last January, but were acquitted.

Defense Charges Frameup.

In the first trial as well as the second the state's principal witness was Emil Van Bever, a lawyer. He testified that the conspirators took him into their confidence, that he pretended to go along with them, but that at the same time he kept he express company informed of the gang's movements. The defense denied all the charges and the defense attorneys called the prosecution a frameup.

Moran sat through the trial quietly. It was one of the few times he had been taken to court. During the dry years he was a powerful gang chief on the north side, dominating beer and booze sales and directing the destinies of scores of tough hoodlums affiliated with his outfit.

Moran's power came to a sudden end. On Feb. 14, 1929, Capone gunmen brazenly tried to lure him into a trap in a North Clark street garage. Moran missed the trap by minutes. Seven men were lined against a wall in the garage and shot to death. Capone succeeded him on the north side.

"DON'T BOTHER ME, I'M BUSY!"

Blasts Blamed on Gas Formed Within Sewer

Mysterious explosions that shook the Austin district along two miles of Cicero avenue before dawn yesterday were blamed last night upon gas generated by some inflammable liquid in the Cicero avenue sewer.

Thomas D. Garry, city superintendent of sewers, said he believed that a fluid such as gasoline or naphtha had found its way into the sewer and formed a vapor which had been accidentally ignited. Fire department officials held the same theory. Both police and firemen said they found no evidence that the explosions resulted from a May day plot.

The blasts filled the air with heavy manhole covers, shattered windows by the hundred, and awakened thousands of persons. Three persons were injured.

Woman Burned in Home.

Mrs. Mary Kopystynski, 43 years old, was severely burned when a sheet of flame passed through her frame house at 641 North Cicero avenue. All the windows were broken. Firemen said they believed the flame and the explosion that accompanied it came through a catch basin.

David Biggerstaff, 22, of 320 North Lamon avenue, was hurled to the pavement by the force of one of the explosions at Fulton street and Cicero avenue.

Bernard Waegelein, 29, of 2630 North Kilpatrick avenue, was injured on the hand when his car was thrown into the air and turned around in the 4900 block of Chicago avenue.

Cover Pierces Top of Car.

The explosions followed the Cicero avenue tunnel from Harrison street to Kammerling avenue, and extended in some cases more than a block on either side. Most of the damage was to stores from 400 to 700 in North Cicero avenue and to apartment buildings in Washington boulevard.

The explosions recalled those of May 29, 1937, in the Fullerton and Milwaukee avenue district. The blasts there were traced to inflammable liquids in the sewer. The fluids were believed to have leaked in from cleaning establishments or filling stations.

CONGRESSMEN DRAFT PROPOSAL TO GRANT PENSIONS TO SELVES

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—Sponsors of legislation to give pensions to members of congress hope to attach such a measure as a rider on a civil service bill.

Chairman Robert Ramspeck [D., Ga.] of the house civil service committee said today he intended to add provisions for the pensions to a bill making amendments to the civil service law which just has been passed by the senate.

Under Ramspeck's proposal, the government and the congressmen would bear about equal shares of the cost. Five per cent of the salaries of each senator and representative would be deducted monthly for the purchase of an annuity for each member which would be added to the amount to be paid each beneficiary by the government.

WHAT STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN IN A BIG CITY!

Albert Winter, 1101 Garfield boulevard, and Albert Dillon, 6427 Yale avenue, are strangers. Last night they had dinner at separate tables in a restaurant at 207 West 63d street.

Winter left first. He got into a parked sedan in front of the restaurant, drove home and put the car in the garage. Then he went to bed. Dillon, finishing his meal, also got into a parked sedan in front of the restaurant and started to drive home.

After a few blocks Dillon discovered that he wasn't driving his own automobile. He put the mystery up to Detectives Elmer Fay and Joseph Luther at the Englewood station.

"It's the same make, same model, same year, and same color and my keys fit it," he told them. "But still it's not my car."

The detectives traced the license to Winter. They woke him up. Sure enough, he had Dillon's car in his garage. The two men exchanged cars and decided to change their dinner hours.

BORAH DECLARES ROOSEVELT ACTS ARE ROAD TO WAR

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—In a sensational utterance tonight Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] denounced the neutrality legislation favored by the Roosevelt administration as legislation that would send American boys again to fight in Europe.

Wm. E. Borah.

Mr. Borah said that "the mothers of this country will find that there is no practical difference" between "furnishing arms and furnishing boys."

The senator quoted Lord Lothian, new British ambassador to the United States, as admitting that the furnishing of American arms to Britain entails the eventual furnishing of American armed forces to fight alongside the British.

Aims Shaft at Roosevelt.

Asked by the Tribune correspondent for an expression of his views of President Roosevelt's foreign policy the veteran Idaho statesman aimed a shaft at the President's immediate objective, which is the repeal or modification of the existing neutrality act in such manner as to permit the United States to furnish arms and other war supplies to Great Britain and France in the threatened war with Germany and Italy.

Committees of both the senate and house will conclude hearings this week on administration and various other proposals by virtue of which the United States in the event of a foreign war would become not a neutral but a partisan.

The outstanding proposal on which administration support is crystalizing is the amendment offered by Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations and leading fulminator against the foreign dictators, which would repeal the existing embargo on export of arms to belligerents and legalize sale of arms to all nations in time of war as well as peace provided that the war supplies are purchased for cash and carried away in foreign ships.

Favors Sea Nations.

This provision would operate in favor of nations controling the seas, Britain and France, and against those unable to control the seas, Germany and Italy.

President Roosevelt is accused by the nationalists of hitching America to the tail of the British kite in the current clash between the European dictatorships and democracies. Senator Borah took substantially the same view when he asserted that the Pittman cash and carry plan is essentially "part of the British war system."

The Borah interview indicated that the great irreconcilable who compassed the defeat of Woodrow Wilson's undertaking to put the United States into the league of nations and the world court is now assuming the leadership of the nationalists in another battle to prevent Mr. Roosevelt from involving America in another European war.

Neutral or Unneutral.

"The question of neutrality legislation," said Senator Borah, "has resolved itself into the proposition of whether we shall be neutral or whether we shall be unneutral, whether we shall prohibit the sale of arms and armaments to all nations,

Two Jobs Keep Joe Off Relief List He Scorns

Joe Corodo doesn't have a very high opinion of relief. At least not for Joe Corodo.

"Men who don't do nothing today-tomorrow," he says earnestly, "after while they do nothing at all. They get too lazy even to sit down. I wouldn't go on relief if I have to pick up rags on the street. I feel better when I buy what I want."

Joe has managed to do just that.

Proud of Citizenship.

He came to Chicago from Italy on March 18, 1882. He started working when he was 21 years old and has never stopped. He has worked in freighthouses and factories. Thirty years ago, shortly after he got married, he became a shoe repairman. Twenty-two years ago he got a janitor's job. He's an American citizen, and proud of the fact.

At present Joe, who lives at 1141 Felton court, is a janitor from 5:30 p. m. until about 2 a. m. Then he hurries home to bed. When he gets up around ten or eleven he tends a tiny shoe repair shop in the parlor of his home.

Janitor work brings him $58 every two weeks and the shoes add a dollar or so a day to that. On this Joe cares for his wife Mary, an unmarried son and daughter, and a married daughter and her two year old child. She is separated from her husband.

Looks Forward to Pension.

Joe is 57 years old but looks about 40. He says he's never been out of work except once or twice when he was ill. When he gets old, he says, he'll get a pension from the owners of the building where he works.

While he talks, Joe helps his wife, who has an artificial leg, with the dinner. He sets a steaming dish of spaghetti on the table. He prods some meat with a fork to see if it's done. He points to the meal.

"You think on relief you get this?" he asks. "See what else I got." He pours himself a drink of red Italian wine, and takes a sip.

"If I don't work I die," Joe says, then sits down to the table so that he can get along to his work.

HITLER WANTS WIDE PATH TO EAST PRUSSIA

Specifies Details of What He Desires.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, May 1 (Monday).—(AP)—Chancellor Hitler told a "threatening world" today of Germany's youth and heavy armament in a 20 minute May day address to the Hitler youth organization in the Olympic stadium. He assured the cheering crowd of 135,000 boys and girls that Germany was "one of the most heavily armed nations of the world, thanks to our own strength and thanks to our friends."

WARSAW, Poland, April 30.—(AP)—A reliable authority reported today that Reichsfuehrer Hitler had followed up German demands on Poland concerning the Free City of Danzig and the Polish corridor with more specific details of what he wants.

This source said the Fuehrer had notified Poland that the extraterritorial right of way motor road which he wants across the Polish corridor to connect Germany and East Prussia must be no les. than 25 kilometers [15.5 miles] wide.

Since Poland long has made it plain that she will fight rather than abandon any of her territory, mobilizing more than 1,000,000 men to back up her stand, observers took Hitler's reported specifications as a sign he intends to push his demands nevertheless.

See Effort to Scare Poles.

Some sources said they saw behind his additional details, which were said to have been conveyed privately to Poland, an attempt to frighten Warsaw into granting what he originally asked.

In his speech to the reichstag Friday and in a note to Poland announcing denunciation of the 1934 German-Polish nonaggression treaty, Hitler disclosed for the first time Germany's terms for settling the Danzig-Polish corridor issue.

He told the reichstag they were his "one and only offer." He demanded the return of the Free City within the German framework and a highway and railroad connection between East Prussia and the rest of Germany.

What Hitler Offered.

In return he offered recognition of the Polish corridor and Poland's western frontier, conclusion of a 25 year nonaggression pact, security of Poland's economic interests in Danzig, and consideration of Polish interests in connection with the security of the independence of Slovakia. Slovakia has been under German protection since the dissolution of Czecho-Slovakia.

Nazi leaders first made their demands for an extraterritorial highway and for outright annexation of Danzig a month ago, shortly after the return of Memel from Lithuania to Germany.

Informed sources said the new demand would receive the same negative answer as the others.

Beck to Speak Friday.

Foreign Minister Col. Josef Beck was expected to make it plain in an address next Friday, May 5, to the parliamentary foreign affairs committee that Poland has nothing to give to Germany.

It was reported that the foreign minister's speech would contain a strong protest against Hitler's assertion that the Polish-German nonaggression pact forbade Poland to cooperate with other countries.

Alluding to Hitler's charge that Germany was being encircled by the reciprocal agreement between Great Britain and Poland to help defend each other's independence, it was believed Beck would contend that Germany herself was encircling Poland by her seizure of Memel and creation of a protectorate over Slovakia.

Wants to Widen Vistula.

Beck was expected also to tell Germany that Poland cannot allow Danzig to become a German military base at the mouth of the Vistula river. He may declare such action would put Germany in a position to strangle Poland economically and politically.

He was expected to say, too, that the Vistula, Poland's avenue to the sea, was too narrow and that Poland had every reason to seek to widen it rather than to permit Germany to cut it down.

Gen. Stanislas Rasztikis, chief of the Lithuanian army, is scheduled to come to Warsaw in mid-May at the invitation of Poland's army commander, Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz. The announcement of the visit was received here as a manifestation of increased coöperation between Poland and Lithuania.

Today Poland showed off her fighting strength in the air. Thousands watched squadrons of speedy bombers and pursuit planes roar in formation over Warsaw's military airport and engage in mock warfare. Hundreds of planes participated.

The rally of political leaders to support of the government despite their former differences continued with the return to Poland of Wojciech Korfanty.

Led Polish Uprising.

Korfanty, now more than 60 years old, was the leading Polish member of the reichstag before the world war and was a chief of the Polish uprising in Silesia in 1921. He fled Poland a few years ago after disagreeing with the late Marshal Josef Pilsudski and after being sentenced to prison.

He presented nimself today at Katowice police headquarters. It was expected that he would be pardoned, like many other dissident leaders who have pledged loyalty to the government in the present issue.

Churches throughout Poland tomorrow will start a month of prayer for peace.

Says War is Unavoidable.

Casimir Kowalski, president of the National Democrats party, declared at a party convention today that "a European war is unavoidable because of Germany's imperialistic plans."

Kowalski, whose party is strong particularly in western Poland, asserted Germany's plans are concerned not only with central and eastern Europe but also with Belgium, The Netherlands, Switzerland, Scandinavia, northern France, the British Isles, and even Italy.

"Germans would be solely responsible for the new European war during which Poles would fight for conditions permitting all European nations to exist," he said. "The German problem must be settled in such a way that Germans no longer endanger European nations."

NAZIS AND POLES RACE TO LINE UP BALTIC NATIONS

Poland's defiance of Adolf Hitler's threatened seizure of Danzig and the Polish corridor by the Nazis has aroused speculation again as to the attitude of the Baltic states, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, in the event of a German-Polish war or a widespread European conflict. In the last month Poland has renewed pressure on the adjoining states to abandon their neutrality policies and to sign friendship and nonagression pacts to strengthen Warsaw's position against Berlin.

There are other complicating factors. Germany is demanding greater trade privileges in Lithuania. England wants soviet Russia to guarantee the safety of Poland against Nazi attack. And Russia wants a tight alliance with the British to repel any Nazi aggression in Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia.

Warsaw Woos Lithuania.

It was reported a month ago that the three Baltic nations were ready to accept Reichsfuehrer Hitler as their "protector" and that the Nazis planned a federation with these states. Another report was that while Latvia is unwilling to enter the Polish orbit, Lithuania is receptive to Warsaw's negotiations. The ties between Poland and Lithuania are thin, however, and might be easily broken because of past enmities.

A Warsaw dispatch last week indicated Estonia is "in harmony" with Poland although there is no written understanding between the two countries.

If war comes, the involvement of the Baltic states appears inevitable because of geographic proximity and economic conditions. What sides these three nations take—with Poland or Germany—are bound to be influenced by the history of their past relations with the larger powers.

Pounce on Weak in War.

The history of these three Baltic nations—Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia—particularly in their relations with Germany, Poland and Russia, is a striking example of old hatreds which may lie dormant for a time but are always quick to be resurrected in Europe. History shows that whichever of the larger nations is dominant on the continent will always strive to extend its sphere of influence over the Baltic lands.

Historians and contemporary observers have pointed out that these aggressive traits of the larger nations and the old antagonisms could not conceivably be changed by the involvement of the United States in a European war. The world war was an example—in the ensuing years the hatreds and aggressive attitudes have been intensified, not softened.

That the stronger European nations always pounce on the weaker ones—in time of war or when conflict is imminent—has been true in the troubled Balkans as well as the Baltic area.

Lithuania became a grand duchy early in the thirteenth century. In 1386 the Grand Duke Jogaila married the Polish queen Hedvig and became king of Poland. Polish influence increased until in 1569, when the Lithuanians were forced to sign a treaty of union with the Poles. Both countries elected the same king and had a common parliament.

Poland Seizes Vilna.

At the end of the eighteenth century, in the partitions of Poland by Russia, Prussia and Austria, Lithuania fell under Russian rule, remaining there until the world war. The independence of Lithuania was proclaimed in February, 1918.

From 1920 to 1938 there was an undeclared war between Lithuania and Poland. Lithuania had received the Vilna district as part of its territory after the world war and had made the city of Vilna its capital. However, on Oct. 9, 1920, Gen. Zeligowski seized Vilna for Poland.

Vilna had been the capital of Lithuania in the fourteenth century and Lithuanians protested against the Polish occupation. During the eighteen years of undeclared war, which did not end until March, 1938, Lithuania shut off rail, wire and postal communications with Poland.

On March 18, 1938, Poland, with an army thirteen times the size of Lithuania's, moved troops close to the border and demanded that Lithuania formally renounce any claim to Vilna and reëstablish relations with Poland.

Envoys Exchanged.

The Lithuanians capitulated. They acknowledged Poland's seizure of the historic capital city eighteen years before and direct communications between the two nations were reopened. Since then Poland and Lithuania have exchanged envoys.

A year later—on March 22, 1939—Lithuania lost to Germany the 1,099 square mile territory of Memel which it had held for sixteen years. Memel, established by the crusading Teutonic knights in 1252, was held by Prussia from 1813 to 1918.

After the world war Germany ceded Memel to the allies who occupied it until 1922. In January, 1923, Lithuanian troops in civilian clothes occupied Memel in much the manner Poland had taken Vilna three years before.

The league of nations confirmed Lithuania's sovereignty in Memel, but there were constant struggles between the German controled Memel parliament and the Lithuanian appointed governor in the territory. The Germans pressed for its return to East Prussia. This culminated in Hitler's coup six weeks ago.

Lithuania's sympathies in any war between Poland and Germany may therefore be partly determined by the feeling of which of these nations has done her a greater wrong—Poland by the seizure of Vilna, or Germany by the Memel grab.

The Land of the Letts.

Lettish tribes inhabited the land which now constitutes Latvia from about the 10th century. From 1158 to the end of the world war in 1918 the Letts were a subject people.

From 1158 to 1562 Latvia consisted of two states, Livonia and Courland, under German domination. The Poles held control in Courland from 1562 to 1795. Livonia was in Swedish hands from 1629 to 1721 when Russia, allied with Poland, destroyed Sweden's power. Livonia was under Polish governors until 1795. Then, in the partitions of Poland, all of Latvia was placed under the Russian crown.

During 1918 Latvia was a sort of Flanders for the Germans and Russians. The Latvians, joining with the soviet army, fought the Germans. Later the Latvians turned on the bolsheviks, defeating them decisively. The Latvian republic was proclaimed in November, 1918.

Since then Latvia has had frequent trade disputes with Germany. In 1933 the government at Riga declared an embargo on all German imports following Germany's embargo on Latvian butter. This conflict was precipitated by Latvia's refusal to take steps to halt a Jewish movement to boycott German goods.

Germany's hope of a Baltic federation has received impetus in recent weeks from Latvia's unwillingness to enter negotiations for friendship and nonaggression pacts with Poland. Before that relations between the two countries became critical when Poland announced it would not permit 40,000 farm hands to work in Latvia this year.

Lettish farmers needed these laborers urgently to maintain their more highly developed agriculture. Poland's decision not to send the laborers was an outgrowth of Latvia's refusal to make any political concessions in return for such help.

The Estonians, who are of Finnish extraction, were a warlike race when they first appeared in history about the tenth century. The northern portion of the race was made submissive to Denmark in the thirteenth century, but was continually in revolt. In 1346 Denmark's holdings in Estonia were sold to the Knights of the Sword, who had gained possession of the southern portion of the race in 1224.

In 1521 the nobles and cities of Estonia voluntarily placed themselves under Swedish protection, but in 1721 the country was ceded to Russia and remained under czarist rule until the bolshevik revolution in 1917. The next year Estonia regained its independence.

In Warsaw last April 24, Gen. Johan Laidoner, chief of the Estonian army, was quoted as saying: "Although there is no written pact, a complete understanding exists between Estonia and Poland."

Estonia Ready to Fight.

Gen. Laidoner said that Estonia did not regard itself as endangered, but, if attacked, would defend itself to the last drop of blood."

Comparative recent history of the Balkans shows how smaller nations suffer at the hands of mightier ones.

When the world war broke out in 1914, Bulgaria joined the central powers, hoping particularly to gain Macedonia, which Serbia and Greece had divided between themselves following the Balkan wars ending in 1913. The Bulgars immediately moved into Serbia and later into southern Dobruja, which Rumania had taken in 1913.

The Bulgars were successful at first and attained their objectives of Macedonia and Dobruja. But at the end of the war in 1918, Bulgaria was disarmed and subjected to a heavy indemnity. Rumania took back Dobruja; Caribrod and Strumica went to Jugo-Slavia, and Macedonia to Greece.

In the last two years there have, of course been frequent examples of strong European nations taking over weaker ones. Such were Germany's absorption of Austria and the Sudetenland and later of Czecho-Slovakia, Bohemia, and Moravia. Poland took the Teschen area, while Hungary completed the dismemberment of the mutilated republic of Czecho-Slovakia by taking part of Slovakia and Carpatho-Ukraine (Ruthenia.) Another instance was Mussolini's seizure of Albania.

Balkan Pawns

The solid black areas (arrows) are traditional pawns in Balkan conquests. (1) Dobruja, which Rumania took from Bulgaria in 1913, was taken by Bulgaria during the world war, but the Bulgars lost it at the close of that conflict. In 1918, the Bulgars also lost Caribrod and Strumica (2) to Jugo-Slavia. At the end of the Balkan wars in 1913, Serbia and Greece divided Macedonia (3). Bulgaria joined the central powers in 1914 to gain Macedonia, but lost, that area going to Greece after the war.

VIOLINIST KREISLER GIVEN CITIZENSHIP PAPERS BY FRANCE

PARIS, April 30.—(AP)—Violinist Fritz Kreisler, Vienna-born, today announced in an interview published in the newspaper Paris Midi that he had been given French naturalization papers. Kreisler, well known on the concert stage in the United States, has lived in Paris in recent years. He studied in French conservatories and is an officer of the French Legion of Honor.

Fritz Kreisler.

The paper quoted Kreisler as saying: "In a world carried away by the folly of men France still represents a stronghold in which are intact all ideas which make up human dignity—honor, liberty, and love of art. If the pleasantness of living has lost, in the last several months, a little of its reputation, on the other hand it seems accompanied by ancient virtues—courage, energy, and patience. These are the virtues which appeal to my heart."

POLAND ORDERS ENVOY TO BERLIN TO RETURN HOME

Ambassador Will Help Draft Reply to Hitler.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 30.—Josef Lipski, Polish ambassador to Berlin, will leave for Warsaw tomorrow. The Polish embassy said Lipski intends to coöperate with Foreign Minister Col. Josef Beck in drafting Poland's reply to Adolf Hitler's memorandum denouncing the Polish-German nonaggression treaty and to help prepare the talk which Beck will make next Friday in reply to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's speech to the reichstag.

Shortly after Lipski's trip became known rumors cropped up that Germany had issued an ultimatum to Poland to allow German soldiers to enter the Free City of Danzig. The rumors were denied. Hitler demanded the return of Danzig to Germany in his speech.

Put Pressure on Hungary.

German statesmen and diplomats are giving lavish banquets for Premier Count Paul Teleki and Foreign Minister Count Stephen Csaky of Hungary, who are visiting Berlin. The Nazis, at the same time, are pressing the Hungarians to unite more closely with Germany. They want the visitors to accept a customs union. As a reward Hungarian circles said the Germans offered Hungary a greater influence in Slovakia.

The Hungarians, although eager to gain control of Slovakia, are dodging the offer because they are trying desperately to maintain some shreds of neutrality.

They admitted that delegations of German army officers descended upon Hungary to study the strategic positions there. As partners in the anti-communist pact, the Hungarians are unable to refuse hospitality to the German officers, but they are wary about their presence in Hungary.

Seek Friendship Pacts.

Hungarian circles said the Hungarian premier and foreign minister are "trying to emulate Premier Alexander Cincar-Markovitch of Jugo-Slavia who managed to emerge from Italian and German banquets without making the pledges Premier Mussolini and Hitler wanted to extract from him."

Both Germany and Italy want Jugo-Slavia and Hungary to sign a pact of friendship. Jugo-Slavia has declared her willingness to join but only if her ally, Rumania, can do the same. Hungary has refused to come to terms with Rumania because she wants to recover Transylvania.

The Hungarians believe Germany is anxious to hasten developments because so far Rumania and Hungary have remained on friendly terms with Poland, the nation Germany wants to isolate.

Say War Is Up to Opponents.

BERLIN, April 30.—(AP)—Nazis took the view tonight that Reichsfuehrer Hitler had put it up to his opponents to decide whether they want war or peace.

Responsible quarters emphasized this as the nation prepared for May day festivities tomorrow which will give the Fuehrer two more opportunities to speak.

He will address Berlin's Hitler youth in the Olympic stadium at 8:30 a. m. [2:30 a. m., Chicago time]. At noon [6 a. m.] he will speak to laborers, dressed in Labor Front uniforms and gathered around a May pole in the Lustgarten. There was no indication what Hitler might say.

Danzig Disputes Claims.

On the Baltic sea, the Free City of Danzig also was preparing to celebrate May day with fireworks and oratory in Nazi fashion with increased hopes that before another year passes it will be part of Germany again.

The press in war-lost Danzig disputed Poland's claim to the city and denounced those who urged Poland to take it as a protectorate.

Rudolf Kircher, editor of the Frankfurter Zeitung, expressed in print what informed quarters generally believed to be the situation.

"A clear situation must at last be created," he said. "A clear situation today means, in the first place:

"The western powers must decide what they really want: War or peace.

"They are standing at a half-way point. Of the value of our weapons and of our fortifications, they must be well informed—but is it not possible to try boycotting and starvation?

"The Fuehrer gave an answer to this: In such a case the nation would rather fight.

Takes Dig at England.

"It is now a matter for the English and Poles to investigate whether the new policy—above all, the formal interference of the British government in German-Polish affairs and the new ties between Poland and England—is valuable enough to the governments and peoples of these two countries to compensate for the loss of the two treaties.

"For the English the question arises whether, since denunciation of the German-Polish treaty, their guarantee to Poland has not become more risky than it previously was and more risky than London had foreseen."

[The editorial's allusion was to the denunciation by Hitler last Friday of the 1935 British-German naval accord and the 1934 treaty of nonaggression between Germany and Poland.]

German Fleet May Leave Mediterranean Sea Today

TANGIER, Internationalized Zone, Morocco, April 30.—(AP)—Reports from Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, said today that the German fleet would leave Mediterranean ports tomorrow to assemble on the high seas and head for Lisbon, Portugal. The German warships, in these waters for maneuvers, are stationed here, at Ceuta and at the Spanish ports of Cadiz, Malaga, and Algeciras. They are expected to return to Germany about May 15.

In Glamor Contest

Members of the Halsted-Roosevelt Business Men's association have a sharp eye for publicity these days. Last week the merchants stopped trafic with a bevy of beauties clad briefly in advertising banners.

This week they seek a "glimmer girl" to be the glamor girl for the association's ten day Carnival of Light which opens May 11. Miss Glimmer will be chosen from the customers and employés of the sixty stores near the intersection of the two streets.

"We are looking for a girl who will not be outshone by the 800,000 candlepower radiated by our new illuminating system," said Samuel R. Ballis, president of the association. "She will help us celebrate our new $50,000 street lighting system."

CHIEFS OF NAZI, ITALIAN ARMIES TALK WITH DUCE

German Also to Inspect Libyan Forces.

ROME, April 30.—(AP)—Col. Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch, chief of staff of the German army, who is in Rome for staff talks with Italian army chieftains, was received today by King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini.

He talked with Il Duce for more than an hour in the presence of Gen. Alberto Pariani, chief of staff of the Italian army and undersecretary for war.

Tomorrow, accompanied by Gen. Pariani, the German planned to fly to Libya to spend several days inspecting the Italian war machine assembled there under Marshal Italo Balbo, governor of Libya.

Stress Importance of Libya.

German military men recently have displayed marked interest in the efficiency of Italy's Libyan forces, leading foreign observers to believe that Italy and Germany expect North Africa to become an important front in event of a European war.

In recent months the Libyan garrison has been brought up to a strength of from 75,000 to 90,000 men, compared with a normal peace time strength of 30,000 men.

End of Rumanian's Tour.

He conferred today in Palazzo Chigi with Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and tomorrow he will see Mussolini and be received by the king.

Gafencu's visit here will conclude his tour of western European capitals.

Fascists said the Italian government was especially anxious to strengthen its relations with Rumania both as a response to recent French and British moves and also to assure Italy access to Rumanian oil supplies in time of war.

AUTO DRIVERS' LICENSE LAW IS IN EFFECT TODAY

The state drivers' license law went into effect at midnight. A state-wide drive against motorists who have not yet received or applied for the certificates is expected to begin today or tomorrow.

Canceled checks, money order stubs, or receipts from the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes will be acceptable proof that drivers have applied for the licenses. A maximum penalty of $300 is possible against delinquents. More than 2,100,000 applications have been filed, and about 1,900,000 licenses issued.

Both city and park police today will begin issuing summonses to drivers who have not obtained 1939 state licenses, city vehicle tags or safety lane stickers, as well as to those who have not paid attention to the drivers' license law.

ITALY PREPARES NEW ACTION TO OUST ALL JEWS

ROME, April 30.—(AP)—The Italian government indicated today it was preparing to take action against foreign Jews who have stayed in Italy after expiration of the March 12 time limit for their departure under racial laws. An official statement today said 3,190 foreign Jews had requested an extension of the time but that extensions had been granted to only 128.

The number who left before March 12 was given as 3,720 while 933 were exempt because they had lived in Italy more than 20 years, had married Italians, or were more than 65 years old. Informed sources interpreted the publication of the figures as meaning strict enforcement of the expulsion measure was contemplated in the near future.

The newspaper La Stampa of Turin reported that under a new decree Jewish professional men such as lawyers, doctors, and engineers, would be permitted to serve only non-Aryan clients.

CHINESE TROOPS PERIL NANCHANG FROM THREE SIDES

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

CHUNGKING, April 30.—With Chinese troops threatening Nanchang on three sides from distances of ten to thirty miles away military reports say the high commander will personally take charge of the final Chinese effort to recapture the city.

Death tolls running to several hundreds were suffered in eight Chinese cities yesterday and today from Japanese bombing.

Cabinet to Hear Report on Soviet Deal Today.

LONDON, April 30.—(AP)—The cabinet in a special meeting tomorrow is expected to hear a report on British-Russian negotiations which are progressing rapidly toward a possible new major lineup in Europe.

The cabinet also will review the European picture in the light of reaction to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's speech Friday to the reichstag.

Further details on the proposed conscription of 20 year old men for six months of training and consideration of Palestine problems also are on the agenda. There were indications that the first draft of conscripts would be called for training in three weeks' time.

Soviet Envoy Sees Halifax.

Ivan Maisky, Soviet Russian ambassador to London, conferred yesterday, following his return from Moscow, with Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax.

Informed sources said Great Britain wanted Russia to guarantee Poland and Rumania against any German aggression.

They reported that Moscow wanted a British-French-Russian military alliance and a British guarantee to take effect in event of any attacks on Estonia, Lithuania, or Latvia.

Cabinet to Hear Poland's Views.

The cabine tomorrow also was scheduled to hear Poland's views on Hitler's speech since commentators believe she is most concerned by the German leader's latest moves. Informed sources said Poland's antipathy toward a Russian alliance had been lessened considerably in the last few days.

JANITOR, 82, DIES AFTER FALL.

John Pihl, 82 years old, 1811 Greenwood boulevard, Evanston, a janitor, died last night in the St. Francis hospital, Evanston, of injuries incurred earlier in the day when he fell from a ladder while removing storm windows from his home.

NEW YORK FAIR OPENS IN BURST OF HULLABALOO

Roosevelt Is Featured on List of Luminaries.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Flushing Meadows, N. Y., April 30.—[Special.]—To the accompaniment of hullabaloo and ballyhoo seldom surpassed in this hemisphere, the New York World's Fair, 1939, opened its gates today.

New York City has not had a fair since the Crystal Palace Exposition flop of eighty-six years ago and so the natives turned out in considerable number to gaze and gasp at the show which has been thrown up here on the old Flushing dump grounds during the last three and a half years.

Attendance fell far short of the million mark which the exposition management had claimed for the opening day, just how far short, no one knew. Grover Whalen, president of the exposition, announced at 10:30 p. m. that 601,484 persons had passed through the turnstiles [75 cents a head for adults, 25 cents for children]. The weather was sunny until late afternoon, when a light shower fell.

28 Million in Fair Bonds.

With 28 million dollars' worth of bonds outstanding, the New York fair will require the greatest attendance in the history of expositions to break even. The management insists 60 million persons will see the exposition before it closes Oct. 31. The Chicago fair in two seasons drew 39 millions.

Billed as the major attraction, President Roosevelt headed the list of luminaries who dashed about the fair dedicating statues, attending flag raisings, reviewing exhibits and marching in parades. Strewn about the 1,216 acre fair site are 300 buildings housing amusements, industrial exhibits and governmental outlays—national, state, and foreign.

Busiest of all was Whalen, the principal creator and president of the fair. He is the former fashion plate police commissioner who staged the lavish greeting parties for visiting notables during Mayor Jimmy Walker's day. Whalen was aided by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, likewise no shrinking violet.

One Glance Backward.

The theme of this exposition is "the world of tomorrow." But time was taken out this afternoon for one glance backward. This was the re-enactment of the inauguration of George Washington as President 150 years ago today. President Roosevelt left the fair grounds a few minutes after he spoke and Gov. H. H. Lehman officiated at the dedication of the sixty-five foot Washington statue.

Tonight the fair was illuminated when a cosmic ray was captured from the atmosphere to switch on the bizarre colored lighting system. Dr. Albert Einstein, the noted physicist, explained how the phenomenon was accomplished. Fireworks displays punctured the night sky.

All the Way to Cockeyed.

What does this New York fair look like?

In its general aspects this fair will remind many visitors of A Century of Progress at Chicago in 1933 and 1934, except that here there is no Sally Rand or Sky Ride.

Architecturally, the New York fair has gone way beyond the modernistic streamlined buildings on the Chicago lake front. Designs here run the whole gamut from surrealism to cockeyed. All colors and shapes have been tossed together with wanton abandon.

In its general outline the New York Fair resembles the fore claw of a gigantic lobster with pincers formed by a lake. The larger pincer holds the amusement and honky-tonk section and the smaller holds the Terrace [fair bondholders] club, the Florida exhibit and the army and navy camp.

Mounted on a red marble pylon and holding a star measuring 12 feet from point to point, this figure above the Soviet pavilion will undoubtedly be the mecca for the active and articulate communist branch in New York City this summer.

The theme center, erected by the fair management, consists of a huge white globe, or perisphere, and a triangular shaped monument, called a trylon, pointing 700 feet in the air. These symbols are more commonly known as Mr. Whalen's "bat and ball."

According to the more inspired paragraphs of the fair's press agents, the perisphere is symbolic of the world about us, while the trylon represents man's aspiration. Inside the perisphere is a miniature metropolis of tomorrow called "Democracity."

Constitution Mall Main Street.

Extending from the theme center is the main street of the fair, Constitution Mall. Facing the center at the opposite end of the avenue is the three million dollar United States government building where the President spoke this afternoon.

On either side of a court of peace are the foreign pavilions and buildings. Sixty foreign nations are represented with exhibits or their own pavilions. Because of the war clouds of recent months most of these buildings are not completed.

Countries abroad were cool toward the exposition until Whalen persuaded the soviet government to put up its 4 million dollar marble pavilion. Then England, France, Italy, and the others jumped in one by one.

Far from Completion.

Although the amusement area is free from international complications it is even farther from completion than the foreign section. The smart Broadway boys have decided to wait to see how the fair fares before putting any money into pay rolls.

The pioneer in the amusement section is Billy Rose, who is staging an "aquacade" in the water in front of the New York state building. A mermaid ballet, headed by the puchritudinous swimmer and Rose's wife-to-be, Eleanor Holm, is the feature here. Otherwise nudity is at a standstill at the New York fair.

The main exhibit area, extending out like spokes in a wheel from the trylon and perisphere, contains the seven focal exhibits: Communications, community interests, transportation, medicine and public health, science and education, food and production, and distribution.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all have large buildings and exhibits. The railroads have a large building demonstrating their growth during the last century.

The fair, its press agents say, represents a complete expenditure of 155 million dollars. In this figure is included: $26,700,000 by the city of New York, $6,200,000 by the state, $3,000,000 by the federal government, $30,000,000 by foreign governments, and $42,000,000 by the fair corporation. Exhibitors' expenditures make up the rest of the total.

Great Day for Statesmen.

If the New York fair ends up in the black, as the Chicago exposition did, the profits will go to educational and charitable institutions.

A side light on the fair's financing was the congressional junket of sixty-one senators, 253 house members and their families from Washington, making a party of about 700 persons. The exposition paid the train fares and let the party in free on Annie Oakleys. The federal government paid for their noonday meal at the government building.

It was a day's respite for the statesmen from their duties, including pending legislation for an additional appropriation of $1,300,000 from Uncle Sam for the fair. The original federal contribution was $3,000,000. According to a count of congressional noses, there was a majority of the house and senate strolling about the exposition grounds this afternoon as guests of the exposition. The statesmen have season's passes.

2 SOVIET FLYERS REACH NEW YORK AFTER RESCUE

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Vladimir Kokkinaki, pilot, and Maj. Mikhail Gordienko, navigator-radio operator, tonight concluded a flight from Moscow which was projected as a nonstop venture, but required three instalments. They landed at Floyd Bennett field at 9:32 p. m. in the private plane of the sportsman Harold S. Vanderbilt. They will attend the world's fair tomorrow.

Earlier today two Canadian airways planes rescued the Russians from Miscou Island, Gulf of St. Lawrence, and took them to Moncton, New Brunswick, where they boarded the Vanderbilt plane. Arriving here they received a message of felicitation from Dictator Josef Stalin.

The flyers left Moscow on Thursday and lost their course over the Gulf of St. Lawrence Friday night because of frozen instruments. Gordienko made the landing on Miscou Island after his superior became unconscious from lack of oxygen at 27,000 feet. The plane was damaged in the pancake landing. It had 300 gallons of fuel remaining. Gen. Kokkinaki lost his pair of knee boots covered with white fur at Moncton. He left them near the rescue plane as he responded to greetings of the crowd. When next he looked for them, they were gone.

AIRPLANE CRASH SNARLS TRAFIC BOUND FOR FAIR

Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., April 30.—[Special.]—Trafic along two state highways congested with sightseers bound for the world's fair or for the fleet in the Hudson, was snarled this afternoon when an airplane crashed midway between the two highways.

The plane was piloted by Charles Compton, 28 years old, a machinist, of Newark, who was preparing to take a test for a commercial pilot's license. He took off from Bendix airport and tried desperately to lift his ship over the sharp slope leading up to Hasbrouck Heights, but a down current of air caught his plane and he crashed. Hundreds of motorists halted their cars and went to his assistance. Compton was taken to a hospital with severe injuries.

PRESIDENT HAILS RECORD OF PEACE AT FAIR OPENING

Cites United States Policy of Good Will.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—With his face lifted to the flags of the nations in the court of peace of the New York World's Fair, President Roosevelt today formally opened the exposition with the declaration that America's wagon is hitched to a star, "a star of international good will, and, above all, a star of peace."

The gay flags fluttered in the bright sun as he concluded the address which launched the exposition. Missing among the banners of the nations of the world was the flag of Germany, whose conquests Mr. Roosevelt has denounced. Germany is not participating in the fair.

Mr. Roosevelt avoided any mention of the Nazi nation and the international situation. He did not let his concern for world peace intrude upon the peaceful scene spread before him on the platform in front of the federal building of the fair.

Lessons of Peace.

The President hailed the New York fair as completing the cycle of sesquicentennial commemorations of the constitution and the launching of the new republic. He then turned to a favorite theme—the lessons of peace the Americas are offering the old world.

"Often," he said, "I think we Americans offer up the silent prayer that on the continent of Europe, from which the American hemisphere was principally colonized, the years to come will break down many barriers of intercourse between nations—barriers which may be historic, but which so greatly, through the centuries, have led to strife and hindered friendship and formal intercourse.

"The United States stands today as a completely homogeneous nation, similar in its civilization from coast to coast and from north to south, united in a common purpose to work for the greatest good of the greatest number, united in the desire to move forward to better things in the use of its great resources of intelligent, educated manhood and womanhood. And united in its desire to encourage peace and good will among all the nations of the world."

The New York fair and the exposition at San Francisco, the President said, show an "almost" spontaneous desire on the part of nations of the world to join in peaceful enterprises. The "almost" was the only reference of the day to Nazi Germany and its failure to participate in the fair.

Mr. Roosevelt came to Flushing Meadows, the fair grounds, from his family estate at Hyde Park, New York gave him a warm reception. Upon the speaking platform he was preceded by Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, and Sir Louis Beale, British representative at the fair.

Mother in His Party.

In the presidential party were Mrs. Roosevelt; the President's mother, Mrs. Sarah Delano Roosevelt; his sister-in-law, Mrs. James Roosevelt Sr.; his daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Roosevelt, and his youngest son, John. Following his address he returned to his special train and went back to his family home. At 6 o'clock he greeted Crown Prince Frederik and Crown Princess Ingrid of Denmark. The Danish royal couple arrived on the Potomac at the same dock where Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princess Martha of Norway disembarked Friday afternoon. The Norwegians left Hyde Park this morning.

DIES IN RAIL STATION.

While waiting yesterday to board a train for his home Max Link, 48 years old, a tailor of Tinley Park, died of a heart attack in the La Salle street station.

You can say THIS about Mrs. Snyder's candy:

"I had no idea where I lost it, but I felt that the thing to do was to phone a lost and found ad to the Tribune right away."

● Whenever you lose anything of value be sure to telephone a Lost and Found want ad to the Chicago Tribune. Thousands of dollars' worth of property is restored each year to owners who advertise in the Lost and Found column of the Tribune.

Regardless of what you may have lost, or where in Chicago or suburbs you may have lost it, there is a good chance that a Tribune reader will find it.

Every day of the week the Tribune is read by more than 725,000 families right in metropolitan Chicago. This is practically as many as read any two other Chicago newspapers combined.

Further, the Tribune is Chicago's big want ad marketplace, carrying far more want advertising and, as a result, attracting far more want ad readers than any other Chicago newspaper.

Call SUPERIOR 0100—WANT AD-VISER and ask for Miss Miller if you have lost something recently. Miss Miller will help you word your want ad. If your name is in the phone book, you may charge your Tribune want ad.

As an extra service to Tribune Lost and Found advertisers, all such ads are kept for three months after publication in a special register open to the public at the Tribune Public Service Offices, 1 S. Dearborn St. and in Tribune Tower, 435 N. Michigan Ave.

BOY SCOUTS TAKE TO OUT-OF-DOORS IN CHICAGOLAND

23,000 Strong, They Seek Self-Reliance.

BY MARCIA WINN.

These days of early spring are when Boy Scouts come into their own. On a fine Sunday, such as yesterday, the highways and woods are full of youths and boys, bright kerchiefs around their necks, who are in search of self reliance, the goal of scouting.

If the Scouts live on the south side their kerchiefs are blue. If they live on the southwest side their kerchiefs are purple. If on the west, a vivid red; if northwest, maroon; if along the north shore, a bright green.

Now, with the out of door season beginning, the colors dot the city like confetti, for three out of every ten boys in Chicago are scouts, officials estimate. The Chicago enrolment is 23,591. Six thousand volunteer leaders guide the boys.

Seeks to Raise $90,000.

To train new leaders, and to continue its program throughout the year, the Chicago council of Boy Scouts is trying to raise $90,000, of which $40,540 is on hand. When the fund is raised much of it will go into the backbone of the scouting program—outdoor camping.

Camping is the medium through which officials train boys in the two cardinal principles of scouthood—citizenship and self-reliance. Self-reliance is learned, officials believe, through the crafts of scouting, in which a boy uses his eyes and hands as well as his head. Citizenship is learned, they say, through practical lessons in camp life.

The Chicago council supports five camps in this area. They are open winter and summer. Never a week end passes that these camps do not have throngs of bright-kerchiefed boys. In spring the camps bustle like hives of bees. Yesterday 300 boys were at Camp Kiwanis in Palos Park, the largest of the Chicago camps. Some were there for the week-end, some only for the day.

Every Boy Keeps Busy.

While there, however, each Scout is self-reliant. Although a well ordered program of activity is arranged he need take part only in what he wishes. He usually ends up doing everything he can.

"You'll see that we have no drones," said G. A. Mozealous, assistant director of the council's camping service. "Every boy keeps busy, learning. He is learning, too, a very practical lesson in citizenship because he is working with people of his own age who expect him to do the right thing or suffer the consequences."

As an example Mozealous pointed to the various groups at work or at play. On a wooded knoll one troop was preparing its lunch outside a log cabin. Down in a hollow another troop was weeding around 500 scrub oaks planted last fall for reforestation purposes. On a nearby hill a large group played football. Two hundred feet away eight small boys, clustered on the ground, rubbed dry wood together to make a fire.

Troop Takes Nature Hike.

Earlier in the day Gustave Johannson, camp program director, led a troop on a five mile nature hike, the Scouts alert for the winged flame of the scarlet tanager, the soft velvet petals of the dogwood violet, and the lacelike branches of the dogwood. One Scout sighted a gray and white flicker scurrying into a red oak. Another heard the melancholy whoosh of the mourning dove. At one point a cloud of bluejays flew, screaming, over their heads.

Through hikes, Mozealous explained, Scouts learn perception as well as nature lore. Again they learn self reliance, as on a 25 mile hike Friday night, with only stars and compass as guides.

All of this is in addition to the widespread Boy Scout program for the development of physical fitness. Games and all outdoor sports are encouraged. Health and cleanliness are constantly watched. But everything, in the words of Mr. Mozealous, must be done by the Scout's own desire. From that, he says, come self reliant, good citizens.

Scouts at Camp

(Story in adjoining column.)

Scout Donald Jones makes fire by friction at the Boy Scouts' Camp Kiwanis in Palos Park. For such scouting activities as this, the Chicago Council of Boy Scouts is raising $90,000, much of which will go into the outdoor camping program.

LAST OF GOLDEN EAGLETS GIVEN TO 7 GIRL SCOUTS

The last golden eaglets to be presented in Chicago were given yesterday to seven Girl Scouts in an elaborate ceremony in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House.

A golden eaglet heretofore has been the highest award a Girl Scout can attain. To receive it she had to have twenty-one merit badges; that is, achieve perfection in twenty-one branches of handicrafts, sports, health, or citizenship.

In an eighteen month study of scouting, however, educators found the award to be out of tune with progressive education. Girl Scouts, they said, should learn the twenty-one branches for the "comfort and joy" of learning, and should require no incentive. Thus, no more eaglets.

The girls receiving the awards yesterday are Betty Jane Anderson, troop 66; Vera Anderson and Jean Fox, troop 48; Jane Bernstein, troop 58; Evelyn Ericson and Lillian Berman, troop 99; Eila Ahnder, troop 121.

Two thousand Girl Scout leaders will meet in the Palmer House today and tomorrow for a conference on scout organization in the Great Lakes region. National as well as regional leaders will attend.

30 MILLION PEOPLE GIVE FATHER TIME THE RUNAROUND

An estimated thirty million persons in parts of Illinois and fifteen other states turned their clocks ahead one hour to daylight saving time yesterday. The new time saving schedule will continue until the last Sunday in September when clocks are turned back an hour. Chicagoans and residents of most of the suburbs made the time change.

U. S. JUDGE DAVIS' RETIREMENT IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Hyde Park, N. Y., April 30.—[Special.]—On his return here from the New York World's Fair tonight President Roosevelt made public his acceptance of the retirement of J. Warren Davis, judge of the Third United States Court of Appeals at Trenton, N. J.

The retirement request was sent to the White House by Judge Davis last March 23. The President accepted the retirement as of April 15.

In his letter to the President seeking retirement Judge Davis said: "I wrote you indorsing the bill introduced in congress for the reorganization of federal judiciary." He mentioned his support of the ill-fated court packing proposal, said he was over the age of 70, and wanted to retire after twenty-three years on the bench.

"I desire to take this opportunity to express my appreciation of your long service on the bench and to wish for you many years of health and happiness," Mr. Roosevelt said in his letter of acceptance.

Student at U. of Illinois Wins Oratorical Contest

Kurt Schlesinger, a student in the University of Illinois, last night won the second annual oratorical contest conducted by the Hillel Foundation. The contest was held in the Covenant club under supervision of the local B'nai B'rith council. Schlesinger spoke on "Fascism and Jewry." Second place went to Sidney Kramer, a student in the University of Wisconsin. The Hillel Foundations are established in universities throughout the country to carry on cultural aims among Jewish students.

ENDS LIFE AFTER QUARREL.

WAXING INFORMATIVE

By CALEB

A DOZEN factors, never given thought by the layman, vitally affect so simple an operation as the making of a candle.

For example, materials. From time immemorial, the perfect medium for this purpose has been the rich, fine-textured, clean and lustrous wax out of which the honey bee builds her cells. Sun-bleached beeswax—a natural earth wax called ceresin, from Poland and the Ukraine—stearin, the modern, refined version of old-time tallow—spermaceti, a white, brittle wax from the head of the sperm whale—and paraffin, which came into use about the time of the Civil War—are the stock in trade of the modern chandler.

He himself belongs to one or the other of two groups. The first comprises the volume producers . . the "tallow chandlers" . . . who use all the above-mentioned materials, except beeswax, to make candles by machine-molding, on a quantity basis. The commonest commercial-type candle is either of paraffin or stearin, or a composite where ceresin, stearin, or beeswax is added for hardening.

A second group, the real artists and craftsmen in this field, are known as "wax chandlers." Their work is almost exclusively with beeswax, and years of apprenticeship precede the mastery of design, creative ingenuity, and technical proficiency in modeling, coloring, scenting, embossing, and monogramming, necessary to success in their specialized field.

Small and average-sized candles made by hand are either poured or dipped. In the former method, wicks revolve over vats of molten beeswax, which is ladled over them and cools as the wick circulates, until the proper thickness is secured. In the second method, a like result is produced by repeated dippings of the wick—the beeswax, after each immersion, shrinking as it cools. Easter Paschal and other large candles are formed by the skillful wrapping of soft beeswax strips around the wick. Whatever the process, subsequent rolling on marble slabs smoothe out irregularities and develops the beautiful sheen for which beeswax is famed.

Present-day candle artistry has almost no limits. Ever-popular, at Field's, are the realistic orange, pear, apple and flower-style candles—the tall and lovely "drip" types in pastel hues—the many scented candles favored for gala occasions—and the distinctly hand-decorated Venetian and Florentine designs.

NAVY'S PRACTICE TIME LIMITED BY FUEL SUPPLY CUT

Restriction Enforced as an Economy Measure.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA, C. Z., April 30.—Admiral Claude C. Bloch, commander in chief of the American fleet, today expressed satisfaction with the outcome of Atlantic naval maneuvers and the transit of the fleet through the Panama canal.

Admiral Bloch.

He pointed out, however, that government economy is handicapping the navy with a limited fuel supply, forcing a reduction in the time allowed for practicing sea problems and curtailment of naval efficiency.

Believes American Sailors Superior.

In order to become superior in actual battle it is necessary to devote much practice to solving imaginary problems, he said. He refused to compare the American navy and navies of other countries, but expressed the opinion that the American naval personnel was equal or superior to any in the world.

He is quite proud of the fact that his 40,000 boys have been frolicking in strange ports for four days and that no arrests have yet been reported. The main body of the fleet moves northward Tuesday afternoon and will participate in additional maneuvers up the west coast to California.

Four Vessels to Ecuador.

The destroyers Cushing, Preston, Smith, and Perkins sailed today on a good will visit to Ecuador. Some of the officers and men will go to Quito, the capital. All the ships will rejoin the fleet off California upon completion of the mission.

Stating that he would make no recommendations as a result of two transit trips through the canal, Admiral Bloch admitted that the locks and other features of the canal were not abreast of modern battleships in size. However, no damage, beyond the loss of paint, resulted from the fleet going through the locks.

CADETS PLEASED BY ROYAL VISIT; GET CLEMENCY

West Point, N. Y., April 30.—[Special.]—All sentences of punishment which had been meted out to the West Point cadets were remitted today in honor of the visit to the United States Military academy by Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princess Martha of Norway. The announcement at the noon mess brought a prolonged burst of cheering.

The remission of cadet sentences as an honor to the head of a foreign government visiting the academy has become a tradition. The last time it was done was during the visit of Queen Marie of Rumania. The royal couple spent most of the day here.

Million New Stamps Sold to Collectors in New York

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—The city's main postoffice was in a turmoil today when the government's latest postage stamp, a 3 cent purple issue commemorating the inauguration of George Washington as the first President a century and a half ago, went on sale. When the windows closed, 370,884 philatelic covers had been canceled and sent to nearly 52,000 collectors and more than 889,000 stamps had been affixed to these covers. Final figures were expected to show sales of about one million stamps and the preparation of 400,000 to 500,000 covers.

HITS ROOSEVELT 'NEUTRALITY' AS LEADING TO WAR

Borah Assails Cash and Carry Arms Sales.

or whether we shall sell them to certain nations alone.

"Barney Baruch, who really originated the cash and carry proposition, declared on the witness stand that this plan was not neutrality, that it was not intended to be a neutral plan, that it was intended to be an unneutral proposition, and was in favor of certain nations. So the fight now is whether we shall keep aloof and not mix in the sale of armaments at all or whether we shall sell all the armaments we can manufacture but limit our sales by the terms of the law to certain nations.

"All this means, as Mr. Baruch said, that we are going in with certain nations, that we intend to supply arms to these nations. In other words it means that we are in the war from the very time that we begin to furnish arms and armaments. This is certainly not neutrality. It is not what the American people want. They want honest neutrality.

Means Being Part of Machine.

"The American people are being told now that the way to have peace is not to be neutral but to furnish Great Britain all the arms and armaments she wants, to furnish our armaments along with hers in a common cause. That means, of course, that we will be treated both by other nations and by the British nation as part of her fighting machine.

"The only thing we can do or should do is to stay out of the armaments program, to have nothing to do with furnishing arms to Great Britain or any other nation.

"One of the shrewdest English observers stated a short time ago that, if this country should become associated with Great Britain in the supply of armaments, no one could be so naïve as to believe they would not be associated until the end, whatever the end might be. The furnishing of armament is simply the first step. The next step is war. Lord Lothian has made this perfectly clear.

Urges Staying Out.

"If we are not going to take part in war then the only sensible thing to do is to stay out of it, and we are not staying out of it when we are furnishing the arms by which the fight is being waged. Whether through accident or design the cash and carry proposition is part of the British war system.

"The mothers of this country will find that there is no practical difference between furnishing arms and other fighting instruments and furnishing boys. They will inevitably come together in the final test.

"Let us take an illustration: Suppose we furnish to Great Britain a large supply of armaments, but suppose the game continues to go against Great Britain, what are we going to do? With our feelings aroused, having already taken part in the matter in the way of furnishing armaments we will be called upon to go through."

HOPE ABANDONED FOR EARLY AMENDMENT OF WAGNER LABOR ACT

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—Senator Edward R. Burke (D., Neb.), a leader in the move to revise the Wagner labor act, said today his followers virtually had abandoned hope of amending the law in this congress.

Burke said there was no chance to accomplish this unless the session runs into August, which is considered unlikely.

"We are more interested right now," he added, "in building up the record to show the inherent weaknesses in the law than we are in obtaining immediate action. When we have done that, and done it thoroughly, we will be ready for action whether it is in this congress or the next."

Proponents of revision will have an inning before the senate education and labor committee tomorrow.

MEXICAN UNION RALLY BREAKS UP IN A RIOT; 6 HURT

MEXICO CITY, April 30.—(AP)—A riot following a political rally by a minority faction of the Confederation of Mexican Workers [CTM] resulted today in critical wounds to one person and less serious injury to six others.

Trouble started after the close of the rally in which an estimated 1,000 persons participated. Pistols were drawn, clubs were swung, and stones flew before the police restored order.

The meeting was called by the same group which attempted to stage a rally two weeks ago in opposition to a political meeting held by followers of Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, CTM supported candidate for president. Police prevented that assembly.

YOUNG OFFICER ARMY PROGRAM AFFECTS 2,300

That Many Would Retire in Seven Years.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—The army's proposed elimination of over age and physically unfit commanders forecasts the retirement in the next seven years of more than 2,300 high ranking officers who otherwise would remain in active service.

Official experts agreed on the tentative figure today after studying an administration bill submitted to congress by Secretary Woodring as a means of vitalizing the expanding army.

Urging its prompt approval, Woodring asserted: "The United States is the only power which has not recognized the need of younger officers for command."

"A half million dollars expended annually to modernize our officer personnel will be as valuable a contribution to the national defense as the procurement of additional modern armament," he added.

Staff Experts at Work.

The proposal was put forward last week unexpectedly, but had been under study for years by general staff experts.

The 2,300-odd officers marked for involuntary retirement on three-quarters pay would be in addition to those who, on the basis of existing actuarial tables, would be expected to die in the meantime or quit the service for disability or other reasons regardless of the projected stricter standards.

All are in the upper grades of captain, major, lieutenant colonel, colonel, and brigadier general.

A prospective result of the weeding-out process would be to increase materially the promotion chances of youthful lieutenants already commissioned or to be added as the army expands as a result of increases already authorized under the administration's 552 million dollar arms program.

Captains Retire at 50.

To put the plan into effect, brigadier generals of 62 would be required to retire, along with colonels who had attained the age of 60, lieutenant colonels at 58, majors at 55, and captains who were 50. These age limits might be altered later.

In addition, Secretary Woodring decreed stringent examinations for all officers of the rank of captain or above before June 30 and recommended similar tests for National Guardsmen.

Official actuarial tables forecast the retirement by mid-1945 of 499 brigadier generals and colonels, 243 lieutenant colonels, 710 majors, and 877 captains as a result of the legislation.

200 LEGION POSTS TO SEEK JOBS FOR PERSONS OVER 40

Two hundred American Legion posts in Chicago, coöperating with other civic groups, will launch a week's campaign today to provide employment for persons over 40 years old. The drive is part of a national effort to find work for jobless men and women. In selecting May day to open the drive, Legion officials said they are seeking to counteract subversive radical propaganda among unemployed persons in the older age brackets. Today will be devoted to job hunting conferences.

Roosevelt, 5 years old, is a grandson of the President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Winsor divorced Elliot Roosevelt, second son of the President, several years ago, and became the wife of Curtin Winsor.

SOUTHERN BISHOP WON'T AGREE TO METHODIST UNITY

Bishop Denny.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Richmond, Va., April 30.—(AP)—Bishop Collins Denny, outspoken critic of the plan to unite the three branches of Methodism, said today he intended to remain a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church south, of which he became a minister sixty years ago.

Bishop Denny said he sent a letter to the uniting conference of the Methodist church at Kansas City expressing his unwillingness to become a bishop of that church.

He stated in the letter: "I cannot join with you in the organization of the Methodist church. I cannot submit to the jurisdiction of the Methodist church which you are met to create. To become a part of this new church is to accept substantially everything against which the fathers of my church protested. I must keep faith with the dead."

Bishop Denny predicted the southern church would continue to exist.

MILITARY POWER OF U. S. DECLARED TO BE ADEQUATE

New Arms Demand Held to Be Needless.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—The Foreign Policy association said today that the United States possessed more than sufficient military equipment for national defense—and cautioned the public against endlessly increasing demands for more armaments.

David H. Popper, who prepared the report for the association, a private research organization, said that it would be foolhardy for any European or Asiatic power to attempt to carry on a military campaign in the western hemisphere.

Navy Strong Enough.

Listing the fighting strength of the fleets of Germany, Italy, and Japan, he said the United States today possesses sufficient naval forces to combat any enemy or probable combination of enemies against which it may be pitted.

Estimating that the United States would possess 8,500 army and navy planes in a few years under the present building program, the report said that new construction is not necessary for defensive purposes.

Better Prepared than Ever.

"With its shipyards working at capacity, its factories producing modern military equipment at an accelerated tempo, and its aircraft industry about to be placed on a semi-war footing, the United States is unquestionably far better prepared for conflict than ever before in its peace time history," the report said.

"The contagion of fear reaching this country from across the seas has dampened the opposition to increased armaments and permitted the armed services to remedy what they regarded as long standing deficiencies in America's defenses. The military measures adopted under the New Deal are more than sufficient to defend the coasts of the United States."

CARLSTROM HAILS CONSTITUTION AS LIBERTY BULWARK

Disabled veterans at the Edward Hines Jr. hospital heard the constitution lauded as the bulwark of American liberty yesterday by Oscar E. Carlstrom, former attorney general of Illinois. He spoke at the dedication of a constitutional memorial shrine at the hospital.

"In these precincts," Mr. Carlstrom said, "we have visual evidence of what sacrifices have been made to create and preserve the free institutions of our country and the honor and liberties of our people.

"The men lingering here with broken and pain racked bodies constitute a part of that great army of service men who have declared 'for God and country to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America,' and all that it implies in protection and blessing to our people."

RELIEF AND TAX BILLS TO ENGAGE STATE ASSEMBLY

Two Months Remain of Present Session.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—With only two months of the 61st general assembly remaining, Illinois legislature tomorrow night will begin to pack more action into daily sessions. Hopes for adjournment in early June have been given up.

This week's calendar contains bills dealing with relief, taxation, crime, and elections. Bills to increase state relief grants from 3 millions to $4,500,000 a month in May and June will be in the house for concurrence with senate passage.

Expect Fight on Tax Bill.

Benjamin S. Adamowski, leader of the Democratic house minority, is expected to put up a fight against features of the tax preadjudication bill which was passed by the senate last week. It provides that tax rate litigation would be transferred from the county court to the Circuit court.

Douglas Sutherland, executive secretary of the Chicago Civic Council and Bureau of Public Efficiency, and an expert observer in the legislature, is objecting to the bill.

Representative Richard J. Daley, chief deputy controler of Cook county and sponsor of the measure, contends that the county court already is overloaded with tax cases.

Park Bonds Opposed.

Other bills that will be opposed in the house are those to give the Chicago park district power to issue 6 million dollars' worth of bonds without a referendum, and to provide a pegged levy of 52 millions for the Chicago board of education for 1940 and thereafter. The pegged levy of 48 millions for 1939 and 1940 now permitted represents a 3 million dollar increase. The Chicago Association of Commerce today warned the legislature of its hostility toward the bills.

City manager enabling bills are set as a special order of business in the house Tuesday.

SEEK DEAD MAN'S RELATIVES.

Police last night sought relatives of H. E. Bardwell of Milwaukee, Wis., who was found dead yesterday in his bed at the Stevens hotel. Bardwell, who was about 50 years old, registered in the hotel Saturday night. Death apparently was caused by a heart attack.

GRILL 4 FOR CLEWS TO SLAYING OF POLICEMAN'S KIN

Matthew Hyland, 30 years old, 920 West 35th place, who was shot and wounded Saturday night near 51st street and Racine avenue, died early today in the Evangelical hospital. He was a brother of Policeman William Hyland of the Maxwell street station.

While lying wounded in the hospital he told his brother that he did not see his assailants. Witnesses said three men fled after the shooting. Police were holding four men for investigation. One is John Keating, 1050 West 51st street. Hyland said he had quarreled earlier in the evening with Keating and his brother, Richard.

Five Pennsylvania Rail Employes Die in Wreck

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 30.—(AP)—Five men were killed and two were injured seriously when a double-header freight train ran through a derail and over the end of a stub track on the Pennsylvania railroad near here early today. The dead are E. Feeney, engineman, and D. R. Conroy, fireman, both of Columbus, O., and D. H. Lingenfelter, engineman, C. E. Rine, fireman, and T. Ramsaur, conductor, all three of Dennison, O. The train was about a mile and a half north of the Thompson yards, south of Pittsburgh near the Monongahela river when the accident occurred.

Rare Combination

Old Fruitful is not a beautiful cat, nor a rare one. In fact, in the past nothing about her has been deemed remarkable, neither her vast appetite for rats nor the 19 kittens she has given birth to at the Chicago Zoological park at Brookfield.

But now comes a change in her status. She has adopted Lulu, an orphaned baby raccoon, and that is something cats usually don't do. More important, she tends it with far more devotion than she tends her own newborn kittens, a tiny tortoise shell and a tiny black one.

Lulu came to her Tuesday after she and four other baby raccoons were discovered in a chimney of a farm house near Antioch. The five, their eyes still closed, seemed half-starved when found. All they could do was cling tenaciously to anything that touched them.

Two of the foundlings were placed with a zoo raccoon, who recently had a litter of five herself. Two more went to Otto Holdick, night keeper, to be fed by hand with an eye dropper. The fifth went to Old Fruitful, purely as an experiment, and Old Fruitful seems to love it.

"It's remarkable," Robert Bean, assistant zoo director said, "that she would accept it at all. Yet it clings to her everywhere she goes."

HELD IN ROBBERY OF GIRL.

George McGuire, 28 years old, 1646 Ohio street, was held by police yesterday on complaint of Miss Margaret Heratek, 20 years old, a waitress. She said that McGuire and two companions assaulted and robbed her of $4 in the rear of 1624 Ohio street earlier in the day.

BILL TO ABOLISH PAROLE SYSTEM GAINS SUPPORT

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Legislators are showing interest in a bill to abolish the present Illinois parole system, introduced last week by Representative Schaefer O'Neill [D., Alton] at the request of Lieut. Gov. John Stelle.

Mr. Stelle proposes to revamp the entire system which has been subjected to criticism. He favors doing away with the parole board and with the present law permitting the board to give convicts conditional and supervised release after part of their sentences have been served.

Proposes Honor System.

The Stelle plan calls for a combination of prison punishment and honor treatment. Should it become law convicts would be sent to prison as at present. There they would go through the prison routine until such time as a board of expert penologists, psychiatrists, psychologists and criminologists determine that they are sufficiently punished. These experts would take the place of the present parole board.

Instead of paroling a convict, however, the experts would send him to the Illinois Honor Community—a proposed ten thousand acre farm which would have medium security buildings.

There the convicts would grow or manufacture whatever is used by the penal and charitable institutions of the state.

Must Prove Worth.

Stelle conceives this work program as the proper way to rehabilitate a convict and prepare him to reënter society. He would not be released until the same expert board that sent him from a cell to the farm had decided he was fit to take his place in the world once more. Once freed, his release would be unconditional.

The lieutenant governor's bill carries a 2 million dollar appropriation for setting up the honor farm. It will be considered in committee hearings shortly.

AVERAGE CONVICT'S MENTALITY AGE 12, PSYCHOLOGIST SAYS

St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—(AP)—Instead of being the wise, shrewd fellows some detective fiction makes them out to be, the average convict is stupid and has a mental age of 12, says Harry Yudin, psychologist at the Michigan State prison.

Yudin, here to attend a probation and parole conference, said the average intelligence of 900 prisoners he tested was dull, and 27 per cent were "definitly feeble-minded."

He believes low intelligence is largely responsible for their drifting into crime, and recommended more vocational training in the schools for those who cannot cope with academic work.

Boy's Body Washes Ashore After Boat Upsets in Lake

The body of James Ammons, 15 years old, who was drowned in the lake March 24 when a crude sailboat capsized, was washed ashore near 54th street yesterday. He was the son of Jackson Ammons, 6609 Drexel avenue. Ammons and another boy, Russell Benson, 17, of 4965½ Lake Park avenue, were in the tiny craft at the time of the accident. Benson was rescued by Clifford Youmans, 18, of 5109 Kimbark avenue, who swam out to him.

Girl Struck by Stray Bullet Is Reported to Be Improved

The condition of Catherine Dressel, 12 years old, who was wounded in the head by a stray bullet April 19 as she washed dishes in her home at 2949 Congress street, was improved yesterday. Physicians in the Presbyterian hospital have made no attempt to remove the bullet, which is imbedded in her brain. Charges against two youths who fired the bullet while shooting at a target have been deferred pending the outcome of the girl's condition.

You've hit your inner stride

....when you regain healthy per-i-stal-sis

You swing along with energy, with ease...once you hit your inner stride...the stride of health!

This inner stride is a steady motion of the intestines—a contracting and expanding known as per-i-stal-sis. Lucky for you when it keeps up evenly. Uncomfortable for you when it slows down, causing constipation.

When that happens, a thorough flushing-out is indicated before normal per-i-stal-sis can start again. Here Eno can help!

You get fluid-action

Eno brings fluid from other parts of the body to the intestines... where extra moisture is needed; also, it exerts a mild stimulation. Gently, accumulated waste matter is flushed away.

You're freed, relieved. Now it's possible for healthy per-i-stal-sis to return. You can hit your inner stride again, as you get back on schedule.

You also "alkalize"

Off-stride? Buy Eno at your druggist's today! Try its fluid-action, its alkalizing effect! Hit your inner stride...that healthy stride...the stride you envy in others.

FIRMS TREATING HELP THE BEST HAILED BY HITLER

99 Receive Gold Flag of Labor Front.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 30.—Of 164,000 firms competing for the honor of obtaining Nazi praise for their social treatment of workers and employés, 99 were awarded the gold flag of the German Labor Front by Reichsfuehrer Hitler this afternoon in a ceremony starting May day festivities.

In making the award, Hitler said that "every individual—whatever his job—is invested with a task which he must fulfill in the service of the whole community, be he foreman or follower, organizer or manager."

Army Leaders Present.

The ceremony was part of the annual May day festival of the national chamber of labor. It was held in the mosaic hall of the new chancellery. To stress the unity between labor and government, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Nazi No. 2; Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, other members of the cabinet, and many high army officers, were present.

Hitler's address dealt with the principle of the new social organization which the Nazi revolution has introduced into the life of the German people. He emphasized the importance to national economy of the largest possible production of essential wares and the most expedient organization of working powers.

Farms Included in Contest.

Hitler presented the golden flags to the 99 firms which had won the title of "exemplary Nazi firms" in competition among organization ranging from banks, farms, and postoffices to airplane factories. The winners were described as taking the lead in the work of the four year plan for economic independence.

Dr. Theodor Hupfauer, who directed the competition, said Hitler's endeavor to assure the future of his people placed on every one who called himself a German the duty of giving his best in his work.

Answering a query as to what constituted an "exemplary Nazi farm," he declared it was not a matter of the amount expended on social improvement but of health, the will to exist, joy in work, and the achievement of employés.

COMMUNIST MAY DAY APPEAL ASKS END OF FASCISM

MOSCOW, April 30.—(AP)—The communist internationale issued an appeal today to workers of all countries to "unite now for the overthrow of their oppressors" as soviet Russia's 170 millions prepared to celebrate the 50th anniversary of international May day tomorrow.

Asserting that Fascism "like a mad beast runs amok over Europe," the appeal declared that "British and French reactionaries are paying now for their policy of war provocation against the U. S. S. R. The indignation of the masses grows against the policy of Munich and against those who led peoples into war under the hypocritical banner of saving peace."

The comintern appeal advised workers that "Fascism will not fall of its own weight. The workers must act." It proposed an international conference of workers' organizations "in order to work out a concrete plan of action."

May Day Parade Peaceful; Thousands Join in March

Several thousand persons took part yesterday in Chicago's May Day parade. Nearly 100 police were detailed along the line of march to prevent trafic tieups. No disorders occurred. The parade began at Randolph street and Michigan avenue, proceeded west to State street, then to Madison street and west to Ogden avenue and northeast to Union park at Randolph street. Speakers addressed marchers in the park.

UNIONISTS OF FRANCE CANCEL USUAL MAY DAY 24 HOUR LAYOFF

PARIS, April 30.—(AP)—Labor union members in the Paris region celebrated May day today with parades and public meetings and without calling for the usual May 1 cessation of work tomorrow. The Sunday observance resulted from an executive order of the General Confederation of Labor on April 6 canceling the annual twenty-four hour May 1 layoff.

Speakers at massmeetings of union members in the Bois de Vincennes assailed Finance Minister Paul Reynaud's new decree laws increasing taxation and lengthening working hours. Large squads of police prohibited display of signs opposing the government's financial and defense measures. Placards called for increased union organization or demanded lower living costs.

Similar celebrations were held in various parts of France. Many speakers emphasized the necessity of all classes of Frenchmen to stand together against threats from abroad.

SPAIN SETS NEW RULES FOR LABOR; FORBIDS STRIKES

BURGOS, Spain, April 30.—(AP)—A government decree today established vertical syndicalism and abolished professional syndicalism in Spain. The new law prohibited strikes.

Under the vertical plan, trade union boards will be created to govern each industry separately and will have jurisdiction over all executives, administrative officials and workers, who will be placed on the same plane, rather than in different categories as under the horizontal system.

The new law was described as more complete than any promulgated in totalitarian countries, absolutely original, Spanish and of simple mechanism. A government intervention is authorized by the decree to arbitrate all collective and individual labor conflicts and to prevent dissension.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL

The Flow of Commerce

Commodities move from place to place because change in location adds appreciably to their value. They move profitably because the charge for the service is encouragingly less than the value which the movement adds. Thus do rates for transportation lie deeply imbedded in the foundation of our commercial life.

The rates that are maintained for transportation by railroad must do three things:

They must cover the out-of-pocket expense of performing the service;

They must provide a living wage for the capital that is invested;

And they must cause the greatest possible volume of traffic to move.

This latter aim is expressed in the pledge of the Illinois Central System to "maintain rates which will stimulate the flow of commerce."

Thus we recognize that railway rates are made to move traffic. To serve their purpose, they have to be written on freight bills as well as in the published tariffs. Unused rates are no good to anybody.

BOTH SIDES MAKE PEACE OFFERS IN WIEBOLDT STRIKE

Mayor Is to Preside Over Parley Today.

Proposals to settle the strike of truck drivers involving the Wieboldt department stores are to be made today to Mayor Kelly and Ald. William A Rowan [10th], chairman of the city council's labor committee. Both sides said yesterday they would submit plans to the city officials. Each insisted its plan should prove acceptable to the other side.

"They understand we want them to get together and settle this strike, which began early in the month," said Ald. Rowan. "The mayor has said the strike must be concluded in the interest of the public. The opposing sides do not seem to be so far apart."

Hope for Settlement.

Attorney Adlai Stevenson, representing the Wieboldt stores, said the company would make a sincere effort to effect a settlement of the strike today.

"We think our proposal is in such form that the unions can scarcely decline it," he said.

The negotiators declined to disclose the concessions they will make. Ald. Rowan said the union, represented by Leslie Goudie, president of the Teamsters' Joint council, and Attorney Daniel Carmell, was prepared to make what they regarded as an extremely fair offer, but would not discuss its form.

Hunt for Slayer to Go On.

Settlement of the strike would in no way slow up the search for the supposed labor terrorist who on April 12 shot and killed James Lawrence, an employé of Wieboldt's store, Ald. Rowan said. The manhunt is a separate matter, he explained, and will go on even though the strike should be settled. No question of leniency is involved in the negotiations, he added.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan said he has a number of men on the trail of the killer. The name of the owner of the automobile used in the murder is known, Sullivan said, but no one has made any offer to surrender the man nor has there been any report of any intention on the part of any group of unionists to defend the man. The striking union still insists none of its members was responsible, Sullivan asserted.

Lawrence and three other employés of the department store were riding in a truck covered with tarpaulin when shots fired from an automobile penetrated the side of the truck and killed him. The men in the automobile were seen by several persons but so far none of the assassins has been identified, Chief Sullivan said.

Try Indian Fighter Today as Slayer of Son-in-Law

Edward Conrad, 79 years old, a former Indian fighter, is scheduled to go on trial today in the Criminal court of Judge James F. Fardy for the slaying of his son-in-law, Louis Vleck, 46 years old. Conrad confessed that he shot Vleck in their home at 1356 Winnemac avenue on March 21 after a quarrel over Vleck's behavior with his wife, Almeda. Attorneys for Conrad said he would plead self-defense.

Accused Gunman Arrested in Near North Side Shooting

James Foster, 18 years old, of 225 East Huron street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of shooting and wounding Perry Poston, 19, of 805 North State street. Poston was shot Saturday night in front of 720 North Wabash avenue. He told police that Foster opened fire upon him after warning him and other young men to stay away from the neighborhood. Foster is to appear today in Boys' court.

PALMER'S BRIDE HIRES LAWYER FOR 20 YEARS

Sarasota, Fla., April 30.—[Special.]—Potter D'Orsay Palmer's fourth wife has made a contract with Frank Redd Sr. retaining him as her attorney for twenty years, according to a document on file in the Circuit court here. The agreement says Redd is to accept no other employment.

No explanation was forthcoming as to the agreement. Redd, a Sarasota attorney, is representing Palmer's wife in her separate maintenance suit and her $300,000 alienation of affection suit against Palmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Honoré Palmer. Notice of the alienation of affections suit was filed last Wednesday, and a declaration is expected tomorrow. The wealthy young Chicagoan's wife is the former Pluma Louise Lowery Abatiello, 23 years old, a waitress he married less than five months ago.

HAYMARKET RIOT VETS TALK LIFE, FORGET BOMBS

Last 2 Police Survivors Spry 53 Years Later.

"The meeting is called to order," said Frank P. Tyrrell, adjusting his gold rimmed spectacles.

"Never mind that, Frank, there's just us," said George W. Roycraft, who, at 92, is Tyrrell's senior by eleven years. With his cane George pointed to a vacant chair next to the one he occupied in the squad room of the Desplaines street police station. "You might as well come down from that platform so we can talk better."

It was the 53d annual reunion of the Haymarket Riot Veterans' association. Roycraft and Tyrrell, the latter president since 1908, are the only surviving members. Last year only Tyrrell attended the "meeting."

Talk About Selves; Not Riot.

The two retired policemen might have talked about the horror of that warm spring night on May 4, 1886, when eight policemen were killed and seventy-four were wounded in the anarchist uprising. Tyrrell was wounded twice when a bomb exploded. It had been tossed into the ranks of 175 policemen by an anarchist hiding in an alley just north of Randolph street on Desplaines street.

But for each other the veterans had no word about this, or the gun battle which followed the bomb explosion.

"I haven't talked to a doctor in five years," said Roycraft. "Every one of my doctors has died. I used to have rheumatism but I'm fine now. Only my legs are a little wabbly."

His trim goatee bobbed proudly as he told how he had made the trip from his home to the police station on a street car. Smoother riding than automobiles, he said.

Health Paramount Subject.

"I'm in good health myself," said Tyrrell. "We'll be here next year, too. I guess they don't make them as tough any more."

Only when reporters asked questions, did they reminisce about the historic riot.

"That was the end of anarchy in Chicago," Tyrrell said.

"No, George," his companion prompted him, "Krueger died two years ago."

They lingered for an hour, in sympathetic discourse about the death of friends. Their ritual complete, they went home to their families.

Chicagoans Get Invitations to Holland Tulip Festival

Invitations to Chicagoans to visit the Holland, Mich., tulip festival May 13-20 were brought here yesterday by Don Rypma, his wife, and their daughter, Judith, 3 years old. They donned Dutch costumes in their room in the Hotel Sherman for photographers and assured interviewers that Holland residents will have the best display of tulips in the history of the town across Lake Michigan.

PRE-MARRIAGE EXAMINATIONS
With separate departments for men and women, the Public Health Institute is especially well fitted to make the medical tests which the law requires every couple to have before a marriage license can be obtained. A thorough physical examination, including all necessary laboratory tests, costs $3.00 per person. Those examined before 2 P.M. (at 159 or 169 N. Dearborn St.) can have certificates same day.

Don't permit a neglected venereal disease to make you a physical or nervous wreck, but see a doctor or this clinic before it's too late!

WHY allow neglected or improperly treated gonorrhea or syphilis to burn you out before your time—make you a physical or nervous wreck and rob you of your means of livelihood? Why become a feeble shadow of your former self, dependent on your relatives or public charity for support?

It's such a needless tragedy, for proper medical attention can restore you to health and enable you to lead a long and useful life. But such attention must be secured in time, otherwise it may not be possible to ward off the dreaded complications which so often occur when venereal infections are neglected or improperly cared for!

Surely you don't want syphilis to make you a victim of heart disease, to lead to the loss of sight or hearing, to disable you with locomotor ataxia, to result in a stroke of paralysis or apoplexy, or to bring on a nervous breakdown that may end in insanity! Nor do you want gonorrhea to afflict you with a sight-destroying eye infection, crippling arthritis, sterility, stricture, or serious prostate, bladder, kidney or other troubles!

Avoid self medication!

Therefore, don't let another day pass without taking steps to get proper medical attention. Above everything else, don't resort to self treatment—for even though it relieves your symptoms you have no proof whatever that you are cured!

Only a skilled physician, with his scientific tests of cure, is able to determine if your system is free from germs. So make up your mind to get proper treatment, followed by dependable tests of cure! Such treatment and tests can be obtained from your family doctor—or you can get them inexpensively from the physicians of the Public Health Institute.

Since 1920, the Public Health Institute has given more than 5,000,000 examinations and treatments for gonorrhea and syphilis. This wealth of experience is your guarantee of getting medical attention of the most reliable nature!

No one is turned away!

Because the Public Health Institute was organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, it is able to provide specialized venereal disease attention at charges to fit the smallest income. The cost of a physical examination for syphilis and gonorrhea, including blood tests, urinalysis and gonorrheal smears, is amazingly moderate, while individual treatments are available at fees so low that any employed person can readily pay them.

Nor is that all! Even persons who are temporarily short of money can make arrangements to be cared for. Thus no deserving venereal disease sufferer need be deprived of treatment!

GAMING PALACE IS DARK AFTER FIRST NIGHT RAID

5 Jailed, 150 Patrons Sent Away by Police.

The sumptuous gambling house at 9730 South Western avenue which opened Saturday night was empty and dark last night. Its one night stand was broken up by Willow Springs county highway police. It will stay closed, they said.

Five men were seized in the raid, which was made shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The five, Les Burke, Joseph Goon, William Norris, Michael Pantis, and John Russell, are to be arraigned Wednesday before Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl in the Willow Springs courthouse.

Built by Skidmore Syndicate.

The casino, a squat, one story structure without windows, stands outside the Chicago city limits near the Beverly Hills residential district. It was erected two years ago by the Johnson-Skidmore syndicate, for the express purpose of gambling, according to reports. Lacking windows, it is air cooled. The total cost was estimated at $50,000. The opening was postponed from time to time because of opposition by Beverly Hills people.

An opportune time to open came last week when Sherif Thomas O'Brien left Chicago for a vacation in the east, reports say. Word was circulated that the opening would be Saturday night.

The opening was held as scheduled. More than 350 men and women, many smartly dressed, and many, incidentally, from Beverly Hills, attended.

Search Patrons for Guns.

Men patrons were searched for guns before they entered. Inside they had the choice of risking their money on any of the standard games—slot machines, craps, roulette, blackjack, chuck o' luck, poker or keno.

The opening night was a success until Lieut. Fred Mulhausen and a police squad appeared. They shut the house tight, after chasing away 150 patrons and making five arrests.

TURN IN FALSE ALARM; 3 HUNTED.

Maxwell street police are looking for three youths who turned in four false alarms to the fire department early yesterday morning. The youths were seen at one of the alarm boxes. They were in a black sedan without license plates.

J. M. GUNNERSON DENIES HE WILL MARRY LYA LYS

After his sudden trip to Kansas City without baggage, John Marshall Gunnerson, a vending machine manufacturer, was back in Chicago yesterday with a denial that he intends to marry Lya Lys, Russian born movie actress who was on the same train. She continued to Hollywood.

"I met Lya Lys in Chicago Saturday morning," Gunnerson said. "I made the trip to Kansas City for a week-end holiday as there were other friends of mine on the same train. Miss Lys and I have no matrimonial intentions. She eats, thinks, and dreams a successful picture career."

Gunnerson said he didn't believe he told a reporter in Kansas City that he planned to marry the actress in ten days.

"I'm not sure what I said," he declared. "The party was a little gay. Flashlights were popping, a lot of kidding was going on, and newspaper men were crowding us. But I certainly have no intentions of matrimony."

Gunnerson has been married three times. One of his wives was Anna Q. Nilsson, a star of silent movies.

$1,000 Fire Loss to Be Charged to 430 Students

East Lansing, Mich., April 30.—(AP)—Some students at Michigan State college may have a hard time explaining to dad why there is a fee for a fire on their next bill from the school. A toolshed standing on the campus was destroyed Friday night by a fire and John A. Hannah, college secretary, said today that he and Fire Chief Murle Croy were convinced it was a student prank. Hannah estimated the loss at $1,000 and said it would be prorated among the 430 residents of the domitory unless the individuals responsible admit their guilt.

MAD DOG DIPLOMACY.

Senator Pittman of Nevada has introduced a bill authorizing the President, in effect, to declare an embargo on American trade with Japan. That would be an act of hostility and a prelude to war. The bill had scarcely been submitted to the senate before the Japanese were threatening retaliations.

Some Americans may wonder why so much importance was attached in Tokio to Mr. Pittman's bill. The answer is that it was not Mr. Pittman's bill. He is a far more consequential figure abroad than at home. He is chairman of the senate's foreign relations committee and a recognized spokesman of the administration in matters of foreign policy. Mr. Pittman's bill is Mr. Roosevelt's bill. There can be no doubt that it represents the official policy of the administration.

The New Dealers' acts and declarations indicate that they are bent upon war. They have been trying to horn into the European quarrel. Now they are playing the same rôle in Asia. They are running about like mad dogs, arousing hatred and distrust of America.

The American people want no part in another war in Europe and are even less interested, if that is possible, in an Asiatic adventure. The people, knowing what the last war cost and how little we got from it, want this country to mind its own business.

Mr. Pittman and his fellow New Dealers want the United States to fight China's battles as if the quarrel on the other side of the world were of such intimate concern to us that it is worth thousands of American lives and billions of dollars of our money to see Japan defeated. Japan is and has been one of our best customers, a far better customer than China. We are to take sides with the less important customer against the more important one. Our foreign policy, if Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Pittman, and the rest have their way, is to be determined with regard not to our interest but the interest of China.

Mr. Roosevelt loses no opportunity to express his hatred of war, but his diplomacy is bellicose and, if he goes unchecked, will get us into war, just as President Wilson's did. Mr. Roosevelt is approaching the end of his second term with an unenviable record. Agriculture and industry in the country remain depressed though he promised to create a lasting prosperity and was accorded every opportunity to make good. Unemployment is as severe as ever.

A war would move the surpluses of goods and men. The goods would be used in our military effort and distributed among our allies in return for more promises to pay. The men would go into the army and some of them no doubt would be permanently removed from the labor supply. The factories would hum with war orders. A war would save the faces of the New Dealers, create the possibility of a third term, and at the same time further the New Deal's dictatorial ambitions.

Mr. Pittman's bill fits neatly into this pattern. It is a step toward war. The rejection of this proposal by the senate will show the world that America doesn't believe in mad dog diplomacy.

CRAWFORD AVENUE.

Property owners on Crawford avenue had a legitimate grievance in the changing of the name of that thoroughfare to Pulaski road. Business men along the street had, over a period of years, spent large sums of money advertising the name of Crawford avenue to attract shoppers. Their investment was destroyed to appease the demands of a racial group.

The Crawford avenue incident was responsible for state legislation requiring the consent of owners of three-fifths of the frontage on a street to a change in its name. Operating under that statute, the Crawford avenue camp has been working to restore that name and now seems close to success.

The Polish drive for Pulaski road was but one instance in a more or less continuous movement to inject European questions into Chicago affairs. The Italian air flight to this city resulted in a street being named for a political freebooter whose whole philosophy is contemptuous of American ideals of freedom. Scandinavians successfully pinned on one of the outer drives the name of the hero whom their sagas credit with the discovery of America. We hesitate to name him because we forget at the moment whether the Swedes or the Norwegians won out on the spelling of his name. British, French, German, Irish, and other examples could be cited.

The alien drive has not stopped at street names. Racial groups have demanded that public school curricula include their languages, in disregard of the lack of substantial use to which a student might put them. Consideration of the demand of racial blocs for places on political tickets has done much to lower the qualifications of office holders by focusing attention on the name of the candidate rather than his qualifications. Some of these blocs have gone to the extent of demanding that once a member of their race has been elected to a particular office that office shall remain in perpetuity the perquisite of that racial group.

As has been remarked before, there is a good deal of froth on the top of the melting pot. All of these racial blocs are made up, overwhelmingly today, of American citizens. The mischievous maintenance of European connections and their injection into American affairs have been maintained largely for the profit of a few political leaders. With the nations of Europe at each other's throats, these trans-Atlantic ties are bound to be used in attempts to influence selfishly the course of American foreign policy.

Whatever their ancestry—British, German, Polish, Italian, Irish, Czech, or Scandinavian—the citizens of Chicago are Americans today. It is not enough to demand that they be Americans first. They are that, overwhelmingly. For their mutual benefit in these troubled times they should cast aside allen ties completely and be nothing but American.

MOUNTING PARK COSTS.

The recent proposal of the Chicago park board that the legislature authorize it to issue $6,000,000 in bonds without obtaining the consent of taxpayers through a referendum met deserved criticism. The board now proposes as an alternative that its annual tax levy be increased by $2,900,000, of which $2,000,000 a year would be put to uses covered by the proposed bond issue.

Without in any way conceding that the tax increase is justifiable, it can be said that it is more honest than the bond proposal. The bond proceeds would be used for maintenance of existing facilities, such as shore protective works now in bad condition, or for acquisition of small parks and for other activities so close in their nature to operation and maintenance that their cost is better met from current revenue.

Borrowing money for operation and maintenance is and always has been an inexcusable practice. Such activities are properly financed by taxation. That makes the taxpayers immediately and often painfully aware of the cost of the services given them. Bond issues anesthetize them and prolong the pain for twenty years.

The 1939 park budget contained, in addition to the tentative increase in taxes as a substitute for the bond issue, a further increase of $900,000 a year for ordinary operating expenses. Mr. Dunham gave as a principal reason for the increase the addition of 1,000 acres to the parks last year.

Two years ago THE TRIBUNE called attention to this increase of park facilities, produced largely by WPA labor, and predicted that it would inevitably increase operating costs. Mr. Dunham replied in the Voice of the People. His statement of park board policy at that time is reprinted in that column today.

In the 1,000 acres of parks to which Mr. Dunham referred the other day no additional land was acquired. What was increased was the area of improvements. Bare sand wastes were landscaped. However, every new expanse of lawn involves continuing expense for men to cut and care for it. In the face of Mr. Dunham's pledges two years ago that no facilities would be increased which would result in budget increases and that the tax levies were being zealously guarded, we now have such a tax increase, confessedly resulting from the park expansion program.

Much can be said and has been said in the past in these columns in praise of Mr. Dunham's administration of the parks. The personnel under him is efficient. The present park organization makes a dollar go farther than it ever went in the past. But it asks for too many dollars.

RESPECT FOR THE COURTS.

Attorney General Murphy said the other day that the courts have shrunk in public esteem. He called for action to reëstablish respect for them.

If Mr. Murphy is right about the public's attitude toward the courts it is difficult to explain the resistance in the country to Mr. Roosevelt's court packing proposal. It was on that issue that Mr. Roosevelt took his first substantial licking and there never was any doubt that the senate's action was popular. The court packing effort suggests all too plainly that the courts have shrunk not so much in public esteem as in the esteem of the New Dealers.

The appointment of Mr. Murphy to his present position at the head of the department of justice is evidence to the same effect. Mr. Murphy lost his job as governor of Michigan because the public resented his refusal to carry out the mandate of the courts at the time of the sitdown strikes. Mr. Murphy got his present job for the same reason. His refusal to respect and enforce the decrees of the courts made him a New Deal hero.

Mr. Roosevelt's low opinion of the courts is further attested by the quality of his judicial appointments. Ku Kluxer Black, with no more judicial experience than can be obtained in a police court, was his first appointee to the Supreme bench. The other judicial appointments of all ranks have gone for the most part to college professors of limited experience and to political hacks. Any lame duck who could not be accommodated elsewhere was good enough for judicial office. There is little evidence, as yet, for the belief expressed by Mr. Murphy that the courts have fallen in public esteem, but if such an opinion does become prevalent, Mr. Roosevelt's appointments will be in no small part responsible. There is no doubt that the federal courts have already fallen in the esteem of lawyers for precisely this reason.

Mr. Murphy talked as if he or his New Deal predecessors had taken the initiative in the Manton case. The fact is that Mr. Dewey turned up the evidence and forced the New Deal to act. Incidentally, it was a New Dealer, Judge Pecora, who declared a mistrial for the benefit of Jimmy Hines, another eminent New Dealer, who himself was shown to have been a corrupter of New York judges.

Mr. Murphy's personal history and his political associations suggest that he may not be exactly the right man to reëstablish the courts in public esteem.

Editorial of the Day

DANGEROUS TWILIGHT.

[Detroit News.]

Recent studies of motor accidents reveal that they occur most frequently not in the dark, as one might suppose, but between 4 and 8 p. m.—nearer 4 in the winter and nearer 8 in the summer—in other words, at the hour of twilight.

First, the roads are likely to be crowded then with motorists driving home from work. Second, the motorists are not taking the proper attitude toward their tasks—tired after the day's labor, they are using the drive as a means of relaxation and rest; or they are hurrying to get home before dark, their minds preoccupied with thoughts of what they will do when they arrive. Third, the visibility is poor, and it has become poor so gradually tha a driver does not, as he would an hour later when darkness has fully descended, realize how poor it is.

When the source of a danger is known our caution usually enables us to avoid it. For example, accidents are infrequent when the streets are coated with ice, simply because we know ice driving is perilous, and drive with care. Undoubtedly we can by the same means reduce the number of twilight disasters if we firmly fix in our minds the idea that twilight, so innocent seeming, is the cause of them.

SHORTS FOR MONDAY.

Are you a "googie"? [4-29-'39; admirer of exhibitionists]. This word apparently comes from the folk song, "Barney Google, with those goo-goo-googly eyes." There was an earlier use of the expression, however, in a rhyme carved on Peter Stuyvesant's wooden leg:

The famous city of N' Yawk
Is full of googies who goggle and gawk.

The street urchins' word, "fen," which we paragraphed recently, may be found in Webster, with a "see fend" attached. It has had literary usage; see ragamuffin Joe's "fen larks" to Lady Dedlock in Dickens' "Bleak House."

OGDEN AVENUE BRIDGE.

Men dreamed you;
They slaved and sweated and worried
Over you.
You were slow in forming—
Broken ground and wooden frames,
And great pillars of cement,
Linked together now with arms of steel—
Now you're almost done.
Cars will hurl across you
And men will rejoice for two minutes saved
Because you're there—
And men will die because they want a little more
Than just two minutes.
They will not have time to see
The startling beauty of your upward curve.
But the men who poured their knowledge into you
Will know you're fine and sound and worthy—
And maybe sometime, not often,
Some one will come who isn't hurrying,
And he will stop and see the glory of you—
And give you a corner
Of his heart.

On the Trail of the Lonesome Sycamore.

Regarding sycamore trees in Chicago [4-24-'39]. Speaking only for Suburbs in Horto, I can recall offhand in my own neighborhood five sycamores in Riverside, at least four in La Grange, and, in the old Congress Park section of Brookfield, three blocks of Blanchan avenue lined on both sides with sycamores from 12 to 30 inches in diameter.

We have in the forest preserves two sycamores near the McClory pioneer homestead in Palos, and lost a third from disease during the past year. In our nursery we have 5,000 seedlings and 200 transplants ready for planting along our streams and marshes.

The sycamore does not reproduce readily here. Our capricious climate, coupled with a soil condition, plus the fact that we are in a transition belt between the southern and northern vegetative types, is responsible for a peculiar dearth of native tree species, including beech, redbud, chestnut oak, scarlet oak, yellow poplar or tulip tree, flowering dogwood, rhododendron and all conifers.

A Dash of Cockney Sauce.

Apropos of the lady who changed three postcards for a stamp [4-25-'39], I am reminded of an English experience. In a London postoffice a cockney approached one of the civil service goddesses behind the counter, and said [quite civilly], "Three 'apenny stamp, please, miss." The goddess [in charge of money orders] looked haughtily at him, and, pointing to the right, said, with the condescension only possible to an irremovable careerist, "Higher up!"

He went "higher up," got his stamp, and, returning to the first goddess, affixed it to his envelope with a bang. Then he said, "Hexcuse me, miss, but if I post this 'ere letter tonight, will it get to Liverpool in the mornin'?"

"Yes, certainly," said the Barnacle lady.

"I'll bet yer a quid it won't," retorted the cockney. "It's addressed to Sheffield."

Footnote to History of Baseball.

Testimony that Abner Doubleday really invented baseball:

On the campus of Cook academy, Havana, Schuyler county, N. Y., one September afternoon in 1884, the school baseball teams were playing a hotly contested game. A grizzled veteran of the civil war was among the spectators, and when the game was over he said to the lads [I heard him]:

"You boys play ball like good soldiers. Now I'll tell you something you don't know. This game was all figured out not so many years ago by a friend of mine named Abner. He became a very good soldier, and it was a high privilege for me, later on, to take many orders from him. His last name was Doubleday."

This early baseball fan was Gen. John E. Mulford, who commanded the batteries that enfiladed and shattered Pickett's charge at Gettysburg.

The Lane Without a Name.

I see some guy writing fancy [4-25-'39] about a promenade on the north side of the river between Clark and Wells. He says it ain't wide enough for "two to pass abreast." So far as the part by Reid-Murdoch goes, maybe he means two elephants. So far as the part from La Salle to Wells is pertained to, that part looks to me like what we schoolboys call a fire escape, and not very hard to figure out, neither. His power of observation strikes me like the river does—just offal.

ERYSIPELAS YIELDS TO SULFANILAMIDE.

ONE of our most ancient and dishonorable diseases — erysipelas — continues to attack particularly those who are elderly, who are very young, or who have been weakened by illness. Among its older names were "St. Anthony's fire" and "red skin." The peculiar scarlet blush of the cuticle with its puffy, inflamed surface could scarcely be mistaken.

A century or more ago it was the cause of more surgical deaths than the operative procedures themselves and it spread from patient to patient through hospital wards with the rapidity of a conflagration. It was not until about 1800 that its contagious character was clearly demonstrated. As a result, many lives were saved by prompt isolation of those who were afflicted, thus putting an end to further dissemination.

The most susceptible seasons of the year are spring and fall when the weather man is having great difficulty in making up his mind as to the brands of climate he will deal out; when fitful gusts of chilly winds are dealt us one day and balmy sunshine another. All of which has the effect of lowering reserve and making the individual more liable to infection.

The causative organism is a strain of the streptococcus which gains entrance through a break in the epidermis that may be so tiny as to be invisible to the naked eye. Depending somewhat upon the state of health of the victim, within from one to three days the affected areas will become swollen and sore, the throat red and injected, and the temperature may be as high as 103 degrees Fahrenheit.

At first the skin becomes red, thick and spongy. Tiny blisters occur, and almost from hour to hour the progress of the malady may be seen as it extends into new territory. If the region about the eyes is involved the lids may be so engorged that sight for the time being is interfered with.

Until recent years physicians rightly viewed this ailment with a substantial amount of apprehension—certainly when the patient was over 50 years of age. Several modern improvements in treatment, however, have contributed to a marked reduction in the loss of life. First may be mentioned X-rays. Radiation seems to destroy the poison of the organism, thus permitting nature to rehabilitate the injured tissues.

Ultraviolet light is popular with many of our British and Canadian colleagues. It appears to be especially valuable with young children and infants. The dose may be quite heavy—15 to 30 minutes at the initial session—and a total of five exposures usually suffices. No protection of the face is needed other than keeping the eyes tightly closed. There seems to be no danger of producing sunburn and over, rather than under, treament is preferred. Care is taken to direct the rays to the edges of the lesions, as thes constitute the progressing portions—hence the more virulent.

In certain hospitals no other plan was employed until the advent of sulfanilamide—our third therapeutic weapon. This new remedy has now eclipsed all others, bringing on a speedy reduction of all symptoms within from four to ten days. If the drug is given with soda bicarbonate there apparently is no contra-indication to its use—at least for a reasonable period. As a rule, only three or four days of medication will be required to conquer the infection.

As with many other disorders, we can reduce greatly the incidence of erysipelas by cleanliness. In fact, keeping the fingers and hands away from the face, nose, eyes, forehead, and lips will avoid just that much additional contamination which may mean the avoidance of infection. Even with the beneficent rôle of sulfanilamide some disastrous reactions may ensue.

Prevention is so much safer. Should a case break out in the home be sure that the afflicted person is kept away from other member of the family, as we are dealing with a most pernicious contagion.

IT'S A HABIT.

H. C. C. writes: My mother, aged 52, unconsciously squeezes her fingernails into the palms of her hands until they bleed. What causes this?

REPLY.

Usually a bad habit, indicating lack of self-control. The cure is simple: file the nails so that they no longer constitute weapons.

BUT WHY?

J. H. D. writes: I am taking asafetida tablets after each meal. Can this cause any harm?

REPLY.

Probably not, but with all the pastel shades and pleasant odors and tastes of the modern pharmacy to choose from, why you pick the smelliest is beyond me.

AGENT'S COMMISSION.

Chicago, April 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—About two months ago my wife and I signed a form like the sample attached, which gave, as you will note, certain real estate agents the exclusive right to try to sell our house during a three month period. We now do not wish to sell and would like to know if the real estate agent could cause us any trouble on this account. The period expires in another month.

In 2, Corpus Juris, page 527, paragraph 151, appears: "General rule. Subject only to the exceptions that where the agent's authority is coupled with an interest, or where the authority is given as part of a security or is necessary to effectuate a security, the agency is irrevocable, the principal has absolute power to revoke an agency at any time at his mere option, either with or without reason, and thereby terminate the agent's power and authority to bind the principal by any further acts. This power to revoke an agent's authority at any time is not at all affected by the fact that there is an express or implied contract between the agent and the principal that such agency is irrevocable or that the employment of the agent shall continue for a specified time, or by the fact that the authority was conferred for a consideration, or that the agent has incurred expense in or about the business of the agency."

FEDERAL HOUSING COMPETITION.

Chicago, April 24.—THE TRIBUNE'S article [April 23] on New Deal housing projects is most enlightening. However, there is another phase of this matter that is important and that is, what the projects do to the unfortunate owners of rental property.

Take, for instance, the Julia C. Lathrop homes. This project is located in an area where perhaps 85 per cent or more of the property rents at about the same rate as the scale quoted in your article. Tenants of such places, attracted by the newness of the Lathrop project [and also some with a mistaken idea that the government will not bother them if they fail to pay their rent], have vacated comfortable quarters for this new government home and the owners of the vacated property are holding the bag by being put to the expense of long vacancies, or of obtaining new tenants, while their taxes, depreciation, etc., go steadily on.

Look at the size of the Lathrop project and figure just how many taxpayers are not only helping to pay for it but also are paying through the nose for the damage it has done to them as owners of this class of rental property.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO POLAND.

Chicago, April 21.—Just a few words answering the writer who signed his name as F. A. In your column. He can't understand why any naturalized citizen of the United States who renounced his allegiance to any foreign government should contribute to support the army of Poland.

Money that he contributes is not to be used against the United States to spread propaganda or anything else but to save the freedom and peace of the Polish people in Poland.

The money that a person sends to Poland is his own regardless of where he earns it, on the WPA or the PWA or in other private industry as long as it is earned honestly.

JOSEPH KULIGOWSKI.

A JOB FOR PARENTS.

Chicago, April 17.—Evelyn Biggs suggests that parents have a right to seek teachers who understand the individual requirement and personality of every child. I wonder how many men or women we could find capable of such understanding? As to women not being suitable teachers for boys, let us not forget the outstanding men who owe their success and fame to the influence of a widowed mother.

Remember, the teacher has the boy only four or five hours out of the twenty-four, so some of this understanding is up to the parents. Don't expect too much of the teacher, man nor woman.

NOT A TEACHER.

LET THE INTERVENTIONISTS DO THE FIGHTING.

Chicago, April 24.—I wish THE TRIBUNE would keep a record of all those loud mouthed interventionists so as to be able to check up how many of them will go to the trenches in case of war. They feel patriotic now because they approve the Washington snobs for their genuflecting attitude toward the British. I hope that Germany will get a good trouncing, but why let the British fight Germany again up to the last American? Might it be that President Roosevelt wants to solve the economic problem by having the unemployed mown down by German machine guns?

FEDERAL FUNDS AND CHICAGO PARKS.

Chicago, Jan. 28, 1937.—Your editorial this morning entitled "Feeding Gift Horses" comments upon the concern of the American Society of Landscape Architects "over the future maintenance costs of the millions of dollars' worth of new parks which municipalities throughout the country have received as a byproduct of federal work relief programs." The point does not apply to the parks of Chicago. In no single instance have federal or park funds been used to create new parks.

The program of expenditures of federal funds since park consolidation has been strictly limited to:

[a] Overcoming five years' accrued depreciation of park facilities during the five years of delinquent tax collections;

[b] Completion of improvement of existing park facilities whose acquisition was approved by vote of the people prior to park consolidation, as evidenced by affirmative majority vote on improvement bond issues;

[c] Expenditure designed to minimize future operating and maintenance costs.

While recognizing the desirable features of a program involving additional parks or recreation centers in Chicago's congested areas, the present commissioners of the Chicago park district have adhered rigidly to the policy that for the present corporate park budgets [operation and maintenance] must be held at a minimum, with no increased facilities which would result in any budget increases.

Your editorial states "the cost of maintaining those parks has likewise been concealed to date by large use for maintenance purposes of the same federally paid labor which built them." This is not a correct statement as applied to Chicago's parks. The rules of the Works Progress administration forcefully forbid the utilization of WPA labor for maintenance purposes, and this regulation, though oftentimes the park district wishes it might utilize such labor for maintenance purposes, has been strictly observed by us.

Hence we believe the citizens of Chicago should be apprised of the fact that tax levies of the Chicago park district are being zealously guarded to prevent the very result to which the American Society of Landscape Architects and your editorial have reference.

R. J. DUNHAM.
President, Chicago Park District.

CORN BREAD.

Dwight, Ill., April 22.—The news item in your paper from De Kalb, Ill., about giving dinners to help eat the farm surplus on the farms, if possible, or in the community, is both an idea for farm aid as well as an addition to social life. But why omit corn bread? It seems to me the northern states, especially their farmers, use much less corn meal than our friends all through the southern states, where it is eaten once a day in almost every home and in many every meal.

I suggest that delicious hot corn bread be added to the "ham and eggs" banquet. And whoever ate better pancakes than those with some corn meal added to the white flour?

THE CITY FARMER.

DEFENDS JUDGE BICEK.

Chicago, April 24.—I am writing in defense of Judge Bicek. Although not connected with the Juvenile court, I feel that some of the bold statements made by THE TRIBUNE are an attack on the entire field of social work. Having studied and managed problem children in Chicago as well as in St. Louis for a number of years, I feel that I am acquainted with the problems which confront our Juvenile court. The attacks on Judge Bicek, who in my estimation is one of the best Juvenile court judges of today, are an injustice to a man who has done a splendid job under severe handicaps [and these include the thoughtless heckling of THE TRIBUNE]. Because our state has failed to put at his disposal adequate facilities for the rehabilitation of incorrigibles, Judge Bicek has suddenly become a public enemy linked to politics and crime.

Can THE TRIBUNE suggest a better man? Can it suggest a better system? And can it guarantee a cure for an age-old problem, the juvenile incorrigible?

SAFETY COURT BROADCASTS.

Chicago, April 26.—Safety court broadcasts teach us a valuable lesson in safety, and I feel that their influence is valuable. However, we as citizens and taxpayers should strongly denounce the tactics employed by the assistant state's attorney now assigned to the Safety court. His badgering tactics and unfair attitudes reflect a type of justice that is not American. This morning he rudely denounced a young defendant for having his wife and baby in the courtroom, and accused the defendant [unemployed six weeks] of hanging onto his wife's apron strings because she is working until he can secure another position. Instead of public denouncement over the radio, I believe this family deserves credit for staying off the relief rolls.

DISGUSTED CITIZEN.

METAPHOR.

Chicago, April 18.—Unemployment in private industry and the subsequent need for government relief are best illustrated by the man who wears last year's suit with a government bond in the inside coat pocket.

The more money the government spends the less men we'll have at work in private industry. VERNON LENSON.

BURNS TO DEATH TRAPPED IN AUTO AFTER COLLISION

WPA Worker Killed; Five Injured in Crash.

A roadhouse party ended in tragedy early yesterday when two automobiles filled with young people collided west of the village of Addison in Du Page county.

Alvin Ott, 21 years old, 101 East Ash street, Lombard, a WPA worker, was burned to death when the car in which he was riding overturned and burned. He was trapped in the car. Five others were injured.

Ott was in a car driven by Richard Kufer, 23 years old, 137 South Stewart avenue, Lombard. The driver of the other car was Milton Schreiber, 19, of 7442 North Rockwell street. Schreiber was charged with manslaughter and was released on bonds of $2,500. He told police that Kufer drove into Mill road at Lake street and that he was unable to stop in time to avert the collision.

Dies as Auto Overturns.

Kenneth J. Grant, 28, of 712 Mulford street, Evanston, was killed and three companions were injured when their automobile overturned four times in McCormick boulevard, near Dempster street, Niles Center. They were returning from a dance in Chicago. Merle Johnson, 22, of 2039 Howard street, the driver, said the brake on a rear wheel locked as he was slowing for a trafic light.

Burton Henson, 60, of 537 South Clark street, was killed when he was struck by an automobile driven by Policeman Frank J. Callahan of the Maxwell street station at 21st street and Ashland avenue. Callahan said Henson stepped from a safety island in front of the automobile.

Car Hits Pole; One Killed.

Edward Barman, 48, of 5400 Montrose avenue, was killed when his automobile struck a light pole and a water hydrant at North and 25th avenues in Melrose Park.

Policemen Daniel Quinn and Michael Fleming of the Burnside station were silghtly injured last night when their squad car collided with another automobile at 87th street and Cottage Grove avenue as they were responding to a false burglary report.

Coroner Frank J. Walsh reported 299 automobile deaths in Cook county during the first four months of 1939 up to 4 p. m. yesterday. This was 13 more than during the corresponding period last year and 58 fewer than in the same period of 1937. Of the total killed to date, 231 met death in Chicago, where 6,249 were injured in the same period.

Despite the increase the total deaths in Cook county in April were eight fewer than last year and 38 fewer than in April, 1937. Forty-five persons were killed in April within the city limits. This compares with 54 in 1938 and 72 in 1937.

POLICE TO QUIZ GIRL WOUNDED IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Anny Blau, 19 years old, also known as Janice Eldridge, who shot herself in a suicide attempt late Saturday night, is to be questioned by police today if her condition will permit. She is in the Bridewell hospital.

The girl, whose home is in Ravinia, N. Y., registered Saturday in the Fullerton hotel, 3919 Fullerton avenue. She was found wounded at 10:30 p. m. She left a note, stating it was her third attempt at suicide and apologizing to police for the trouble she was causing.

Police found more than 100 love letters in her room. They were written to her by admirers living in the east and south. Many poems, some of which she wrote, also were found. Sergt. Robert Fitzgerald of the Shakespeare avenue station said he could not find any reason why Miss Blau should want to die. He said his investigation for possible clews might extend as far south as Texas.

M. L. ROTHSCHILD, MERCHANT, FETED ON 75TH BIRTHDAY

A reception and dinner was given last night for Maurice L. Rothschild, State street merchant, in the Drake hotel in celebration of his 75th birthday. Approximately 150 intimate friends attended. Several opera singers entertained the guests.

Mr. Rothschild was a guest of his employés at a birthday eve party given for him in the Standard club, 320 Plymouth court, Saturday night. He was presented with a gold plaque containing all the signatures of his employés.

ARABS CONCLUDE PARLEY ON NEW HOLY LAND PLANS

Draft Reply to Britain's Secret Proposals.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 30.—(AP)—Arab leaders of Egypt, Palestine, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, and Trans-Jordan concluded a two day conference today on the latest British proposals for settlement of the Palestine problem. They handed the details of their observations to British Ambassador Sir Miles Lampson for transmission to London.

Their observations were not made public but it was understood that if they were accepted by the British government the Arab states were prepared to pledge themselves to recommend that Palestine Arabs coöperate in carrying out the British policy and cease disturbances.

British Proposals Secret.

Britain's proposals were secret also but were understood to include full independence for Palestine after a ten year transition period in which Arabs and Jews would have an opportunity to become accustomed to joint self-government. Jewish immigration would be limited to 15,000 persons annually for five years and then stopped entirely.

Palestine now is held by Britain under a league of nations mandate. New British proposals for settlement of the Palestine problem first were brought to Cairo on April 12 by the Egyptian ambassador to London, Nashaat Pasha.

Arab Dominated State.

They were reported at the time to include amendments to Britain's "final plan" to establish an Arab dominated state with Jews as a minority people.

This "final plan" was reported accepted by the British cabinet on March 15, after the failure of the British, Arab, and Jewish delegates to reach an agreement at the Palestine conference in London. Both Jews and Arabs rejected the scheme.

JOE SALTIS, DRY ERA BEER BARON, ILL IN HOSPITAL

Joe Saltis, former prohibition beer peddler, who is being sued for divorce by his wife, Anna, is in the Holy Cross hospital for treatment, it was learned yesterday. No statement was given as to his illness, but his condition was reported as fair. Mrs. Saltis will appear before Judge Rudolph F. Desort in the Superior court today to seek temporary alimony pending hearing of the suit. She is 43 years old and was married to Saltis in 1912. They have four children. Her suit charges Saltis with cruelty.

U. OF I. WOMEN EXCEL MEN IN SCHOLARSHIP

Urbana, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Women were better students than men and non-fraternity men were better students than fraternity men, at the University of Illinois last semester, it was revealed in a study released today. Sorority women ranked higher scholastically than co-eds living in dormitories or rooming houses.

Under a scoring system giving 5 for the highest grade, 4 for the next, etc., the average for all University of Illinois students during the first semester this school year was found to be 3.2914; for all women, 3.4358, and for all men, 3.2509. For non-fraternity men the average was 3.2575, and for fraternity men, 3.2357. For sorority women it was 3.5703, for the co-eds living in dormitories, 3.5194, and for those in rooming houses, 3.4656.

First ranking fraternity in scholarship was Alpha Chi Sigma, followed by Alpha Chi Rho and Alpha Kappa Lambda. Highest ranking sorority was Kappa Kappa Gamma, followed by Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Gamma, and Alpha Omicron Pi.

Departs to Seek Pardon for "Love Prisoner" Sister

Mrs. Hazel Strickland Jones of Harvey, Ill., yesterday left for Kentucky, where she will ask Gov. A. B. Chandler to pardon her sister, Miss Ruth Strickland, 22 year old Harvey girl who had herself sent to prison because the man she loves is engaged to some one else. Miss Strickland is in the women's state prison at La Grange, Ky., under sentence of one to ten years for attempting a holdup in Paducah, Ky.

Farm Outlook Brighter

A week of fair weather has changed a gloomy crop outlook into a bright one at the Du Page county farm. At the beginning of last week virtually no field work had been done on the place because of wet grounds. Now there are about forty acres of oats in and seeded with grasses and legumes, gardens have been started, feed yards have been cleaned, and the litter spread on fields, strawberry beds have been uncovered, and young lambs are grazing in the open pastures.

Workers were kept out of the fields only half a day last week, folowing a rain on Tuesday night. The sun and wind soon dried the surface of the ground in fields that had been plowed last fall.

Planting Far Behind.

The first oats were sown on April 26. Last year oat seeding was finished on this place April 23. The men hope to finish sowing oats early this week. With favorable weather they expect to get some corn planted before Saturday night.

Most of the oats that were seeded last week were put on ground that had been fall plowed. Land that was in corn last year still was too wet to work.

An unusual amount of work went into the preparation of seed beds for the oats, but the manager said it was advisable in order to insure a good stand, free from weeds. He always wants a good seed bed for oats, but more particular about it when the crop is sown late in the season. Weeds are more likely to give trouble then.

By working the surface of the soil thoroughly, most of the young weeds and weed seeds in the surface layer are killed. Then if the oats and grass seedings are put in immediately the plants have a chance to start growth ahead of the weeds. This not only gives a cleaner stand, but allows fewer weeds to mature and form seeds during the summer.

Use End Gate Seeder.

The oats were seeded at the rate of two and a quarter bushels per acre. They were put in with an end gate seeder that sows a strip thirty feet wide. A mixture of red clover and timothy was sown in with part of the oats. The mixture was made up of one part clover and two parts timothy seeds by weight. It was put on at the rate of twenty pounds per acre.

Alfalfa was sown in one field of oats. It also was seeded at the rate of twenty pounds per acre. This is considered a heavy seeding, but the men find that they get better stands when they use plenty of seed.

Double Disc Ground.

In preparing the seed beds, the ground, which was plowed last fall, was double disked. Then it was gone over with a spring tooth harrow with a spike tooth harrow hitched on behind. The oats were broadcast and the ground was disked lightly with a spike tooth harrow attached to the disk.

Next the grass and legume seeds were broadcast and the ground was given another light disking with a spike tooth harrow hitched to the disk. This covered the seeds and left the surface smooth and level.

Critic Amazed by Virtuosity of Duo-Pianists

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The jolt of the week-end was the recital of Vera Gillette and Vincent Micari in Kimball hall last night. These local duo-pianists, both in their twenties, put on an amazing demonstration of musical intelligence and technical virtuosity.

Their Mozart playing was filled with a classical light and serenity, the result of an exquisite attention to detail plus a determination that the glory of the moment actually at hand should never blind them to the place of this moment in the phrase and the movement and the sonata as a whole. Those intoxicating balancings of parase against phrase and those infinitly subtle lingerings and pressings forward not only enriched the piece with an almost intolerable beauty of detail but also fitted into the total scheme as naturally as pearls into a pendant.

The "Sonatine Transatlantique" of Tansman was as idiomatic in its violently differing way as the Mozart. Occasionally the playing became too brittle and overly percussive, as if the performers had forgotten for the moment that you must woo the ear first if the large expressive content of a piece is going to get over.

In the Great Northern yesterday Stanley Fletcher and the Illinois Symphony orchestra, Albert Goldberg conducting, gave a stimulating performance of Powell's "Rhapsodie Negre" for piano and orchestra. The piece had both primitive vigor and somber mysticism. Mr. Fletcher's tone quality in the slow section was remarkable for the darkly luminous quality with which he managed to endow it. The finale had great sweep and splendid technical ease.

The Rubbra orchestration of the Brahms-Handel Variations served only to prove that Brahms knew what he was doing when he chose the piano to provide the basic tone coloring of the work. The new arrangement loses the gray splendor of the original medium without adding a single discernible value of its own.

The Raisa-Rimini school of opera put on a diverting performance of Pergolesi's 200 year old comic opera, "La Serva Padrona" at the Civic theater yesterday. The laughing little opera profited by the services in the rôle of Uberto of Giacomo Rimini himself.

At this performance Chicago enjoyed a preview of Virginia Haskins, the 'teen age soprano who has been signed by the Chicago City Opera company for this year. She has an endearing combination of good theatrical sense and extreme girlishness of appearance. Her voice is pretty and well focused, her musicianship excellent.

PAULIST CHOIR RECITAL

BY CECIL SMITH.

The celebrated Paulist choristers of Chicago inaugurated their thirty-fifth season in Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon with a varied program under the direction of their able and erudite leader, Father O'Malley. A capacity audience which included many prominent patrons indicated that the choir continues to attract hearty public support.

Whether they are intent upon the floating melodic lines of Vittoria's sixteenth century polyphony or the tricky chromatic key changes of Palmgren, Elgar, and Stanford, the choristers sing with ease and conviction. Under Father O'Malley's stern discipline the men and the boys alike have developed a well unified and blended tone. The fact that Father O'Malley's particular kind of tone leads to distorted vowels and unclear diction is not important, so long as the words are printed in the program and so long as the resulting tone is good.

A special feature of the afternoon was a performance of one of Josef Rheinberger's two settings of the "Stabat Mater." This year is the centennial of the German composer, who was born March 17, 1839. It is appropriate to notice the anniversary in America, since few musicians of the late nineteenth century exercised a comparable influence upon the compositions of such American pioneers as Edward MacDowell and George Chadwick. The "Stabat Mater" itself is intrinsically hardly worth reviving, since the vocal writing is uninteresting and the harmonic style redundant and overripe.

Soloists from the choir were Walter Curran, George Lane, John Lynch, and Billy Watson. Robert Sheehan at the piano and Arthur C. Becker at the organ provided expert assistance.

Zerline Muhlman Metzger and her Fine Arts opera continued their ambitious project of presenting all of Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelungs" with a performance of "Die Walküre" in Kimball hall. With a simple but evocative abstract setting the staging had an air of credibility. A single piano is hardly enough dynamic support, but at least it permitted Mrs. Muhlman's student singers to show their comprehension of the Wagner style without tearing their young voices to pieces.

In the Auditorium Recital hall Lillian Nathan demonstrated that her pianism has more fluency than formerly. In a Haydn sonata in E minor she showed two major limitations: She is unable to choose or hold a suitable tempo; and she does not hear the cruel extent to which abrupt and savage accentuations destroy the proportion of her playing.

The Collegium Musicum of the University of Chicago presented an all-Bach program in Joseph Bond chapel last evening. The chief items were two sacred cantatas, number 105, "Herr, gehe nicht ins Gericht," and number 78, "Jesu, der du meine Seele." Apart from a chamber orchestra and a small chorus, both composed of university students, the participants were Henrietta Chase, soprano; Alice Mary Baenziger, contralto; Julian Miller, tenor; Paul Hume, baritone, and Ruth Archipley, organist. Siegmund Levarie conducted simply and unaffectedly, making no attempt to gild the lily.

Diplomatic Decorators.

The first 1939 spring decorating story to come to hand concerns the woman who wanted her apartment decorated while she was out of town and who left the painters an ash tray as a sample of the special shade she wanted the ceilings painted. The painters tried vainly to mix the exact shade she specified. Finally they painted the ash tray, then the ceiling. The woman was delighted with the results when she returned.

Misgivings.

When Gen. Hugh Johnson's famous secretary, Robbie, was queried over long distance wire as to what his subject would be when he speaks tonight at a members' fellowship dinner at the Lake Shore Athletic club, she answered, "The general says his subject will be National and International Affairs, unless we have a war by Monday, in which case he may want to change it."

Women Fed Up.

"If they want two pioneers, may I go, too? I've camped in the bush, heard the wolves howl, and packed saddlebags. I'm a pretty fair shot and a first rate cook, and so fed up on offices and 'propositions.' Frederica."

* * *

Frederica, in her letter, adds: I am very much in earnest. I've tried and tried to think of some way of making contacts. . . . I know mining and spent my college vacations running a camp in the Wind River mountains, but mining camps prefer men and dude ranches want some one with rich friends. If this woman gets results, I shall certainly try my luck. Please announce her results, will you?

We're not sure, but we think there's something significant in the advertisment and in Frederica's letter. Proof of another step in the evolution of women. Evidence of a cycle completed, perhaps.

Many Chicago and N. Shore Families Move

BY JUDITH CASS.

MAY 1, traditional moving day, finds moving plans occupying the time and minds of many. Some are making permanent moves; others, just temporary ones, such as from a city apartment to a country house.

The J. Beach Clows have given up their apartment at 70 Cedar street and are moving today to Lake Forest for a year. They have taken Mrs. Taylor Strawn's house. Mrs. Inez Stark has taken the apartment the Clows are vacating. She is moving from 1430 Lake Shore drive.

The Walter S. Brewsters are making the most of every minute now that they are back in their beloved Lake Forest home after four months in Honolulu, for they aren't going to be on the north shore during the summer months. They've rented their house to the George A. Ranneys, starting June 15, and Mr. and Mrs. Brewster will spend the summer in their summer town house, a delightful, high ceilinged, cool place in Lake View avenue.

That is, they will spend the summer there unless conditions abroad change so that Mr. and Mrs. Brewster feel like carrying out their original intention of going abroad for part of the summer.

Two Families Move to Libertyville.

The Ward Farnsworths of Lake Forest have moved to a house in the woods by the Des Plaines river, near Libertyville. The junior Philip B. Hosmers moved to Libertyville ten days ago to spend a year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Paul Martin Jr. have moved into the old Horace Martin home, which they purchased last fall from Lloyd A. Laflin. The house has been done over completely. The James Millers have taken the junior James M. Hopkinses' home opposite the Winter club. The Edward Arpees have moved into a new home at 383 Washington road, Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick Blair have opened their Lake Forest home for the summer.

Mrs. John W. Gary will move from her Lake Shore drive apartment to her home in Glencoe on May 10.

The William N. Pelouzes expect to open their Lake Geneva home on June 1. They spend the winters in an apartment in the Webster hotel.

Mrs. Mary B. Dickinson and Miss Rose Dickinson opened their summer home in St. Joseph, Mich., over the week-end. Miss Dickinson had a house in Cuernavaca, Mexico, this winter.

Frances Jeffery Becomes Easterner's Bride Today.

Chicago's first May bride is to be Miss Frances Clarke Jeffery, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Clarke Jeffery. She will be married at 4 o'clock this afternoon to Harris Fahnestock Jr. of New York and Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Fahnestock of New York.

The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock in the Banks street home of the bride's aunt, Miss Frances Whedon, with whom Miss Jeffery has made her home for several years. It will be Miss Whedon who will give the bride away, but Miss Jeffery's cousin, Edmund J. Doering II., will be her escort to the altar that is being improvised in the spacious living room of the house.

Standing before a portrait of the bride's great-grandmother, the late Mrs. George W. White of New York, the Rev. John Timothy Stone will read the service. To make the occasion of particular sentimental interest, the bride will wear the same dainty wreaths Mrs. White wore to fasten her bridal veil in 1856.

Only the families and a few intimate friends will attend the marriage ceremony, but a large reception will follow at 5 o'clock at the Casino. Receiving with the bride and bridegroom and Miss Whedon will be Mr. Fahnestock's parents and Mrs. Russell T. Foster of Cleveland Heights, O., and Edward Sexton of Boston, who will be the only attendants.

Mr. Fahnestock and his bride will fly by Clipper to Bermuda, where

School Days: Modern Style

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

School days were never like this a generation ago, but part of Ruth Ashenhurst's duties at the Francis Parker school, where she is a primary student, is to help their mother look after Mutt and Jeff. Needless to say, this is more intriguing to Ruth and her schoolmates than learning to print their names or add up sums. Mutt and Jeff are only a month old.

White Girdles Are Available for the Brides

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Elaborate wedding wardrobes and simple trousseaux for equally simple ceremonies all start with smooth foundations. Smart shoppers start with the proper girdle and the proper fit of that girdle. The rest of the problems are easy.

Girdles for brides are sleek affairs in gleaming white satins and stunning dull white silk crêpes with all the lovely detail work found only on such important pieces. One bridal model has embroidery in the center panel. Either the girdle with matching lacy brassiere or the long slenderizing all-in-one is obtainable. Another beauty is of the shiniest imaginable white satin, with side panels of satin lastex. The satin forms scrolls in decorative design around the brassiere and over the diaphragm.

The dull white crêpe model has slender front panels fagoted together. The brassiere top is made of exquisitely fine Alençon lace in dead white. Gleaming satin shoulder straps and bits of satin ribbon that conceal the garters are details that combine to make the perfect bridal foundation.

All of these girdles are featherweight, all have been cut and designed by experts. There is not a bone in any of them. What each and every model, be it girdle or one piece, does toward providing a glamorous streamline for the wedding gown is magic. A new idea just launched this season is the introduction of the blue note: a white girdle and a lovely French blue brassiere. Or you can choose a matching cloud blue girdle and a blue brassiere or a blue girdle and a white brassiere. Altogethers come in this shade of pale blue, too.

Hoover Will Pay Tribute to Scott at N. U. Ceremony

Former President Herbert Hoover will be one of the principal speakers to pay tribute tonight to Dr. Walter Dill Scott, retiring president of Northwestern university. Today is Dr. Scott's 70th birthday. Alumni who do not attend the ceremonies in Orchestra hall may listen to a broadcast on station WMAQ from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

Mr. Hoover, himself an engineer, will speak about technology and research in engineering. The program honoring Dr. Scott will be the wind-up of a drive to raise funds for Scott hall, a student center and community auditorium to be built on the Northwestern campus as a tribute to the retiring president. He will break ground for the structure at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The program also dovetails with the annual candle lighting service of Northwestern alumni throughout the country. Dr. Scott will light the giant purple candle in Old College, on the campus, by remote control this evening.

Other speakers in Orchestra hall will include Glenn Frank, who will tell of Dr. Scott's achievements in the academic field, and Maj. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commander of the 6th corps area, who will relate the retiring president's patriotic service in the world war.

Catholic Theater Will Open Series of 14 Events on May 10

The first American Catholic play cycle, consisting of nine stage productions and five drama seminars, will be presented by the Chicago Catholic Theater cycle at Loyola Community theater. The series will open May 10 and continue through May 21. The sponsor organization is headed by Everett F. Quinn. It is composed of fifteen Catholic college, university, and little theater groups of the Chicago district. Nine of the groups will present plays.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Here is an effective drama of the stage, having all the tried and true characteristics that have always made such dramas "box office."

It tells the story of a married couple who start their career as beer garden entertainers. . . . The wife, more assured and gregarious than her music composing husband, whose inferiority complex keeps him in backgrounds and whose firecrackery temper is forever getting the two of them in bad with employers, becomes a Broadway star. . . .

Her success separates the Seymours for a while, but nothing—at least in the movies — can keep true love crushed to earth, and, in this instance, it does a phœnix, and the ending is vurr' vurr' felicitous. [For all but Mr. Ian Hunter, the guy who loves and loses.]

Jeanette MacDonald as Mary is all that the many admirers who crowned her "queen" could possibly desire. Outside of her voice her friendliness is, I think, her greatest asset. And the cozy way she wears an apron is enough to set any bachelor thinking wistfully of how comfortable it would be to have somebody like her waiting at home for him of an evening. [Says which, Mr. Raymond?]

Lew Ayres, steadily mounting the ladder of his successful "comeback," plays the sulky, lovable James to perfection. You'll enjoy, too, Ian Hunter, Frank Morgan, and other members of the excellent cast.

The film is splendidly staged and has some lovely music, both modern and classical. It also has considerable to boast of in the line of unusual effects.

See you tomorrow.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Alter of 6156 Sheridan road announce the marriage on April 23 of their daughter, Isabel Mary, to Shumway Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Bird of Springfield, Ill. The bride is a graduate of Rosemont college in Pennsylvania and Mr. Bird was graduated from the University of Illinois. They will make their home in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gartman of 4452 North Whipple street announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Marcella, to Norman S. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Young of 3314 Eastwood avenue. The wedding will take place on June 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Straus of Glencoe announce the marriage on April 7 of their daughter, Janet, to Dr. Robert Henner of Chicago.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

So This Is Broadway

New York, April 30.—This is what a Hollywood columnist found on his first day on Broadway: In Sardi's Katharine Hepburn of the cinema munching reflectively on a sandwich. . . . Eleanor Powell of the cinema signing autographs at the Loew State stage door. . . . Billy Gilbert of the cinema massaging the shapely back of the cinema's Shirley Ross back stage at the Paramount. . . . Laurence Olivier kibitzing while workmen dug an excavation at 44th and 7th. . . . Sylvia Sidney, Sam Jaffe, and Franchot Tone taking a breather in the Belasco alley. . . . On the Roxy stage Art Jarrett. . . . At 47th and 5th Fredric March reading the results of the Wood handicap at Jamaica [he bet on El Chico]. . . . Raymond Massey hailing a cab outside St. Patrick's cathedral. . . . Robert Morley asking directions of a trafic cop. . . . Joan Bennett and the Ray Bolgers in the lobby of the Sherry-Netherlands, and Johnny Weissmuller in a huddle with Boris Morros. . . . So this is Broadway?

That experience at Omaha was breath taking. . . . Did I tell you about the dinner that was served to 3,000 people in eighteen minutes at Omaha, with another 3,000 sitting in the grand stands as silent witnesses? . . . The waiters, hundreds of them, started serving on the note of a bugle and continued serving and clearing away to the tempo of a band. . . . In eighteen minutes they served 3,000 dinners with less fuss than would attend your brewing a cup of tea in your own kitchen.

You find in New York, just as you found in Chicago and Omaha, that the favorite topic of conversation is Bette Davis. . . . The country seems to be engaged in lauding her to the skies as the result of her performance in "Dark Victory," and it is one of the few Hollywood topics that produces unanimity of opinion. . . . To the country at large she is the No. 1 actress of the film colony. . . . Paul Muni and Spencer Tracy seem to be most favored among the men.

Omaha, with a large sprinkling of Irish descendants of the men who built the Union Pacific railroad, had one fault to find with it, a boner that completely escaped me. . . . At a party given by Banker Francis McDermott after the preview quite a few of the guests objected to the scene in which McCrea is about to shoot Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Preston and then kill himself rather than submit to Indian torture. . . . "Inasmuch as they were Irish characters in the picture," pointed out one elderly guest, "they couldn't countenance suicide. Mr. De Mille had better eliminate that before he runs into church objections. We know that it was nothing more than an accidental mistake, but from our standpoint it is a grievous error."

Lynn Overman, teamed with Akim Tamiroff, did a job of picture stealing in "Union Pacific" that delighted the midwest audiences. . . . Overman and Tamiroff did about everything but wrap up the picture and put it into their pockets.

It was not surprising that Overman finally scored importantly, because his stage background made him an odds-on favorite in any Hollywood sweepstakes. . . . This, however, was the first rôle exactly suited to his peculiar dryness of humor and delivery, and he really made the most of it. . . . Oddly enough, Overman scored while wearing a beard and, like most actors, he hasn't high opinion of performers who emote from the protection of whiskers. . . . Actors say that it is tougher to be good without any facial props, and for that reason Spencer Tracy is an actor's actor.

Illinois Women's Clubs Will Open Convention Today

The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will open its forty-fourth annual state convention this morning at the Hotel Sherman with greetings from Mayor Kelly and a representative of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Approximately 2,000 leaders are expected to attend the three day meeting.

"America—Which Way?—Adjusting Democracy to Human Welfare" will be the theme of the program. R. V. Fletcher, vice president and general counsel of the American Association of Railroads; Dr. E. H. Reeder, professor of education at the University of Illinois, and Guy Carleton Hickok, chairman of the international division of the National Broadcasting company, will be among speakers at today's sessions.

The president's reception will follow Mr. Hickok's address this evening. Mrs. William T. Bruckner of Hinsdale is state president.

The River Bend Feud

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1939: By William MacLeod Raine.)

SYNOPSIS.

Jeff Hunter, an American mining engineer, awaits execution in a Mexican jail by order of Pancho Banderas, rebel leader. A peon friend helps him escape to Texas. Jeff meets Joan Raleigh, lost in the vastness of her feudal estate, and assists her home, where he meets her brothers, Bill and Phil, and Phil's wife, Mary Lou. When they learn Jeff went to college with their cousin, Raeburn, he is invited to be their guest. In a surprise encounter with Banderas, who has been routed from Mexico, Jeff disarms the bandit and his men. An old feud against the Raleighs is being renewed under the leadership of Butler Lane, suspected of poisoning their aunt, his wife, and forging her will. Banderas joins Lane. Jeff counsels diplomacy. He offers to be an envoy of good will among the better element.

INSTALMENT XIII.

AN ENVOY OF GOOD WILL.

Hunter, watching Phil, was suprised to miss in his voice and manner the instant sharp refusal he had expected.

"You must be a mind reader, Mr. Hunter," Mary Lou laughed. She glanced at her husband, choosing her words not to offend him. "Phil has been thinking along that line for some time. So has Rae. About the roads anyhow. They have even talked about letting some of the decent folks outside hunt our brush under restrictions."

"Yes," the older brother answered. "But not under coercion. We don't admit anybody has any rights over this ranch except ourselves. If we made a move now our enemies would think we were afraid."

"This thing has to be fought out and one side whipped," Bill said lightly. "After that we can afford to be generous, but not now. . . . I say, is Rae coming to dinner tonight?"

"He hasn't said," Phil answered. "Better give him a call."

Jeff understood that the subject was closed, for the time at least.

Rae grinned at his friend. They were riding across a prairie thick with grass upon which fat cattle grazed. For several days Jeff had been staying with him at the Diamond Tail.

"Talked with Joan over the 'phone this morning," he said. "From what she said I gather you handed the family a little good advice."

"The more fool I," Jeff answered ruefully.

"Not so sure about that," Rae differed. "Fact is, we need some one who will talk turkey to us once in a while. We're too stiff. All of us know it, though we don't generally admit it. I think there's something to your idea of making overtures to some of the settlers neighboring the ranch. But we can't do it . . . not just now. The riffraff would think we were afraid, and they would be encouraged to shoot the works against us."

"My idea was to leave the riffraff out of it and deal only with a few responsible ranchers and planters," Hunter explained. "I can see that it is difficult for any of you to make a move, even though you are anxious to avoid trouble. Why not let me talk with some of their leaders and see if they won't work for peace? I'd think something might come of it."

Raleigh did not answer at once. He looked ahead of him, eyes harrowed, at something lying huddled near the edge of a clump of mesquite. Riding forward at a trot, he swung from the saddle. What he saw was a cow and a calf, both dead. They had been shot through the forehead.

When Rae lifted his eyes, they were hard and cold as jade. "You see the scoundrels with whom we have to deal. How can one be reasonable with fellows who sneak in and shoot helpless stock because they hate us? To hell with concessions. We've got to fight." He stooped and felt the skin of the cow. "Still warm. Not killed more than half an hour ago."

He rode across to the mesquite, dismounted, and zigzagged into the thicket. Rae joined him, and for several minutes they quartered over the ground looking for sign. They moved cautiously, searching with wary eyes every clump of cactus and every bit of huisache that might conceal a man. Presently they found where a horse had been waiting, and on the sand near by, two .30-30 shells, one of them trodden into the ground after it had been ejected from the rifle. Except this evidence he had been here the killer had left no other but the dead cow and calf. No doubt, by this time he was pushing through thickets and swamps for the boundary fence with the fear of pursuit riding on his shoulders. He had done what he came to do and was gone.

"They burned down a line rider's cabin on the Rex R last night," Rae said harshly, all the gay youth driven from his face. "I learned it over the phone from Phil just before we started from the house. Notice is being served on us that the war has begun. Presently a horse will come back to its stable with a bloodstained saddle and we'll find the rider lying dead in the brush."

"It looks as if they are crowding you," Jeff agreed.

"We'll do some of the crowding now," Rae predicted, anger gleaming through his narrowed lids.

"Is this some of Dave Mallow's deviltry? I mean, did he hire the scoundrel who did it? Or is Butler Lane at Trail End himself?"

"Lane drove down from San Antonio last night with one of his plug-uglies to guard him. Three others came on the train a few hours earlier."

"Your information bureau functions pretty well."

"We keep an eye on the scoundrel. He isn't going to get away with anything if we can help it."

Faint wrinkles creased the forehead of the engineer. "Has he fixed up an alliance with the outside ranchmen?" he asked.

"I wouldn't know about that," Raleigh answered. "But if he hasn't he will."

"Which I don't reckon we will now. Hell! Let all the scalawags ride together. We'll know who our enimies are then."

"All your neighbors can't be villains, Rae. It's up to you to join up with the decent ones and try to stop this trouble before it goes too far. Give me a list of them and let me drive around as a kind of envoy of good will. Even if it doesn't do any good I can come back with a mighty good idea of where people stand and who your more active enemies are."

Rae admitted that it would be a good idea. "I'll talk to Phil about it and let you know. There's a Norwegian cattleman named Carl Nielsen who looks like an honest man. He's stiff as a poker, and he hates our outfit like poison, but I can't see him as a close friend of Lane. By the way, he has a daughter worth seeing. She looks like a Norse goddess."

A thin smile broke the line of Hunter's mouth. "I'd be more interested in seeing her father just now. Anybody else in the doubtful column?"

"O, they're none of them doubtful. They all have a knife out for us. Only question is, how far will each one go? Rannigan and Sowder and Fidler are the scum of the earth. I wouldn't say that about Gurley and Boss, who are friends of Nielsen and live up the same valley he does. Don't get me wrong. I haven't any use for any of them." Rae's face broke into a grin. "I'm trying to give you shades of turpitude."

His friend took the thrust in perfect good humor. "Lord, no! We're a bunch of stiffnecked highheaded autocrats with no sense of realities. How is that for a lot of big words? We act as if we were God's anointed, as that scamp Mallow said in the drugstore. What we need is a first class licking, but we don't intend to take one if we can help it."

"Since you realize your defects there ought to be some hope of mending them," Jeff said.

There was a conference at the Big House that night, at which Jeff Hunter was present. He could not say that either Phil or his brother were enthusiastic supporters of his idea of conciliation. They felt it would not get results, but at least they could point out later that they had made an effort to avoid trouble.

"Good of you to take on this job, Jeff," Phil said. "We appreciate it no end, considering that after all you have no official standing and can't make any promises. All you can say is that you have talked with us and that you are convinced we'll make concessions after this trouble is ended. If any one pushes you as to what concessions, you may mention roads through our property and certain hunting rights on parts of the game preserve under strict regulation. Other causes of difference can be adjusted later. But understand we're not promising a thing, not as long as we are being attacked."

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Few American dishes are so variously prepared as potato salad. The simplest potato salad consists of diced or sliced potatoes, well seasoned, combined with onion and dressing. But most of us prefer to add more ingredients. Some cooks put in other vegetables and many seasonings, everything, as the common expression goes, but the kitchen sink.

Be the ingredients few or many, the salad will be good if it's well seasoned. Boil or steam the potatoes for salad. Slice thickly or thinly, or cut them into cubes. Sprinkle well with salt while they are still warm. If you want the salad to be at its best, add dressing and onion while the potatoes are warm, too. Since warm potatoes are hard to handle without breaking or mashing, do not attempt to mix the salad thoroughly until it is completely cold.

Basic Potato Salad

[Serves three]

2 cups diced or sliced cooked potatoes
2 tablespoons chopped onion or cut chives
About ¾ cup dressing.

Have potatoes warm and seasoned with salt when onion and dressing are added. The dressing may be mayonnaise, cooked dressing, or a combination of either with sour cream. Chili sauce may be added if desired.

ADDED INGREDIENTS.

[More ingredients will make more servings, in most cases.]

EGG AND PICKLE: Add two sliced or diced hard cooked eggs and two tablespoons chopped dill or sweet pickle to the previous recipe.

CELERY: Add one-half cup or more sliced celery. Good with egg and pickle additions.

GREEN PEPPER, PIMIENTO: A tablespoon of either, chopped, or one of each, may be added to the basic salad.

CUCUMBER, RADISH: A half cup of crisp diced or sliced cucumbers or radishes may be added just before the salad is served.

MEATS: Diced salami, frankfurters, Vienna sausage, crisp bacon, pieces of anchovy or sardines may be added in proportion to satisfy the cook.

OTHER VEGETABLES: A cup or more of cooked peas, diced beets, or sliced tomato, or of all three vegetables, may be included.

CONDIMENTS, SPICES, AND OTHER SEASONINGS: Pickle relish, catsup, chili sauce, capers, minced parsley, celery salt, celery seed, tabasco sauce [a few drops only], paprika, cayenne pepper [a speck], all are welcome to salad, if used with discrimination, and not all in one salad.

Whatever you add to the basic salad, be sure to have the combination well chilled. It always is better after it has stood a few hours, for the flavors then have had a chance to blend and be absorbed. Serve on watercress, chicory, lettuce, or young spinach leaves.

It is my opinion that any potato salad is better for something crisp in its composition. Therefore I almost always use celery, pickle, cucumber, or radishes to give variety in texture, no matter what over ingredients and seasonings I employ.

Potato salad making seems to be an individual matter with cooks. What combination one uses will be spurned for something else by the next. That is why, instead of giving several full recipes for potato salad, I have suggested a simple base and listed the variations which may be made.

Sometimes It's Hairdo Making Hat Ridiculous

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

What makes some of the hats so ridiculous, said an acquaintance the other day, is not always the hat itself but its hairdo companion. "Look at that girl over there!" she said.

That girl over there had a long, loose bob with only its end permanented and curled. An egg-sized chapeau was titled over one eye, leaving an enormously long line and a disproportionate one from head crown to hair ends. That's what is meant by ill-mated pairs in hat and coiffure partnerships.

Buying a becoming hat isn't the simple matter of elimination any more. You used to know whether it was a daytime hat you wanted or a little dressy number. Then you tried on and tried on until you found a hat for the occasion. But now it is definitly a hat for your coiffure that you want.

Hats do make such a difference in our appearance. One can put on years and add an unconscionable amount of hardness with the wrong one.

We lunched not long ago with a woman who'd just been hatted by a milliner at $35 a chapeau. She is one of those adorably rounded, soft voiced, soft mannered women one associates with happy marriage and a happy family life. What that hat did to her was a crime.

We women have got to beat this unbecoming hat racket somehow, and the best way we feel that it can be done is to force becomingness and flattery. Hold out for it. And, in the interim, consider the hat as having to sit upon our own individual style of coiffure. Out of this latter decision will come some degree of success.

If the hair is cut short, so that only half the ear shows, a small hat is becoming. If you wear the hair frankly up, the small hat tipped down in front is good.

But with a long bob your classic swagger or widish brimmed hat is more flattering. Don't exaggerate that long, unbroken line of hair in the back or it will look like a flowing mane.

Providing Essential Foods Is First Care in Feeding Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

I've just been looking over a book, which was bought some months ago but which I have not yet had a chance really to read. It is "Bird Flight," by Gordon C. Aymar. [Dodd, Mead & Co.], a book of remarkable photographs and able, though brief, text—a book, incidentally, for the young naturalist-scientist [in his widdle or late teens] as well as for adults.

Mr. Aymar says: "The care birds give their young during the nesting period is unceasing. A house wren has been recorded, actually recorded, that is, as feeding its young 1,217 times during the daylight of one day. Under good hunting conditions, birds of prey sometimes bring home so much food that the surplus has to be stacked at the side of the nest."

Food—food—food—that's what they must have, nestling or human young—plenty of it, and the right kind. Without it they cannot grow, develop, and be well and happy.

Today, May day, is Child Health day. And this year many communities are placing emphasis, in their celebration, on nutrition. And in any emphasis on nutrition in general a special emphasis is always placed on the most important foods; the protective foods they have been called, because they protect the fundamental health of a child—they are the foods actually required by the body.

These foods are: Milk, vegetables, and fruits, whole grain cereals, and bread, eggs, lean meat, fish or poultry, and cod liver oil. This doesn't mean you can't add other foods. But those other foods must not take the place of the protective foods.

Musicians Club of Women Hears Rudolph Ganz Today

The musicians club of women will meet for the last time this season at a noon breakfast in the Crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel. Rudolph Ganz will speak on "Honor in Music" and Raymond Koch, baritone, will sing, accompanied by Miss Helen Hawk Carlisle.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

If we didn't like the short hair vogue for anything else we'd like it for being such a great boon to the woman of 40 and over. Have you noticed how trim, how dignified, and how extremely flattering it is to the woman with grayish hair and a mature face?

There is an undeniable downward sag to the average middle aged face. This impression of a downward sag is only intensified if the hair is permitted to tumble down toward the shoulder blades. Not only does it look messy, but it seems also a misguided effort to follow the fashions of the very young.

Only the youthful can get away successfully with long, tumbled locks. The mature woman should keep hair well off her shoulders, and the best line about the face is one that goes upward rather than downward, that gives at least the illusion of lift to the drooping contour. If she has a double chin she should be particularly careful not to arrange her hair low at the sides in a fashion that adds to the bulky effect.

The heavy set woman looks better usually with short hair. The more weight you pile on the more fastidious you must be about trimness—and this applies to coiffure most especially. Keep your hair trimmed fairly short, softly waved, and shining clean and you won't look nearly so stout.

To Flatter Mature Figures

WOMAN'S FROCK.

Designed to flatter the mature figure, this simple yet dressy frock is perfect for both informal social wear and for your hours at home. If you have been having wardrobe problems because your silhouette is overweight, we know you will welcome this pattern.

The simple neckline is left without a collar, but that does not mean that it is lacking in smartness. There is shirring at either side of it, originating below the novel shoulder yoke. The sleeves are puffed at the shoulders and may be either long or short. The buttons may be used only on the waist or may extend the length of the dress. Pockets, if you desire them, are provided for. If you make the dress for wear at home you undoubtedly will choose a cotton material, in which case a finish of rickrack braid, as illustrated at the left, will be in order.

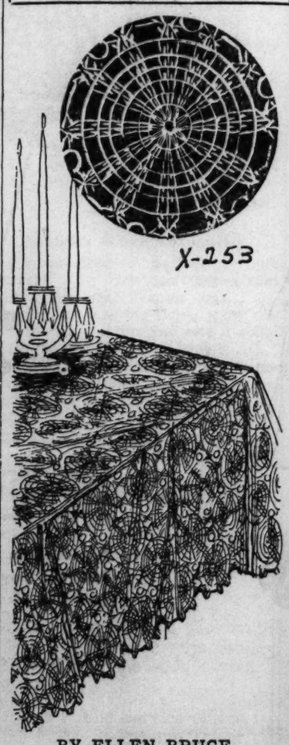
Clotilde patterns are 10 cents each. Address orders to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

SpiderWebDesign Lends Daintiness to a Tablecloth



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Those who prefer only the finest and wispiest of crochet items will do well to consider this spider web tablecloth crocheted of the finest linen with an equally fine crochet hook. These medallions are joined together and then dipped in a light starch solution. When pressed, the medallions create the delicate illusion of a myriad of spider webs.

For the instructions in crocheting the spider web medallion tablecloth of linen, No. X-253, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Kettering gave a tea yesterday in their Hinsdale home for Miss Helen Wallace Burr and Henry Wade Barth, whose engagement was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown Burr of Hinsdale. Mr. Barth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hood Barth, were here from their home in Lakewood, O., for the party.

Miss Burr attended Monticello seminary, the School of Domestic Arts and Sciences, and the University of Arizona. Mr. Barth is a graduate of Denison university. The Ketterings have the Warren Everett place, Swan house, in Hinsdale. The Barth-Burr wedding will take place in the late summer.

The engagement of Miss Harriet Pease Crawford to John Knox Widmer was announced at a tea yesterday by her mother, Mrs. Susan Shafor Crawford of Dayton, O. Mr. Widmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon W. Widmer of La Grange, Ill. Miss Crawford was graduated from Denison university in Granville, O., and is a member of the Junior League of Dayton. Mr. Widmer is a graduate of Kenyon college in Gambier, O. No date has been set for the wedding.

Two Infant Welfare Units Begin Rummage Sale Today.

Three hundred pairs of new shoes, new hats, and new dresses have been contributed to the Kenwood and North Side centers of the Infant Welfare society for their joint semi-annual rummage sale today, tomorrow, and Wednesday at 227 North Michigan avenue. The arrival of so much new merchandise from downtown shops is an especial bit of good fortune for early shoppers.

Mrs. Edmund M. Sullivan of the north side's junior auxiliary is in charge of hats and Miss Eleanor McNally is in charge of shoes. Mrs. Eugene Talbot Jr. of the North Side and Mrs. Joseph Ross of the Kenwood center are co-chairmen of the sale. The doors will open at 8:30 and close at 4:30 o'clock each day.

Dinners to Follow Mme. Kurenko's Concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Washburne are giving a small dinner party tonight following Mme. Maria Kurenko's concert at the Skokie school in Winnetka. The concert is under the auspices of the midwest branch of the American Friends service committee. Others who will entertain at dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Hampden Winston, Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Maher, Mr. and Mrs. Cloud Wampler, and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Byfield.

Mrs. Royden J. Keith was reëlected president of the board of directors of the Woman's Symphony orchestra at the annual meeting held recently. The other officers are: Vice presidents, Mrs. James G. Shakman, Mrs. J. V. Spachner, and Mrs. H. Comer Winter; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry B. Vanzwoll; corresponding secretary, Miss Alice Barler, and treasurer, Mrs. Ewald H. Siebel. The board will give its annual spring luncheon today in the Silver room of the Woman's Athletic club.

Plan Busy Week-End for Thousands of Mothers at U. of I.

Urbana, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Mother's day week-end at the University of Illinois Friday, Saturday, and Sunday will attract several thousand mothers of students of the institution. The day is observed at the university a week ahead of Mother's day so the mothers may be at home on that day.

Honors day ceremonies Friday are expected to attract many of the visiting mothers. At this time more than 1,000 students will be honored for high scholarship.

On Friday night Shi-Ai will stage a sing, Terrapin will give a water carnival, the Illini Theater Guild will present a show. The latter two will repeat their performances on Saturday night. The annual meeting of the Mothers' association of the University of Illinois will be held Saturday morning, at which time officers will be named for next year. A reception will be held for the visitors in the afternoon, followed by the crowning of the May queen. Miss Mary Margaret Musselman, Quincy, Ill., will be queen of the May, with Margaret Livingstone, 4851 Quincy street, Chicago, and Martha Morrison, Indianapolis, Ind., maids of honor.

5vents of Saturday evening will include a dance recital by Orchesis, a concert by the combined glee clubs, and a gymkhana.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: Please criticize the bidding and the analysis on the following hand which caused considerable discussion at a local duplicate game. The results on this hand widely affected the standing of the final winners:

"West, dealer.

"North-South vulnerable.

	NORTH ♠ 7 3 ♥ 8 2 ♦ J 10 6 5 ♣ J 9 8 4 3
WEST ♠ 10 6 5 ♥ J 7 6 3 ♦ K 8 7 3 ♣ K 7		EAST ♠ 9 8 4 2 ♥ 4 ♦ A Q 9 4 ♣ A Q 10 2
	SOUTH ♠ A K Q J ♥ A K Q 10 9 5 ♦ 2 ♣ 6 5

"The bidding [match-point duplicate]:

West	North	East	South
1 no trump	Pass	2 clubs	Double
Pass	2 diamonds	Double	3 hearts
Pass	?

"South's strong hand suggests that West's nonvulnerable one no trump was a psychic [in line with West's bidding personality]. South reasons that the best course is to double—to determine the character of West's no trump and to encourage North. When North responds with the minimum bid of two diamonds [as expected] East's double makes the situation fairly clear to South: Both East and West hold strength in the minor suits; therefore West's no trump was psychic, since East could not possibly have enough to double if West's bid was fairly honest. Despite the psychic, however, West may hold four hearts to the jack, which will make a game impossible for North-South unless North has one minor trick. South therefore invites North to bid four, if holding about one probable trick—a trump honor, or three small, or a minor winner, at the same time warning North that something is lacking, for otherwise South would have bid the game himself.

"However, North bid three no trump, which was equivalent to raising to four hearts, claiming that South's jump bid of three hearts was an absolute force. In this he was supported by all the other players and the Gold Book, page 234. South contends that the three heart bid was only a qualified force or game invitation. Obviously four hearts cannot be made on the hands, yet all other tables but one reached four. Had North properly passed to the three heart bid, North-South would have had a 'tie for top' and nine match-points more than they actually received.

"Under the circumstances, what should North have called on the third round? G. E. T., Massachusetts."

North did no more than follow orders when he responded to South's three heart bid, and his three no trump was the only logical choice. When a player doubles for a takeout and later makes a jump bid in a new suit he does not merely invite a response, he demands it.

It seems to me that the discussion of the final contract has been based on a very poor premise, which is that North-South should rest at a three heart contract. The result of the four heart bid is no criterion of its merit. I know of no fine players who would be satisfied with less than a game contract on the North-South hands, regardless of the East-West bidding. The chance to drop the heart jack [or to find it in the North hand] is so overwhelming that any less than game contract would be downright cowardly.

If these particular North-South players never reach a worse contract than the four heart contract on this hand I am willing to underwrite their profits.

Y. M. C. A. Dedicated at U. of I.; Noted British Scientist Speaks

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Sir William Henry Bragg, British scientist and Nobel prize winner, today rejected the idea of some religious leaders that there should be a moratorium on scientific discovery because the morality of the world cannot keep up with the new advantages.

The British scientist, who is director of the Davy-Faraday research laboratory of the Royal Scientific institution, dedicated the new $300,000 University of Illinois Y. M. C. A. He declared that science must not be fettered despite the fact that airplanes may be used to drop bombs on innocent noncombatants and despite the fact that science may produce gas to kill children behind battle lines.

"It has often been said that knowledge has grown faster than morality, hence many evils of our day," said Dr. Bragg. "I do not think that is quite sound. On the surface it may seem to be correct, but we have to remember that morality in its highest sense cannot grow as fast as knowledge grows and never has done so, if, indeed, the two rates of growth are comparable at all.

"It is wisdom that is stunted. It is the skill to use our knowledge that is at fault. Morality in the form of good will is surely not so lacking as might be supposed if all our troubles were laid at its door. Is it not true that on the whole men like to take the right way with their neighbors if only they see clearly how to do it?"

Dr. Bragg declared that the province of knowledge is adding new fields to which there is no visible limit, but explained that the new knowledge neither wars against the old nor offers guarantees against its misuse.

"The wider the field of knowledge the greater the opportunity of finding wrong uses within it," the British scientist asserted. "We are horrified by the use made of airplanes and bombs, and by the dislocation of industry which a single ingenious experiment may cause, and the consequent unemployment even if it is only temporary. Our great need is for wisdom to draw from the store of knowledge that which will give to us, when it is used skilfully, the ability to be a useful member of the community."

CAMP NATIONAL POSTURE WEEK
MAY 1ST - 6TH
Be Smart—
CHECK UP ON YOUR POSTURE!

TO IMPRESS upon women the importance of good posture as an aid to health and beauty—to direct women to their physicians for consultation and check-up on the ills that stem from poor posture—to point out the important rôle Camp Supports have played for the past quarter century in helping women achieve good posture—S. H. Camp & Company, in collaboration with good stores everywhere, is promoting the week of May 1st-6th as Camp National Posture Week.

Posture affects your health because your intricate internal system cannot function properly when vital organs are crowded out of place, bones thrown out of alignment. It affects your appearance because beauty primarily depends upon health.

If you have difficulty maintaining good posture; if you are overweight or underweight; if you suffer from backache, or feel "all-in" at the end of the day—perhaps what you need is a Scientific Support which will help Nature help you. Camp Supports, recognized by the medical profession for the past twenty-five years, are scientifically designed and always expertly fitted.

Of course, if you suspect that some specific condition is causing your aches or your poor posture, be sure to consult your physician. But in any event, if you have never experienced the remarkable effect of a Camp Support, stop in this week at an authorized Camp dealer and investigate.

Camp Supports are sold at leading stores everywhere—by expertly trained and experienced fitters—never by house-to-house canvassers.

The CAMP Transparent Woman, famous educational exhibit, is an object lesson in health and perfect posture. It has been seen by more than 5,000,000 persons. When visiting New York, see this remarkable exhibit at the New York Museum of Science and Industry at Rockefeller Center.

CUBS AND SOX WIN; MEET IN STRATTON GAME

EUROPEAN GOLDEN GLOVERS LAND IN NEW YORK TODAY

LOOK FORWARD TO BATTLES IN STADIUM MAY 12

They Will Arrive in Chicago Thursday.

BY STEWART OWEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD S. S. NORMANDIE, April 30.—Members of Europe's Golden Gloves team were so thrilled tonight over the prospect of landing in America tomorrow that all eight boys went through their boxing exhibitions in the grand salon of the Normandie as though they were already in the Chicago Stadium ring for the match with Chicago's champions the night of May 12. The ship is scheduled to dock in New York at 9 a. m. [Chicago time].

When they boxed for tourist passengers Friday the European champions still showed the effects of slight attacks of seasickness, but two days of calm seas and workouts on the deck and in the ship's gymnasium have restored them to fighting condition.

The boys will be well rewarded for their hard work on the ship. They will spend two days seeing the sights of New York. Among the places they will visit is the World's Fair. The boxers will leave New York Wednesday and will reach Chicago at 8:50 o'clock Thursday morning.

The Big Day Is at Hand.

When the Normandie docks in New York tomorrow morning, two Italians, Egisto Peire, lightweight champion, and Nemeno Lazzari, heavyweight title holder, will realize ambitions that started them on their careers in amateur boxing.

Four years ago, Peire, a boy of 16 in his home town of Susegana on the River Piave, began to hear tales of amateur boxers who took trips across the ocean just to box. This sounded great to Peire, so he went to a gymnasium and asked for boxing instructions, hoping some day to win a place on the European team and make the trip to Chicago to participate in International Golden Gloves.

Peire started as a flyweight in his first year and won the novice championship of Italy. The following year he fought both as a bantamweight and featherweight, developing rapidly both in size and boxing skill. Last year, as a lightweight, he whipped all the competitors in Italy to win the national championship and bring his goal a little nearer.

He repeated the triumph this year and won a place on the Italian team which made the trip to the European tournament in Dublin. When Peire lost to Anton Kowalski of Poland he thought his chance was gone for another year. Then Germany called its fighters home. Herbert Nurnberg, the champion, was unable to make the trip. Poland refused to grant Kowalski a leave from its army and Peire was chosen as a member of the European team.

Winning Is a Habit.

Peire is a good puncher with a nice left jab and a damaging right which brought him victory in all but eight of 100 bouts. Peire is determined to crown his career with a triumph in Chicago. After that he will be willing to go back to his job as an office clerk in Susegana, where he supports his widowed mother and two sisters.

The chance to travel and see the world also started Lazzari, village blacksmith of Terracina, on his boxing career about the time Peire took up fighting. A director of the Young Fascisti Sports club saw Lazzari swinging a sledge hammer as a village smithy just after Nemeno had returned from serving two years in the Italian army. The director immediately attempted to interest the young giant in boxing. But Lazzari

Judgment.

I'll speak no ill of him now he is dead,
For what a man has been is not for me
To utter lightly, for who'er he be,
Each man has right to choose the way he'll tread.
Who is so blameless 'mongst us all today,
That he may stand in judgment on one soul
And now is nothing more than lifeless clay?
No man can know when Death's relentless eye
Bringing him face to face with that great power

LEE INJURES ARM BEATING BROWNS, 6 TO 5, IN FINAL

Brown Saves Game for Sox in Ninth.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—The White Sox today refused to have their winning streak snapped by the unmatchable Louis Norman [Buck] Newsom, the fellow who whiffed ten of them for his season's No. 1 victory. Unmindful of what Buck had done previously, they shook him up in the first inning, chased him out of the park a bit later and marched along to their fourth consecutive triumph before 10,044 cash spectators. The score was 6 to 5.

At one stage the Sox were coasting along with a 6 to 0 lead, but the fourth link wasn't definitly attached to the victory string until after Thornton Lee had experienced such rough treatment in the ninth that Manager Jimmy Dykes felt justified in removing him. Lee, who had been a powerhouse in seven of the first eight innings, went into the final inning with a 6 to 2 margin. The Brownies suddenly started pelting him with hits, scoring three runs and they lost another through Mike Kreevich's fielding agility. So with the Chicago lead reduced to one run and one out needed, trusty Clint Brown was summoned for the second day in a row. He sniped off the final out.

Lee Pulls Muscle.

Lee's fadeout wasn't exactly due to the tired feeling that occasionally comes over pitchers in the springtime. In the sixth, up to which point he had starved the enemy with a three hit diet, they landed on him for a pair of runs. The big southpaw complained that his arm was beginning to ache, but he wanted to continue. He recuperated so speedily that he fanned three in a row in the seventh and continued through the eighth without much disturbance. But in the ninth he lost his stuff entirely and was yanked not only to save the game, but his arm. Examination indicated he had pulled a muscle in his left elbow, but it wasn't considered to be serious.

The blow that flattened Newsom was furnished by Joe Kuhel. He uncorked a homer with a mate on base in the first inning. Newsom was dented a bit more in the second and in the third he quit under the pressure of his wildness and a pair of hits. One of these hits was a single by Larry Rosenthal with the bases loaded. After this the Sox had

Newest Cub Star on Way to Victory

Gene Lillard, the reformed third baseman, snapped during the process of throttling the Cards in Wrigley field yesterday. Lillard won his second game in two starts and, as in his pitching debut five days ago, had a shutout until the ninth. But two runs in 18 innings is a fair start for the young Cub. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Chicago Golden Glovers Open Training in I. A. C. Today

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's international Golden Gloves squad, including the nine boys who won intercity bouts March 29 against New York to furnish Chicagoland with another year's hold on this title, starts drills today for the international matches in the Stadium a week from Friday night. Chicago's record of five victories and two ties in Golden Gloves competition with foreign nations and the champions of Europe is the most remarkable in amateur boxing. It is a record Europe is determined to break this year.

The confidence of the European boxers, who arrive in New York today, is not at all disturbing to the Chicago boxers or the coaching staff. Convinced that a team of eight, capable of defending international honors, can be developed in the next ten days the squad will settle quickly into the familiar training routine.

Take to Road Today.

The boxers will be out on the road this morning and will report for their first gymnasium session this afternoon in the Illinois Athletic club. John Behr again heads the coaches. He will be assisted by Fred Caserio, former Golden Gloves champion; Paddy Kane of the Catholic Youth organization, and Bob Howard.

Ragon Kinney, light heavyweight from Clarksville, Ark., was the first of the Chicago boxers to check in. Kinney arrived Saturday night. Seventeen of the boys were accounted for last evening, including the contingent from Detroit, Vic Saccoia, Tony Ancona, and Bill Pauli, who arrived just in time for dinner. Jimmy Reeves of Cleveland, Golden Gloves intercity light heavyweight champion and also the National A. A. U. winner in the recent tournament in San Francisco, checked in yesterday ready to seek an international title.

Ellis and Reid Are Rivals.

The only member of the squad originally selected by the coaches who is accounted for but has not reported is Heavyweight Tony Novak of Kansas City. Novak won the Golden Gloves championship this year, but was beaten by Buddy Moore of New York in the intercity matches. Moore did not compete in San Francisco, and Novak won the National A. A. U championship, exhibiting a complete reversal of form.

Chester Ellis, Kansas City's bantamweight champion, has checked in and is ready to fight it out with Earl Reid of Benton Harbor, Mich., for this position on the international team.

Six Golden Gloves champions are ready to start drills. Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, middleweight champion who could not report for the intercity bouts, is the other absentee. Charles later won the National A. A. U. title, but he was not invited to join the squad now in Chicago.

Hantz Is Back.

Pete Hantz of East Moline, Ill., who fought in the championship position and won in the intercity bouts, is ready to seek the international assignment in this division.

While the Chicagoland boxers are organizing, Chicago also is completing preparations to greet the Europeans Thursday morning. The visitors will arrive at 8:50 a. m., Chicago daylight time, at Union station. Delegations representing the nations on the European squad will extend greetings to the boys in the station rotunda. The squad will then check in at the Medinah club. Later Thursday the boxers, accompanied by Arthur de Kankovszky, secretary of the International association, and Coach Steve Klaus, will visit the city hall, where Mayor Kelly will welcome them officially.

DI MAGGIO LOST TO YANKEES ON WESTERN TRIP

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—When the Yankees leave for their first western trip tomorrow night, Joe Di Maggio, star outfielder, will stay behind as a hospital patient.

The order to confine the crippled star came today from Dr. Robert Emmet Walsh, more as a measure of protective isolation for the Californian. The rush of telephone calls to Di Maggio's room in a midtown hotel, coupled by visits from friends and admirers, led to the decision for hospital confinement.

Dr. Walsh said that Di Maggio, in stumbling under Bobby Estalella's drive in Saturday's game, tore muscles from the tibia bone, inside and outside the right ankle. Both sides of the ankle were badly sprained below the muscle tears.

It is expected Di Maggio will rejoin the club in Philadelphia May 13.

Dykes Assigns Whitehead, Herring, Smith.

The White Sox and Cubs, who because of unfavorable weather never got around to the last four games in their spring series, will clean up all unfinished business beginning at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon in Comiskey park.

The occasion for reopening the age-old differences between the two rivals will be the Monty Stratton benefit in which the athletes will furnish the show and the fans of Chicago the receipts, which will be turned over to the White Sox pitcher who lost his right leg last fall as the result of a hunting accident.

Given the proper weather, the game may attract 20,000 fans. Harry Grabiner, vice president of the White Sox, announced advance sales totaled $14,000. Tickets purchased for the game April 17 will be honored today.

To make it a triple attraction, Manager Hartnett of the Cubs will give those in attendance a glimpse of the one and only Dizzy Dean, whose right arm is such a problem that he has not been employed this spring except in an exhibition. Diz will pitch a few innings unless unable to prove his contention that the story about his arm is a myth. If he needs relief Kirby Higbe will be ready.

Jim Dykes, the Sox manager, has various pitching plans for the day. He will start John Whitehead, who will go three innings. Rookie Art Herring will pitch the next three and Edgar Smith, the southpaw obtained from the Athletics a few days ago, will finish. Smith reported in Chicago and this morning will meet his new boss.

DIZZY CRAVES ACTION

Dizzy Dean says he is more than ready for his part in the Monty Stratton game this afternoon, the rôle of starting pitcher for the Cubs. "I'm not only ready for the White Sox but rarin' for the nod against any National league team, including the Cincinnati Reds, which I have beat twenty-six out of thirty," he said.

It was 70 degrees in Wrigley field at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and the management stirred about in anticipation of a near capacity crowd. At game time, the little glass tube read 50 degrees and the lemonade boys switched to coffee.

Bill Baker, robust catcher, who was given a tryout by the Cubs this spring, yesterday was returned to Indianapolis, whence he came.

Hank Leiber didn't like the strike on which Umpire John Reardon called him out at the start of the second inning, but was wise enough to confine himself to parlor language, and stayed in the game.

Illinois Cocker Spaniel Wins in Maryland Show

Chevy Chase, Md., April 30.—[Special.]—The tenth annual show of the National Capital Kennel club opened today with an entry of seven hundred and eighty-one dogs, representing fifty-seven breeds. The solid black cocker spaniel Ann Burr Samson, owned by Anne Pearsall of Elgin, Ill., placed first in his class.

Olin Dutra, Art Bell Tie for California Golf Title

Bakersfield, Cal., April 30.—(AP)—Olin Dutra, Los Angeles, and Art Bell, Pasadena, tied for the California open golf championship today with 283. Dutra and Bell probably will play off their tie next Sunday.

LILLARD BEATS CARDINALS, 4-1, FOR 2D VICTORY

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Justice of the Peace Lillard's fines will be light in his Goleta, Cal., court for several days, for son Gene did it again. Gene, the reformed third baseman, turned in his second victory in five days—the two triumphs sandwiched the Cubs' losing streak—by turning back the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday in Wrigley field, 4 to 1. Moreover, the rookie had a shut out in hand until after two were out in the ninth.

Lillard's major league record now shows two full games in two big time appearances, with a total of one run in each of the two performances. He whipped the Pirates on April 26, 3 to 1.

Gene Scatters Ten Hits.

Gene yielded ten hits, including two in the ninth, but was as cool as the weather throughout, which, by the way, had dropped from 70 to 48 as the game reached the late innings, a plunk which the 19,630 fans didn't seem to mind as they watched the Californian snap the Cub losing streak at three straight.

The Cubs made only six hits, all singles, off Curt Davis in six innings and none off Fiddler McGee but, obviously, the smacking was neatly placed.

Before the game Manager Gabby Hartnett ordered his first shakeup of the National league season by sending Augie Galan to left field and Pop Reynolds to right field. Augie scored half the Chicago runs and made one of the hits. Pop made a hit, drove in half the runs, and scored a run. Hank Leiber, lone survivor of the outfield shakeup, got the idea and made two terrific singles, each of which sent Galan from first to third on his scoring dashes.

Mancuso Starts the Scoring.

While outfielders were heavy men in the production of three runs, which formed the winning margin, they had no part in production of the first run of the series. Gus Mancuso scored that in the third after opening with the first hit off Davis. Gus got around on his single, a wild pitch, an infield out, and Stan Hack's sacrifice fly. By the way, it was the second time this season that Hack had failed to get at least one hit.

The victory enabled the Cubs to pass the Cardinals in the league standings and rise to third place. The Reds, who were idle, retained first place, tied with the Boston Bees on the won and lost basis. The Reds have won six and lost two; the Bees have won seven and lost three, and the Cubs have won six and lost four. In percentage the Reds are .750, the Bees .700, and the Cubs .600.

Cards Fill Bases, Fail to Score.

The Cards gave Lillard a stiff workout in the first inning, their first meeting in the pitching career of the young man from Goleta. Brown fanned and Gutteridge bounded to Hack, but Slaughter singled and stopped at third on Medwick's double to right. Mize was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Moore fouled to Hack.

In the first two innings the Cubs

PORTERS MITE, CHALLEDON TEST DERBY COURSE

Xalapa Clown Steps Mile and Eighth in 1:55⅖.

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., April 30.—Challedon and Porters Mite were brought out this morning for their first Kentucky Derby training moves since their arrival last Friday. Both went five-eighths, Porters Mite coming out of the chute to perform his task in 59 3-5 seconds and Challedon working around the turns in one minute even. The former was eased off to finish out the six furlongs in 1:13 3-5.

More eastern Derby candidates will arrive early this week, El Chico being expected tomorrow. Johnstown is due on Tuesday.

The next important event for the candidates will be Tuesday's Derby Trial at a mile, which probably will bring Technician, Porters Mite, Xalapa Clown, and Timeful to the post.

They Believe in Challedon.

Challedon's followers have banded themselves together in what amounts to a cult. They are convinced that he is the only horse in the field who will be moving fast in that desperate drive from the eighth pole to the finish line in next Saturday's 65th running of the Derby. They believe he is a genuine stayer and insist he will be coming on when even the mighty Johnstown is tiring.

That may be true but others think that Challedon may be moving from so far back that he will be still coming on after Johnston has won the race and is being pulled up on the clubhouse turn. They refuse to be impressed by the fact that Challedon made a strong finish in the Chesapeake, in which he was last at one stage, pointing out that nearly any good horse who lays off the pace can look fine in the stretch, passing a lot of tiring rivals who are drifting back to him.

But it's quite another thing to get to the leader, especially if the Derby leader should be a horse with the obvious class of Johnstown.

Challedon Drills for Early Speed.

A few drills such as Challedon had this morning may sharpen his early speed and keep him from getting too far off the pace. It was considered a creditable move.

The breeders are all strong for Challedon. They couldn't see any other horse in the race until Johnstown began tying track marks and coming within fractions of a second of world records while winning by five and six lengths eased up.

Challedon's sire is Challenger II. and his dam is Laura Gal, who is by Sir Galahad III. Challenger II. was considered one of the best two year olds in England in 1929, though he only raced twice, winning the Richmond and the Clearwell stakes, both important events. As a three year old he was highly regarded for the English Derby, but was automatically disqualified on the death of his owner, Lord Dewar. Within twenty-four hours of his purchase from the Lord Dewar estate he became entangled in barbed wire and was injured so seriously that he never again was able to regain his racing form.

Xalapa Clown Works Out.

He was purchased by Christopher J. Fitzgerald, American breeder and racing official, who was acting on behalf of William L. Brann and Robert S. Castle of Brann Castle farm, Frederick, Md. Challenger II. now is owned exclusively by Brann.

Challendon's dam, Laura Gal, was bred by William Woodward, being by the great sire, Sir Gallahad III. out of Laura Dianti, by Whack.

Among the other Derby candidates that worked this morning was Xalapa Clown. He went a mile and an eighth in 1:55 2-5.

EL CHICO ON THE WAY.

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Trainer Matt Brody left for Louisville today with his two Kentucky Derby eligibles, El Chico and Our Mat. He said he would start only El Chico in the Derby next Saturday, and that he and Owner William Ziegler Jr. had decided Our Mat had not shown to advantage as a Derby candidate.

MARINO TAKES FIFTH PLACE IN A. B. C. SINGLES

Cleveland, O., April 30.—[Special.]—Hank Marino of Milwaukee took fifth place in the singles division of the American Bowling congress today with 713 and seventh in the all-events with 1,961.

Marino had games of 221-259-234. A No. 8 pin tap in the seventh frame of the second game cost him the lead, held by Jim Danek of Forest Park, who bowled 730 a week ago. The break cost Marino twenty-one pins. Marino missed only one strike on alley No. 14 during his three game series. He needed a double in the tenth frame of the last game, but a light hit on alley No. 13, left two pins standing. The leaders:

YANKS STILL IN REVERSE; LOSE TO SENATORS, 3 TO 2

Southpaw Krakauskas Wins for Washington.

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Three Washington pitchers, headed by Lefty Joe Krakauskas, held the New York Yankees to four hits today to give the Senators their second straight victory of the series, 3 to 2, and drop the champions into a tie with Boston for first place in the American league.

Krakauskas kept the Yankees hitless for five innings and scoreless for six to get credit for his first victory of the year. He was removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth after New York had scored one of its runs, and Pete Appleton and Al Alexander finished.

The Senators compressed all their runs into the eighth inning after some splendid support had helped Oral Hildebrand over several earlier rough spots. The loss was New York's third of the spring to Washington and the second to southpaw pitching.

GIANTS' RALLY IN NINTH FAILS; BEES WIN, 3 TO 2

Boston, Mass., April 30.—(AP)—Lou Fette, veteran righthander, held the New York Giants under control until he had two out in the ninth today while chalking up his third victory of the season for the Boston Bees, 3 to 2. The triumph, witnessed by a crowd of 23,428, enabled the Bees to close in on the idle Cincinnati pace setters.

After holding his opponents to one run in his last twenty-six innings, Fette passed Mel Ott with two out in the ninth. Frank Demaree followed with a Texas leaguer to center and Bill Jurges drove in both of the Giants' runs with a booming triple to right. Bob Seeds was sent in to bat for Cliff Melton and he ended the game by flying out as the tying run rested on third base. Score:

PURDUE RETAINS LEAD AS INDIANA, MINNESOTA LOSE

Purdue, although idle, retained leadership in the Big Ten baseball race when Indiana and Minnesota fell from the ranks of the unbeaten last week.

Iowa, co-champions with Indiana last season, and Illinois were the only teams making any appreciable advance. Illinois defeated Ohio State twice, 13 to 4, and 8 to 1. Al Grant held the Buckeyes to three hits Saturday while his mates were collecting nine.

Iowa likewise swept a two game series, trouncing Minnesota, hitherto undefeated in two games, 11 to 2 and 5 to 0. The defeats dropped the Gophers from a tie for second place to fifth and elevated Iowa to fourth place. Standings:

chances to swing at Bill Trotter, Ewald Pyle and Johnny Marcum, but nothing happened except a run off Trotter in the fifth. Kuhel also took a hand in this incident by doubling.

Newsom opened the game by plunking Owen on the left arm with a badly aimed pitch. Kuhel stepped up, and Newsom, after getting a 2 and 2 count on him, decided to toss up his slow ball. Kuhel timed it perfectly. The ball came down on the right field pavilion roof, scoring Owen.

But They'll Count 'Em.

Newsom was frisked for only one hit in the second, but his wildness simplified the scoring of a run. Kreevich led off with a walk and went to third on Silvestri's single to center. Lee grounded to Kress for a double play, giving Kreevich plenty of time to score.

The Sox weren't exactly proud of their two run achievement in the third. That was the extent of the harvest, although the first five batters reached base. Kuhel walked and dashed to third on Walker's single to center. Walker was out attempting to steal second. Passes to Appling and McNair filled the bases, whereupon Rosenthal singled into right, scoring Kuhel and Appling and retiring Newsom. Trotter closed the inning speedily on Kreevich's double play tap to Clift.

The Sox made it 6 to 0 in the fifth with a run handled by Kuhel and Appling. Kuhel opened with a double to left center and, after Walker had been thrown out, Appling singled to send Kuhel home. McNair hit into a double play.

Lee Gets Awakening.

Lee's three hit performance suddenly and rudely swelled to a six hitter in the sixth when the Browns scored a pair. Grace opened with a bounder to Kuhel. The firing then got under way. Mazzera lined a single over McNair's head. McQuinn singled to right. Kress singled past Owen, who is handicapped slightly by the foot bruised by a foul ball yesterday. Mazzera scored on this hit. Clift walked, filling the bases. Kreevich staved off a deluge by racing back to the distant center field wall and making a one handed catch of Hoag's long drive, McQuinn scoring. Berardino also flied to Kreevich.

The fellows mixed up in Lee's little strikeout party in the seventh were Sullivan, Silber, who batted for Pyle, and Heffner, who batted for Grace. McQuinn also was crushed on strikes in the eighth. Then Lee went haywire in the ninth by walking Berardino. Hughes batted for Sullivan and scratched a single past McNair. Spindel batted for Marcum and singled to center, scoring Berardino. Gryska doubled for Almada, scoring Hughes. Kreevich captured drives by Mazzera and McQuinn, Spindel scoring on the latter. Brown came in to retire Kress on a fly to Walker.

MITCHELL WINS DINGHY REGATTA WITH SHIMMER

Leeds Mitchell Jr. sailed his Frostbite dinghy Shimmer to victory in the annual spring regatta of the Chicago chapter of the North American Dinghy association yesterday. Walter Etzbach was crew for Skipper Mitchell. Their winning score was 78 points. The ten races were sailed in Belmont harbor.

Jack Holbrook, with Mrs. Jerry Masek, the 1939 queen of the lakes at the boat show, as crew, won the five unscheduled races sailed by the Columbia Yacht club's Frostbite dinghy fleet yesterday in Grant park harbor. They sailed Mr. Big, Willis Ware's B class boat.

Thwarting a Chicago Scoring Drive

Brewers Lose, 1-0, in National Soccer Opener

BY OFFSIDE.

The Manhattan Brewers, out to make it two straight national soccer championships for Chicago, were beaten, 1 to 0, yesterday by the St. Mary's Celtics of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the opening of the two game, total goals series for the title held last year by the Spartas.

Yesterday's game, witnessed by a crowd of 5,000, was played in Sparta stadium. The set will be concluded next Sunday in Starlight park, New York.

Nanoski Scores for Celtics.

The only goal of the contest came 31 minutes through the second period, Johnny Nanoski booting a high shot past Leslie Griffith from ten yards out. Jimmy McGuire's long pass provided the opening for Nanoski's successful drive, which climaxed two periods of strenuous but until then futile effort for both teams.

The first period had found the Manhattans carrying the play, but unable to score through the combination of a stout Celtic defense and inability to take full advantage of a couple of openings that seemed certain to produce goals. The Celtics only sustained offensive came near the close of the half, but availed nothing.

Pressure Brings Results.

The Celtics had the advantage of a strong wind as second period play began, but the Manhattans held them off and did a bit of pressing themselves. Art Garci raced down the center for 40 yards, only to shoot past the post, and Clem Cuthburt headed over the bar on a cross from Garci.

The Celtics kept the pressure on and their efforts were rewarded by Nanoski's goal. The Brewers came back furiously in an effort to produce a tie, but Duncan Othen, Celtic goalkeeper who performed brilliantly throughout, turned back every drive, ably assisted by his teammates, who dropped back and played a defensive game the rest of the way. Lineups:

PARAGUAY ELECTS CHACO WAR HERO AS ITS PRESIDENT

Gen. Estigarribia to Take Office in June.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, April 30.—(AP)—Paraguay voted today for a new government to be headed by Gen. José Felix Estigarribia, her minister to Washington and hero of the Chaco war with Bolivia.

Gen. José Estigarribia.

It was the first presidential election since the beginning of the Chaco war in 1932 and Gen. Estigarribia was the only candidate for the presidency, with Luis Alberto Riart, minister to Rio de Janeiro, as his running mate for the vice presidency.

Liberal Party Candidates.

The two were the candidates of the Liberal party. The National Republican party did not participate on the grounds that "there are no liberties in Paraguay today and the rights of her citizens are not respected."

Voters today actually were engaged in selecting 240 electors who will meet June 15 for the formal election of the president for a four year term.

Despite the lack of opposition to Gen. Estigarribia, voters stood in long lines when the polls opened at 7 a. m. No disorders were reported.

Stormy Years at End.

Supporters of the French educated warrior asserted his election to the presidency would end three stormy years in which two governments were overthrown by force.

Gen. Estigarribia was commander in chief of the tattered army which fought Bolivia in the jungles of the Chaco. He then turned statesman to gain approval of the treaty of peace last year at Buenos Aires.

Dr. Felix Paiva, professor of constitutional law at the university of Asuncion, has been provisional president of Paraguay since Aug. 15, 1937.

DOCTOR IS FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL; IDENTIFY BODY

A man identified by the police as Dr. Charles D. Nixon of Libertyville was found dead yesterday in his room in the Stevens hotel. He registered at the hotel Saturday night as H. E. Bardwell of Milwaukee. Physicians said he had died of heart disease. Dr. Nixon, a medical practitioner, was 49 years old. He lived at the New Castle hotel in Libertyville with his wife, who owns the hotel, according to his attorney, Sol A. Hoffman. Mrs. Nixon is the former Mrs. Lulu Duddles, whose husband, Richard, and son, Richard Jr., were killed in 1925 when their car was crushed by a train near Grayslake.

OBITUARIES

William P. Worth.

William P. Worth, 69 years old, a veteran coal producer, died yesterday in his home at 1029 Pleasant place, Oak Park, after a short illness. He was president of the Worth Fuel company. Mr. Worth started his coal career as president of the Garden City Fuel company. In later years he was connected in executive capacity with several other fuel concerns, among them the Lill-Robinson, the Worth-Huskey and the Franklin Coal companies. Surviving are his widow, the former Ellen Cruver, and two sons, George and Jerry. Services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 720 Lake street, Oak Park. Burial will be private.

Russell J. McCaughey.

Russell J. McCaughey, well known trial lawyer, died of a heart attack yesterday in his home at 1051 Columbia avenue. He was 40 years old and a member of the law firm of Packard, Barnes, McCaughey, and Schumacher. Mr. McCaughey was born in Chicago and was educated at the University of Michigan and Yale university. He was a member of several legal associations, the Chicago Athletic club, and the Mid-Day club. Surviving is his widow, the former Kathleen Sullivan. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in St. Ignatius Catholic church. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Carey Smith.

Carey Smith, a live stock broker in Chicago for fifty-three years, died yesterday in his home at 229 Country Club road, Chicago Heights, after an illness of three months. He was 69 years old. He was born in Chenoa, McLean county. Mr. Smith was a partner in Brown & Smith company. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Long, wife of Dr. Hugo Long of Chicago Heights, and a son, Edmund J. Smith of Detroit, Mich. Funeral services will be held in the Smith home at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Fairmount cemetery.

Ralph E. Bennett.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 30.—[Special.]—Ralph E. Bennett, vice president and general manager of the Binghamton Press, died of a heart attack at his home here this afternoon after a week's illness. He was 67 years old. Mr. Bennett was active in newspaper circles for forty-six years. He was past president of the New York State Publishers association.

Dr. Arthur H. Norton.

Auburn, N. Y., April 30.—(AP)—Dr. Arthur H. Norton, organizer and president emeritus of Keuka [women's] college at Penn Yan, N. Y., died here today after a long illness. He was 68 years old.

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

[Central Daylight Saving Time].

A streamline version of Gounod's opera "Faust," presented by an all-star cast of five principals and a chorus of sixty male voices, will be offered on W-G-N and the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting System from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Don Pedro.

The title rôle in tonight's opera will be sung by Attilio Baggiore, W-G-N tenor. Others in the cast are Kathryn Witwer, soprano, who will sing the part of Marguerite, Harriet Brewer, contralto, as Martha; Mark Love, basso, as Mephistopheles, and Reinhold Schmidt, baritone, as Valentine. The Kraft choral club will supply the sixty male voices. The opera will be under the direction of Henry Weber, W-G-N music director, and will be presented before 600 guests in the station's main audience studio.

The Monty Stratton Benefit ball game between the Chicago Cubs and White Sox at Comiskey Park will be described by Bob Elson beginning at 2:15 p. m. Bob's Leadoff Man program will precede the game at 2 p. m.

Don Pedro and His Magic Violin return to the W-G-N airwaves today and will be heard each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 10:30 a. m.

The Keep Fit To Music program conducted by Wallace, W-G-N's streamliner, will be heard Monday through Saturday at 10 a. m., a new time.

EX-MRS. HEWITT, DIES OBSCURELY; WED FIVE TIMES

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt McCarter, once wealthy, and defendant in a $500,000 suit brought by her daughter on a charge of mayhem in a sterilization operation, died today in a one room apartment where she had lived in seclusion the last year.

Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt McCarter.

Mrs. McCarter, five times married and once reported to have spent $250,000 in a year, filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition a year ago listing assets of $250 against liabilities of $693,741.

The sensational California sterilization suit, in which Anne Cooper Hewitt charged she was sterilized in order to end the line of heirs to the Cooper-Hewitt fortune, was dropped after the daughter refused to testify against her mother.

Doctors involved in the case were acquitted of criminal mayhem charges by instruction of the California court.

CHICAGO BOUND TRAIN WRECKED BY RAIL SPREAD

Kenosha, Wis., April 30.—[Special.]—Twenty-eight passengers were shaken up late tonight when a Soo line train was derailed by a rail spread just south of Camp Lake, eighteen miles southwest of here. The two passenger coaches and a mail coach were derailed and thrown at a sharp angle against an embankment on the side of the tracks. The locomotive, tender, and two baggage cars remained on the rails. The passengers were loaded into the baggage cars and the train proceeded toward its Chicago terminal.

Bill Proposes Philippines Permit Quezon 2d Term

MANILA, P. I., April 30.—(AP)—Assemblyman Emilio de la Paz said today his bill proposing a constitutional amendment to permit Manuel L. Quezon to seek a second term as president of the commonwealth government was ready for introduction in the Philippine national assembly tomorrow. The bill proposes a second constitutional amendment—restoration of the Philippine senate. The present legislature is unicameral. Both proposals would be subject to a plebiscite to be held next December. President Quezon's initial term as head of the commonwealth government is for six years. It ends Nov. 14, 1941. De la Paz's bill would make the second term four years.

COLLAPSES, DIES AT OWN GOLDEN WEDDING PARTY

Scottville, Mich., April 30.—[Special.]—Tragedy stopped a golden wedding celebration here last night when Mrs. Carsten Andersen, 69 years old, collapsed in the arms of a dancing partner and died of a heart attack. A few minutes earlier Mr. and Mrs. Andersen, Mason county farm residents for thirty-seven years, had gone through the traditional ceremony marking their fiftieth anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, 6130 Northwest highway, Chicago, son-in-law and daughter of the Andersens, arranged the celebration in Scottville community hall. Also present were Mrs. John Ferre, 1910 Berteau street, Chicago, another daughter, and six sons, Richard, Alex, and Charles of Scottville, and Arnold, Roger, and Johannes of Mason county.

Among 200 guests at the party were Dr. and Mrs. Carl G. Rydin, 3006 North Wilton avenue, Chicago. Dr. Rydin gave medical assistance to Mrs. Andersen, but she died in a few minutes. Mrs. Andersen was born in Manistee, Mich., on Jan. 24, 1870. Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon.

MILWAUKEE YACHT ON 8,000 MILE CRUISE TO PUGET SOUND ISLAND

Milwaukee, Wis., April 30.—(AP)—The yacht Ranger, skippered by R. B. Brown, retired president of the Milwaukee Gas company, left today for Orcas Island in Puget Sound—8,000 miles away. The Ranger will traverse the Illinois water route to the Mississippi, go through the Panama Canal, and up the west coast to the island, where Brown has a farm called Arcady. The eight on board included S. P. Curtis, Philadelphia utility official, and Dr. Earl Cilley, Brown's son-in-law, of Bellingham, Wash.

ELZY A. GARARD DIES IN FLORIDA; RITES THURSDAY

Elzy Anderson Garard, well known in the investment and railway business in Chicago, died in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Saturday, according to word received here yesterday. He was 55 years old and lived at the Ambassador East hotel.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

EDISON PROFIT SHOWS UPTURN OVER YEAR AGO

Final Note Offering 97.7% Subscribed.

The Commonwealth Edison company had larger earnings in the three months ended March 31 than in the first quarter of 1938, James Simpson, chairman, reported yesterday. He also announced that the final block of $25,283,300 of 3½ per cent series convertible debentures due in 1958, offered to stockholders, were subscribed in the amount of $24,700,000. This represented 97.7 per cent of the offering, slightly higher than the percentages for three similar offerings made in the last half of 1938.

James Simpson.

Simpson said Commonwealth Edison's consolidated net income in the first three months of 1939 was $6,767,439, compared with $5,493,161 in the first 1938 quarter.

Earnings Per Share Increase.

Earnings per share on 9,105,791 shares outstanding March 31, computed on the basis set forth in the annual report for 1938, amounted to 75 cents, against 70 cents each on 7,813,391 shares outstanding a year earlier, computed on the same basis.

Sales of electricity in the March quarter were 1,630,610,451 kilowatt hours, against 1,471,768,496 in the 1938 quarter, representing a gain of 10.8 per cent. Revenues from electricity sales increased 3.1 per cent, totaling $33,321,425, compared with $32,319,518 in the first 1938 quarter.

Gas sales increased 19.9 per cent and yielded 8.3 per cent more revenue, the operating revenue from gas alone in the respective quarters being $4,171,510 and $3,852,282.

Twelve Months' Profit Larger.

Consolidated profit in the twelve months ended last March 31 was $20,975,903, against $16,882,568 in the preceding twelve months.

Simpson said the sale of the final block of the debentures completes the $130,000,000 convertible debenture program authorized by stockholders in 1937. Of the $104,148,100 of debentures previously issued, however, a total of $18,000,000, or 17.3 per cent, already has been converted into Edison stock, Simpson added.

He said the 116 firms which handled the last block of notes will not have to take any of them, since the amount subscribed through the exercise of warants issued to stockholders exceeded the $24,000,000 underwritten.

Surplus Debentures Absorbed.

The debentures which were not taken will be sold at par to the Service Annuity funds of the company and its subsidiaries.

The debenture program just completed constitutes one of the final steps toward consummation of Edison's $310,000,000 refinancing, which was directed by Simpson for the purpose of simplifying the company's corporate structure and reducing interest charges.

The $310,000,000 refinancing will achieve the substitution of three new issues for twenty-two bond and preferred stock issues, with consequent large savings in fixed charges.

Merchandising Business of Westinghouse Climbs

Mansfield, O., April 30.—(AP)—Business of the merchandising division of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company increased 53 per cent in the first three months of 1939, compared with the first quarter of 1938, said a report today by Frank B. Williams Jr., vice president. Indications are that the upward trend will continue throughout the year, except for a slight summer recession, Williams said.

GIANNINI ASKS CONGRESS QUIZ ON BANK 'PLOT'

Calls Family Target of U. S. Officials.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30.—(AP)—Charging a "diabolical conspiracy" against the Bank of America by United States treasury and federal reserve bank officials, A. P. Giannini, president of the bank, said in a statement today he was demanding a congressional investigation.

His demand, he said, resulted from the linking by Securities and Exchange officials in San Francisco of the name of a dead son, Virgin Giannini, with the investigation of another financial firm there.

The SEC has had under way for several months an investigation of the Transamerica corporation, affiliated with the bank, and a hearing is scheduled for May 8 in San Francisco.

"Now that the SEC is drawing members of my family into the matter," said Giannini, "I feel free to tell the public and ask that the supreme authority of the United States, congress, investigate the whole thing as the representative of the people."

RESUME EFFORTS TODAY TO SETTLE SOFT COAL TIEUP

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—Efforts to end the Appalachian soft coal stoppage that began a month ago when 338,000 miners quit work because of a deadlock in negotiations for a new agreement between workers and mine owners, will be resumed here tomorrow. Representatives of the operators and the United Mine Workers [C. I. O.] will meet again with John R. Steelman, chief of the United States conciliation service.

It is expected that the operators will make a compromise offer, believed to be a modification of a previous proposal to recognize the United Mine Workers as sole collective bargaining agency.

51 FREIGHTERS START TRIP UP ST. LAWRENCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., April 30.—The largest parade of shipping on the St. Lawrence in years was under way upriver today from Quebec as the last ice jams broke and the channel was left clear to Montreal. Fifty-one vessels had started from Quebec since morning. It was the latest opening at Montreal since 1926.

The port was opened Saturday night by the British freighter Bassano, beating out her nearest rival, another British ship, Manchester City, by 25 minutes after a hectic race.

Bank to Receive Tenders for Jugo-Slavian Bonds

The Central Hanover Bank and Trust company yesterday notified holders of nonnationalized bonds of the Kingdom of Jugo-Slavia national external gold loan of 1922 that it will receive sealed tenders for the sale of such bonds up to a total of $36,183 for the 8 per cent bonds and $64,000 for the 7 per cent bonds.

Middle West Corporation's 1938 Profit Up to $2,678,463

Consolidated net income of the Middle West corporation, large utility holding company, for 1938 was $2,678,463, compared with $1,896,107 in 1937, Purcell L. Smith, president, said in the annual report sent to stockholders yesterday. After deducting a full year's cumulative dividend requirements on the preferred stocks of subsidiaries held by the public, the 1938 profit was equal to 80 cents a share on the capital stock, compared with 56 cents a share in 1937.

Purcell L. Smith.

The income figures include $1,150,000 and $900,000 for 1938 and 1937, respectively, which could not be distributed as dividends on the junior preferred and common stocks of subsidiaries owned by the Middle West corporation. This was because of prior lien dividend arrearages or because of restrictions caused by preferred stock agreement and trust indentures.

Smith said the gain over 1938 was attributable in part to an improvement in earnings despite the fact that general business conditions in a large part of the territory served by the operating companies were not as good as in 1937.

Operating revenues, 83 per cent of which are derived from the sale of electricity, aggregated $61,094,527, an increase of $1,314,932, or 2.2 per cent, over 1937.

Provision for taxes totaled $8,299,552 in 1938, compared with $7,809,002 in 1937. Consolidated current assets as of Dec. 31, 1938, were $28,770,505, compared with $28,547,275 on Dec. 31, 1937. Current liabilities were $14,580,942, compared with $14,935,208. Expenditures by operating subsidiaries totaled $11,636,000 in 1938, compared with $12,100,000 in 1937.

During 1938 Middle West bought $2,120,487 of stocks and bonds of affiliated and subsidiary companies. During the first three months of this year additional purchases of preferred stocks in these companies totaled $842,779. The total book value of the company's investment securities and advances on Dec. 31, 1938, aggregated $74,130,136, representing an increase for the year of $1,496,934.

Terms Private Capital Key to U. S. Recovery

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States said tonight it would attack the problem of business recovery at its annual meeting here this week by emphasizing methods of stimulating private investment.

In that connection the chamber will direct its attention at the four day meeting to such subjects as national income, jobs, taxes, profits, and legislation affecting business. The meeting will open tomorrow.

In a statement tonight the chamber said the greatest need was for a shift from government spending to large scale private investment.

"The greatest single force which pulled this country out of past depressions," the statement said, "was the flow of capital into new enterprises. In this depression that great instrument of improvement has been missing."

Set Need at 40 to 80 Billions.

Estimates of capital needs, the chamber said, range from forty billion dollars to more than twice that sum. It added that if twenty-five billions were supplied an estimated 3,000,000 men would be given jobs in operating plants and equipment, and an additional two to two and one-half times that number would be employed in service industries.

Tomorrow's meeting will be given over to nominations and balloting for directors and a report on business conditions in major geographical regions.

Secretary of Commerce Hopkins, who was to have headed the list of speakers, announced he would be unable to keep his engagement Tuesday because of poor health.

ILLINOIS GROUP DEPARTS.

A group of Illinois business leaders left yesterday for Washington to attend the annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

They will offer a program for aiding business recovery, including suggestions that the federal government assure business of an impartial attitude in problems concerning employment relations and that tax burdens on business be reduced.

The Illinois group was headed by B. C. Heacock, chairman of the board, and W. Homer Hartz, president of the Illinois Manufacturers association.

Investors' Guide

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MOVIE MAKERS.

Investors' Guide: Please give me a few facts about the motion picture industry. Although I see a movie on the average of once a week, I have little idea of which producer is the largest, or how profitable the movies are for investors. I noticed the other day that the Hollywood companies pay bigger salaries than any other businesses. Could you give me a tabulation of the operations of the leading picture producers for last year? Also, how many people are moviegoers, and how much money is invested in the industry altogether?—N. T.

Answer: More than 80,000,000 movie admissions are sold every week in the United States. These admissions pay the way of one of the nation's biggest "luxury" industries. Capital invested in the movies, all the way from Hollywood studios to neighborhood theaters, adds up to more than 2 billion dollars. The gross receipts of the industry in a year amount to about a billion dollars.

The leading film producers receive most of their revenues from film rentals, but they also control some motion picture houses of their own. Operations of the four largest movie makers for the latest fiscal year reported were as follows:

Latest Fiscal Year. [In thousands.]

	Revenues.	Net inc.	Net inc. com. shr.
Loews, Inc.	$132,737	$9,025	$5.63
Paramount Picts.	*	4,096	1.18
Warner Bros.	162,806	1,929	.41
20th Cent.-Fox	60,401	7,252	3.35

The figures are for the calendar year 1938 for Twentieth-Century Fox and for Paramount earnings. Loew's operations cover the year ended Aug. 31, 1938, and Warner Bros., the year to Aug. 27, 1938.

Hollywood's annual pay roll runs about $90,000,000 a year for the 28,000 people who take part in production.

MARKETING ONLY.

Investors' Guide: Last fall I bought 50 shares of the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska in the hope that this company would strike some big paying oil wells. I now understand from a filling station operator, however, that the company does not own any oil properties. Is this true?—T. D.

Answer: Standard Oil of Nebraska is exclusively a marketing concern and owns no oil producing properties. It operates 200 service stations, 173 of them by lease. Products handled are those of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

PROFITS, SALES OF PEOPLES GAS RISE THIS YEAR

Earnings for First Quarter Reported.

Larger earnings and sales in the first 1939 quarter than in the corresponding 1938 period were reported yesterday by the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, Chicago.

George A. Ranney.

Net income for the three months ended March 31 was $1,005,447, equal to $1.53 a share, compared with $699,790, or $1.05 a share, in the 1938 quarter, George A. Ranney, chairman, announced.

The earnings figures do not include funds set aside in a special reserve pending final disposal of litigation over a rate increase put into effect in 1938. The Illinois commerce commission is contesting the increase.

Reserves for Rate Cut.

The amount placed in reserve for the first 1939 quarter was $630,976, and net income before this deduction was $1,636,422. In the first three months of 1938 the amount reserved was $260,544, and profit before the deduction was $960,334.

Consolidated profit for the twelve months ended March 31, after deductions involving the rate case, was $1,932,979, compared with $1,984,221 in the preceding twelve months. The amount of net income placed in reserve in the respective periods was $2,510,733 and $260,544, and profit before the deductions was $4,443,712 and $2,244,765.

Total gas sales in therms in the first 1939 quarter were 9.52 per cent larger than in the first 1938 quarter, Ranney said. Revenues from gas sales totaled $11,336,706 in the first three months of 1939, compared with $10,412,310 in the first 1938 quarter.

Plane Maker Earns More.

Other companies reporting yesterday on earnings included North American Aviation, Inc., large manufacturer of military and commercial aircraft. Its profit for the first 1939 quarter rose sharply to $1,355,952 from $212,085 in the corresponding 1938 period.

Sales in the respective quarters were $6,078,694 and $973,441, J. H. Kindelberger, president of the company, announced. He said unfilled orders on March 31 totaled $20,645,740, compared with $10,296,364 a year earlier.

Markets on Daylight Saving Time

The principal exchanges and markets in sixteen states, including those in Chicago and New York City, will open today under daylight saving time. The Chicago Board of Trade, the Chicago Stock exchange, the Chicago Mercantile exchange, the New York Stock and Curb exchanges, and other markets will turn their clocks ahead one hour, but otherwise no changes will be made in trading schedules. Grain markets in Minneapolis, Duluth, Kansas City, Winnipeg, Man., and other cities not adopting daylight time will open and close one hour earlier until the return of standard time next September.

Wholesale Trade Volume Up $200,000,000 This Year

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—The commerce department today estimated the dollar volume of wholesale trade in the first quarter of this year at $4,600,000,000, an increase of $200,000,000 over the corresponding 1938 period. March sales, the department said, were 4.8 per cent above those in the preceding March.

HELP WANTED—MEN.

Salesmen.

An Investigation

OF A SOUND SOLID BUSINESS OF YOUR OWN WILL BE OPEN TO A FEW MEN FOR CHICAGO AND SURROUNDING TERRITORY.

Men who are without jobs and men who are unprofitably employed should immediately interview the writer of this ad and hear the amazing story of a new invention that is going over big and making men from $40 to as high as $80 commission a week.

Sales ability is not essential; we will discount sales experience in favor of a genuine desire to work hard and learn.

WE FINANCE YOU for your own business and pay you weekly. No investment. Electrical unit.

We will grant you a personal interview and you will be amazed at the money-making possibilities this business holds for you—if you qualify. See factory representative.

SEE MR. BUCKLEY.
Monday, 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

MAJESTIC HOTEL
29 W. QUINCY. NEAR STATE-ST.

IS IT YOU?

Somewhere on the N. W. or South Side is a man who will meet our requirements. He must be on the road up, either married or aiming to make that step as soon as possible. This is a new business to most men—therefore the only requirement is a good education, age 21-45, with a strong and definite determination to make good; some selling experience will be asset, but is not essential. We will train you in our progressive educational enterprise by showing you actual results in the field. WE WORK ON DIRECT LEADS. No canvassing. Earnings on substantial percentage basis. First week this man will earn $36 to $70 per week average from beginning. Call in person Monday. Local Executive Office, 205 N. Wabash, Suite 818. Ask for Personnel Director, 11 a. m. and 2 p. m.

FROM 9 A. M. TO 3 P. M.

Our Personnel Mgr will interview applicants to fill several openings created by seasonal increase, local dept. operated under our supervision by leading Chicago Furniture Co. This work does not involve the selling of any commodity, but some experience in contacting consumer buyers is helpful. Permanent positions with a future, as big as your ability. Our salary, commission and bonus plan assures reasonable earnings to start and provides for rapid increases as you learn our business. Apply to Personnel Manager.
